A $3 Million Campaign if He Gets the Nod

JOSEPH Y. RESNICK

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick said that he will spend as much as $3 million to be elected to the Senate if he wins the New York State Democratic senatorial nomination.

The Congressman also entered a 12 page letter into the Congressional Record criticizing the Wall Street Journal for a story on his recent visit to South Vietnam.

"The story was an outright attempt at character assassination," Resnick claimed, adding, "It was false, malicious, and biased."

A spokesman for the Congressman said that a letter had been sent to the Journal by the Congressman which the spokesman claimed "was source material" to justify another, and different, article on the Resnick trip.

Attempted to Buy Ad

When the Journal refused to print another story on the trip, or publish a letter to the editor of the paper, the spokesman said that Resnick attempted to buy a full page ad in the Wall Street paper.

Again, according to the source, he was turned down.

The multimillionaire Congressman from Ellenville told reporters attending the opening of his Washington senatorial bid headquarters on Tuesday, that he had complete confidence he would win that nomination.

Resnick is one of two announced Democratic candidates for the seat now held by Republican Senator Jacob K. Javits. The other is Representative Otis Pike of Riverhead, L. I.

A third possibility is New York City attorney Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee.

Abram, however, may end speculation concerning his candidacy by accepting the presidency of Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., sources said Tuesday.

Resnick said that he does not consider Pike to be a serious candidate and predicted that Pike would withdraw well in advance of the primary in June.

Pike, however, has said he is in the race for keeps.

'RFK Losing Stature'

Resnick also asserted that fellow New York Democrat Robert F. Kennedy is losing his stature in New York State.

Reportedly, Resnick claimed that Kennedy not only would not help him win the nomination but would be equally negative in the general election campaign.

Kennedy has said that he will not endorse or otherwise support any candidate for the party's senatorial nomination.

The Washington campaign headquarters is Resnick's third. Several weeks ago, he opened a temporary office in New York City's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. He plans to have a permanent office soon in the city's Biltmore Hotel, an aide said.

The congressman also has a campaign headquarters office in Utica.

It has also been learned that the second-term congressman will be opening a senatorial campaign headquarters soon in either Poughkeepsie or Kingston.

If Abram, lawyer in the same firm with former President John F. Kennedy aide Theodore Sorenson, and reportedly close to Robert Kennedy, leaves the senate race, informed sources feel this would pave the way for Resnick's eventual nomination.

Abram was considered to be the most serious threat to a Resnick candidacy because of his ties with Kennedy.

Jets Return to Hue Battle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine jets returned to the battle for Hue today for the first time in five days as one of the Vietnam war's most savage and sustained campaigns went into its fourth week.

The Marine pilots sent bombs, rockets and napalm into Communist troops dug in among a row of shanties just outside the south wall of the Hue Citadel.

AP Correspondent George McArthur reported that the bombs scored a direct hit on a Communist ammunition dump touching off a spectacular flash and a fire that cast a pall of black smoke over the city.

Marines on the south bank of the Perfume River, across from the 15-yard strip bombed by the jets, could see figures running from the area and opened fire with their machine guns. They cut down a dozen small groups.

Earlier the Marines on the south side of the river broadcast warnings across telling all civilians to leave the area and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong holding out in the former Imperial Palace to surrender or die.

When no white flag went up, the Marines sent artillery barrages slamming into the Communist strongpoints and sprayed them with tear gas. This touched off a heavy firefight that echoed all over the coastal city 400 miles northeast of Saigon.

Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman Jr., commander of the U.S. Marines in Vietnam, said the battle in Hue could go on for several more weeks because the enemy still was able to send in fresh supplies and troops.

Cushman told newsmen in Da Nang one Marine battalion had suffered serious casualties in the fighting and would be replaced.

He estimated that the Communists had put an entire division into the Hue battle and said they are committed to fight to the last man. The enemy is believed to be moving in fresh men and supplies through gates they control in the northwest and southwest corners of the Citadel and through tunnels and sewers beneath the east wall.

Cushman said soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were attacking a fortified village on the ourskirts of Hue

City Plaza, Caldor Additions Revealed

By WALTER S. CLARK JR.

Ground-breaking for two major commercial building projects, which will include 17 stores in local shopping centers, will take place this Spring, it was learned today by the Kingston Freeman.

Ceremonies are scheduled early in March for the groundbreaking at the Kingston Shopping Plaza for seven new business establishments, according to Scott Alexander.

Walter Rubin, a representative for the Empire State Construction Company of White Plains, said today that ground will be broken soon for a horseshoe-shaped building complex adjacent to Caldor's automotive store off Route 9W, where 10 stores will be built by that Westchester County firm.

Alexander said the structure to be built between Sears Roebuck and Grand Union stores in the Kingston Shopping Plaza will provide 26,000 additional square feet of store space. The new stores will increase the number of business places in the uptown Kingston shopping plaza to 26.

Flah's is one of the new stores, and Alexander said that establishment is expected to be open in August, according to present plans. The other stores, he said, will be a restaurant, Spiesman's Specialty Bakeries, Card 'n Party, a ladies dress shop to be operated by a Poughkeepsie store, a beauty parlor and a jewelry store.

Alexander said he had not heard reports that a widely known stock brokerage firm of New York City and New Jersey was considering a location at the Kingston Plaza.

The White Plains firm spokesman noted that the 10-store building at the Caldor-Waldbaum shopping area, will be of matching construction with the attractiveness of the two large stores now operating in the center.

Rubin said the new building complex will contain more than 25,000 square feet of floor space and will be a one-story structure, equipped with all modern facilities including air conditioning, carpeting, the latest type of lighting. The building will be shaped as horseshoe.

According to Rubin, demands have been frequently made for the new building complex, which is expected to be ready for occupancy next Fall. He pointed out that one store has been leased to a liquor store operator, and other establishments will include a gift shop, beauty salon, cleaning establishment, jewelry store, a shoe store and stores for men's, women's and children's wearing apparel. Rubin also said a hobby shop will be included.

The location for the 10-store complex, which will be expanded with other stores later, according to Rubin, was selected after a thorough survey of business and the locality in the Caldor shopping area.

The Empire State Construction company were builders of the stores now occupied by Caldor and Waldbaum. The company's main office is at 77 Tarrytown Road, White Plains.

Viet Color Map Friday

A spectacular, colorful and significant newspaper display will be offered by The Kingston Daily Freeman to its readers in Thursday's edition.

A full-page, full color presentation has been scheduled for tomorrow which will be of invaluable aid to all students throughout the area—from elementary grades through college, to residents interested in keeping abreast of world news and following the course of history.

Four vibrant, brilliant colors have gone into making up the color map of Vietnam which will be featured as a full-page spread by The Freeman tomorrow. It is a bold rendition of South Vietnam, including the adjoining countries of Cambodia and Laos, outlined by the painted waters of the South China Sea, Cam Ranh Bay and the Gulf of Siam. A large inset, almost one-fourth page in size, contains another color map of North Vietnam with portions of Thailand and China visible.

$ Million Project for City

By JEAN F. DOLAN

A million-dollar, 80-bed modern nursing home facility for Kingston has been granted state approval.

The construction project to be started this spring will be on the site of the present Hutton Nursing Home, 172 Pearl Street and will replace the existing 38-bed, non-fireresistive structure.

James Scuderi, assistant administrator at the nursing home said today the new structure will incorporate all modern facilities. The two-story cement building will be completely fire proof and will feature a sprinkler system. Patients will be accommodated in 56 single rooms and 12 semi-private rooms.

The new building will be constructed at the rear and side of the present structure which will remain in operation during the building program.

More details of the project will be announced when financing is completed later this month.

Mrs. Alice Hutton is proprietor of the nursing home which has been under the present management for 18 years. The old estate has a long history as a nursing home facility.

The present staff of 30 will be greatly increased to serve the expanded nursing home operation when construction is completed.

State approval of the plan came from Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, state health commissioner, who noted the project had received favorable recommendations from the State Hospital Review and Planning Council. Approval of the State Board of Social Welfare also is required.

Under public health law, the commissioner is responsible for review of proposed health facility projects to determine compliance with construction, equipment and operation standards.

Tonkin: Disagreement Still Rages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Weary adversaries after a 7½-hour confrontation, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Sen. J. W. Fulbright still disagreed on the real story of the naval engagement which prompted the first U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

McNamara issued a 21-page account of the affair, over Fulbright's objection, contending the administration proved conclusively that the U.S. destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy were attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in international waters on Aug. 4, 1964.

He termed "monstrous" an suggestion the United States induced the attack, seeking an excuse for its subsequnt retaliation.

Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the public statement McNamara issued "does not tell the whole story by any means."

Fulbright did not relate his version. "I'm too worn out to attempt any kind of discussion," he said after McNamara's marathon appearance before the committee.

And so the session which ran into Tuesday night produced only fresh controversy over the engagement in the Gulf of Tonkin.

McNamara's session with the committee clearly was a sometimes angry affair. Fulbright said he had urged McNamara not to release his statement, but the secretary had it distributed at the Pentagon.

In it, McNamara said the U.S. destroyers had in no way provoked attacks by the North Vietnamese, and had not participated in South Vietnam's bombardment of Communist islands in the gulf, assaults which occurred at about the same time.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said the South Vietnamese used boats supplied by the United States, and contended "North Vietnam had every reason to fear" the U.S. destroyers.

Morse was one of only two senators who voted against the so-called Tonkin Gulf resolution, passed six days after the reported attacks, authorizing President Johnson to take all measures necessary to "prevent further aggression" in the area. Fulbright was floor manager for the resolution.

Proposed Rosendale School: Taxpayers Seek the Answers

By LYNN MULVANEY

More than 50 Marbletown Taxpayer Association members asked the Rondout School Board last night to schedule a joint meeting at which the architect for the proposed Rosendale School, the school attorney, the board and they might discuss proposed changes for the new elementary school.

Bids for the school's construction came in about $200,000 higher than expected and not allowable within the confines of the approved $800,000 bond issue.

Suggested Changes

Consequently the architect, Albert Arnold of Syracuse, has gone back to the drawing board armed with a list of suggested changes which hopefully will reduce the cost.

Meanwhile the taxpayers, challenged the architect's using too low an estimated cost, and his employment of design construction and materials which they claim are expensive. The group specifically objected to the proposed deletion of five classrooms from the plans.

"If these rooms are not needed now, why were they put in the plans?" Orvil Norman, spokesman, asked.

Reviewing the bond issue, the plans and the bidding, Dr. Ted T. Grenda, superintendent of schools, explained that the board and a citizens' building committee comprised of 40 persons from four major areas of the community in 1966 projected the needs of the school system over the next 10 years.

He said that originally a 300-pupil school was recommended but that the state later said it would financially support the building of a 400-pupil, one-story school and the idea was acceptable to all.

The community was then presented a bond issue of $800,000 including furnishings which it approved and bids were received.

The bids came in at $800,000 sans furnishings, meaning they were $200,000 above the estimated $600,000 construction cost.

Agree to the 300

The board then reviewed the question and agreed to return to the 300-pupil concept in order to reduce costs. It has also compiled a list of proposed changes and deletions with which the architect is working.

Some of the 26 suggestions include eliminating all corridor plaster and tile, all plaster in classrooms and terrazzo floor finish in corridors. They also include elimination of such things as carpeting in the library, double walls at expansion joints and terrazzo stairs. Common brick is specified as are lower cost windows and it is suggested that the present proposed keyed foundation be changed to pinned foundation.

Board members and citizens exchanged views on such things as the cost of one-story buildings opposed to two-story and the taxpayers said they felt deep concern for increased school tax and the fact that building costs have in the past exceeded money appropriated.

Dr. Grenda explaining the reason for the last bid being so much higher than estimated cited the fact that building costs on a per pupil basis in New York State have risen from $1,800 to $2,000 since last March.

He and J. Richard Sheil, board president, said that should additional pupil space be needed in the future, the proposed plans would accommodate an addition. Heating and utility facilities are planned so that they would easily and economically feed into the addition.

After Talks

Little Hope for U.S. Peace Move

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources express little optimism that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's talks with President Johnson on Vietnam will produce any new U.S. peace move.

As Thant and Johnson prepared to talk, several Senate critics of U.S. war policy expressed doubts about the South Vietnamese government's stability following a new rupture in its program to rebuild cities shattered in repulsing Viet Cong attacks.

Thant's visit to the White House today is considered, sources said, simply an extension of his recent trips to Europe and Asia in which he sounded out North Vietnamese officials about peace talks.

Diplomatic sources at the United Nations said Tuesday Thant would tell the President that the North Vietnamese will discuss anything the Americans want if U.S. bombing of the North is halted.

Too Far Apart

But observers here noted Thant was represented, following his recent meeting in Paris with a North Vietnamese spokesman, as saying the United States and North Vietnam remain too far apart on peace talk terms to hold out hope for negotiations in the near future.

The U.N. sources said North Vietnam still is insisting on an unconditional halt to U.S. bombing of the North. Johnson has made clear he'll order a bombing halt only if North Vietnam agrees not to take military advantage of such a pause.

The view that Thant's visit would do little if anything to spur peace talks appeared fortified when U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche told a group in Los Angeles that the United Nations "has not been able to break through in any respect" to end the fighting.

The resignations of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang from the National Recovery Committee—administering the South Vietnamese rebuilding program—generated expressions of foreboding on Capitol Hill.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the resignations have left him with little hope for success of a program he feels essential.

"It is the only tangible way the minds and the aspirations of the South Vietnam people can be reached," he said. "We must make every effort to see that this program is continued, if it is possible."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., like Mansfield a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview the resignations of Ky and Thang from the group "point to the internal crumbling of the (Saigon) government."

Situation Getting Worse

"How administration spokesmen can say that things are improving, that the government has been strengthened, is beyond me," Aiken said. "A bad situation is getting worse."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho told the Senate the presence of a huge American expeditionary force in Vietnam had "reduced to puppetry, in the eyes of its own people, the very government we sought to bolster."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who generally has supported Johnson's war policies, told newsmen Tuesday that during a recent tour of Illinois he found many people complaining the United States wasn't doing enough militarily to end the war.

"They are damned uneasy about Vietnam," he said. "They think we are sitting like a frog on a log and not doing enough. The prevailing sentiment is for escalation of the war to get it over with."

Goddard to Testify On LSD Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials, saying they weren't attempting to silence Dr. James L. Goddard's opposition to President Johnsons's LSD-control proposal, announced the nation's top drug official has been given a go-ahead to testify on Capitol Hill.

Goddard's availability to appear before a Senate panel looking into the LSD proposal was made known Tuesday, one day after it was learned he was kept from testifying at a scheduled Monday hearing.

Goddard, food and drug commissioner, has declined to discuss the issue with newsmen. But he previously told Congress he doesn't believe in making possession of LSD a federal crime.

Johnson has asked Congress to make possession of the powerful hallucinogen a misdemeanor, punishable by up to a year in jail.

Theodore O. Cron, assistant food and drug commissioner, said when and if Goddard testifies he'll again express opposition to penalties for possession of LSD if asked for his personal opinion.

But Cron said Goddard will support administration proposals for stiffer penalties for sale of LSD and other drugs.

When Goddard was scratched from appearing at the opening of the Senate panel's hearing, Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., postponed the hearing indefinitely. He reportedly told the administration if Goddard couldn't appear, he didn't want anyone else.

Officials said there had been no intention to silence Goddard. They said the reason he couldn't testify Monday was that he had to be available to help with briefings for reporters at the White House if the President's health message to Congress were issued that day. It wasn't.

Many Offices To Celebrate George's Day

In observance of the Washington's Birthday legal holiday a number of public offices will be closed Thursday.

All Kingston city offices will be closed with the exception of the fire and police departments and Kingston City Laboratory. All offices will be open Friday.

The routine chest X-ray clinic scheduled at the Ulster County Chest Clinic, Golden Hill, will not be held today nor Thursday due to the holiday. The next regular clinic will be Friday 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

All county and town offices will be closed with the exception of the police agencies.

All state offices including state employment and motor vehicles departments will be closed as well as all courts.

The Kingston Post Office will be closed Thursday and there will be no city or rural service. For the convenience of box holders Main Post Office will be open 6 a. m. to 2 p. m.; uptown station 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and Rondout station 9 to 10 a.m.

All banks will be closed for the day.

Schools will observe a long holiday weekend with no classes Thursday or Friday.

Other offices which will be closed for the one-day observance are Kingson Social Security Office and all Internal Revnue Service offices.

Dog Fanciers

The Hudson Valley German Shepherd Dog Club will hold an open meeting at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Newburgh branch of the First National Bank of Highland. The program will consist of a film entitled The Marie Leary Standard Film, a pictorial description of the German Shepherd Dog standard. Area residents interested in the breeding or showing of German Shpherds may attend.

NARCOTICS CONVICTION — Danny Escobedo, 30, who was freed from a murder conviction in a landmark Supreme Court decision, was sentenced Tuesday to 22 years in prison on a narcotics charge. U. S. District Court Judge Alexander Napoli imposed sentences of 15 and 7 years to be served consecutively. Escobedo was freed after serving 4½ years of a 20-year term in 1964 when the court found police had refused him legal counsel before he confessed to the slaying of his brother-in-law. After Talks

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources express little optimism that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's talks with President Johnson on Vietnam will produce any new U.S. peace move.

As Thant and Johnson prepared to talk, several Senate critics of U.S. war policy expressed doubts about the South Vietnamese government's stability following a new rupture in its program to rebuild cities shattered in repulsing Viet Cong attacks.

Thant's visit to the White House today is considered, sources said, simply an extension of his recent trips to Europe and Asia in which he sounded out North Vietnamese officials about peace talks.

Diplomatic sources at the United Nations said Tuesday Thant would tell the President that the North Vietnamese will discuss anything the Americans want if U.S. bombing of the North is halted.

Too Far Apart

But observers here noted Thant was represented, following his recent meeting in Paris with a North Vietnamese spokesman, as saying the United States and North Vietnam remain too far apart on peace talk terms to hold out hope for negotiations in the near future.

The U.N. sources said North Vietnam still is insisting on an unconditional halt to U.S. bombing of the North. Johnson has made clear he'll order a bombing halt only if North Vietnam agrees not to take military advantage of such a pause.

The view that Thant's visit would do little if anything to spur peace talks appeared fortified when U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche told a group in Los Angeles that the United Nations "has not been able to break through in any respect" to end the fighting.

The resignations of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang from the National Recovery Committee—administering the South Vietnamese rebuilding program—generated expressions of foreboding on Capitol Hill.

Cablevision Cites Effort For Improvement

Kingston Cablevision in a letter to the Common Council, has assured Finance Ways and Means Committee Chairman Peter C. Mancuso that it is making every effort to remove the cause of faulty pictures and erratic sound through the installation of new cable and the hiring of additional personnel to supervise the system.

Mancuso, an Eighth Ward Democrat, wrote the company in behalf of the Common Council, many members of which had received complaints on the service from their constituents.

The company says that variation of signal is due primarily to existing amplifiers reacting to temperature changes. The company also notes that much of the current cable is of poor quality and has been discontinued by most cable manufacturers. New cable will be composed of the highest grade copper inner conductor with a complete seamless aluminum outer jacket.

The company states that one of its biggest reasons for varying signals is the removal of cable from the urban renewal area (Broadway East). This creates level changes with the variation of load on the system.

Variation can also be caused, according to the company, by illegal hookups to the cable which are being tracked down.

The company says that the owners may also be partially responsible for poor pictures or signals stating, "not all television sets are maintained properly and are in great need of repair, and in other cases repairs are not conclusive enough."

In conclusion the company states, "The situation has indicated the old system must be removed. Before we can install a new one the old system must be moved so as to make room for the new strand and cable. At the same time the old system must be kept activated and in operation."

The company also notes that "all these plans call for additional personnel and we are in the process of increasing our technical staff with local residents."

Mancuso will read the report, copies of which have gone to Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan and Clerk Thomas R. Lyle, at the Common Council's regular meeting, March 5.

Will Alert Public

Form Clean Air Group

The Ulster County Action for Clean Air Committee was organized last night as a long-range and broad educational and informational program to work toward alerting the public to a whole range of air pollution clean air concerns.

John M. Robbins, chairman of the new organization presented a panel on which the following participated: Harry H. Hovey Jr., associate director, Division of Air Resources, New York State Department of Health who spoke on state and local action for clean air and Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chest physician and past president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. He spoke concerning air pollution and resperatory diseases.

Also Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., chest physician and president emeritus, Ulster County TB and Health Association; Dr. Vernon B. Link, Ulster County Health Commissioner, who spoke on air pollution in Ulster County and Dr. John B. Plass, Plass, who represents the Medical Society and director of the Ulster County Chest Clinic.

The Clean Air Committee will be composed of representatives of local government, voluntary health agencies, health department, industry, medical society, technical associations, civic groups and educators, and will cooperate with other organizations and not duplicate functions remembering always that the conservation of clean air is sometimes more important than air control, according to Robbins.

"The committee will work to create a public awareness and concern about air pollution as concerns the individual and the community and we will most definitely call upon business and industry for this necessary involvement and help," he said.

The prime objective of the action for clean air program is in the wide scope of education and information related also to that of the New York State Action for Clean Air Committee.

Initially organized by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, the new committee has the endorsement and sponsorship of the Ulster County Health Department, Medical Society of the County of Ulster, and the Ulster County Planning Board.

Mrs. Marion Ostrander, RN, chairman of the organization committee, reported the affiliation of the local group with the New York State Action for Clean Air Committee under the state chairmanship of Alexander Rihm Jr., also assistant commissioner of the Division of Air Resources. Mrs. Ostrander announced appointments as follows: chairman, John M. Robbins; executive planning committee, Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, Dr. Vernon B. Link, Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., Dr. John B. Plass and Harry F. Edinger to be enlarged from specific areas as program develops.

Lund Gets Appointment From Woodstock Board

The Woodstock town board met last night in a gathering that was attended by some 25 residents of the town, an unusually high number.

Supervisor Milton Houst announced the appointment of Lloyd Lund for a five year term on the zoning board of appeals.

Award Contract

The Allen Electric Company of Woodstock was the successful bidder among four and was awarded the contract to heat the town garage.

The lowest responsible bid, submitted by the company, was $2,250.

Among the bills payed by the town was $2,350.87 for highway stone dust, and $422.71 for highway salt.

Town Historian Edgar Leaycraft submitted his report on the Association of Towns meeting in the Hotel Commodore in New York City on Feb. 5-7.

Leaycraft also filed that annual report for the town in the year 1967.

The report is open for public inspection at the town hall.

An agreement was entered into by Woodstock Road Superintendent William Klementis and the town and county.

Details Expenditures

An application for a renewal of a trailer permit was granted to Norma Cervantes.

Joe Disclaims All Interest In Airport

The Freeman has learned that Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick no longer has a financial interest in the Ellenville airport his brothers, Harry and Louis Resnick, are developing.

The Congressman reportedly turned over its interest in the airport to his attorneys who will dispose of it as they see fit.

It was also learned that the airfield is not being built for Channel Master, the electronics firm created by the Resnicks, but for the personal use of Harry and Louis Resnick.

The lowest responsible bid, submitted by the company, was $2,250.

Among the bills payed by the town was $2,350.87 for highway stone dust, and $422.71 for highway salt.

Town Historian Edgar Leaycraft submitted his report on the Association of Towns meeting in the Hotel Commodore in New York City on Feb. 5-7.

Leaycraft also filed that annual report for the town in the year 1967.

The report is open for public inspection at the town hall.

An agreement was entered into by Woodstock Road Superintendent William Klementis and the town and county.

Details Expenditures

An application for a renewal of a trailer permit was granted to Norma Cervantes.

Will Alert Public

Form Clean Air Group

The Ulster County Action for Clean Air Committee was organized last night as a long-range and broad educational and informational program to work toward alerting the public to a whole range of air pollution clean air concerns.

John M. Robbins, chairman of the new organization presented a panel on which the following participated: Harry H. Hovey Jr., associate director, Division of Air Resources, New York State Department of Health who spoke on state and local action for clean air and Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chest physician and past president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. He spoke concerning air pollution and resperatory diseases.

Also Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., chest physician and president emeritus, Ulster County TB and Health Association; Dr. Vernon B. Link, Ulster County Health Commissioner, who spoke on air pollution in Ulster County and Dr. John B. Plass. Plass, who represents the Medical Society and director of the Ulster County Chest Clinic.

The Clean Air Committee will be composed of representatives of local government, voluntary health agencies, health department, industry, medical society, technical associations, civic groups and educators, and will cooperate with other organizations and not duplicate functions remembering always that the conservation of clean air is sometimes more important than air control, according to Robbins.

"The committee will work to create a public awareness and concern about air pollution as concerns the individual and the community and we will most definitely call upon business and industry for this necessary involvement and help," he said.

The prime objective of the action for clean air program is in the wide scope of education and information related also to that of the New York State Action for Clean Air Committee.

Initially organized by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, the new committee has the endorsement and sponsorship of the Ulster County Health Department, Medical Society of the County of Ulster, and the Ulster County Planning Board.

Mrs. Marion Ostrander, RN, chairman of the organization committee, reported the affiliation of the local group with the New York State Action for Clean Air Committee under the state chairmanship of Alexander Rihm Jr., also assistant commissioner of the Division of Air Resources. Mrs. Ostrander announced appointments as follows: chairman, John M. Robbins; executive planning committee, Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, Dr. Vernon B. Link, Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., Dr. John B. Plass and Harry F. Edinger to be enlarged from specific areas as program develops.

Joe Disclaims All Interest In Airport

The Freeman has learned that Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick no longer has a financial interest in the Ellenville airport his brothers, Harry and Louis Resnick, are developing.

The Congressman reportedly turned over its interest in the airport to his attorneys who will dispose of it as they see fit.

It was also learned that the airfield is not being built for Channel Master, the electronics firm created by the Resnicks, but for the personal use of Harry and Louis Resnick.

Anti-Riot Sheriff Force

The call for a volunteer anti-riot force by the sheriff of Cook County, Illinois, which includes Chicago, produced so many volunteers that the original plan to deputize 1,000 may have to be expanded. This despite the fact that the men will serve without pay, will have to furnish their own khaki uniform, helmet and gun and provide $20,000 of liability insurance.

The response indicates that Sheriff Joseph I. Woods may have discovered a means of polarizing the tremendous feelings aroused by the riots last summer into a force that is ready and anxious to prevent them at little or no cost to the country. Offers even came from many willing to finance volunteers unable to buy their own equipment.

Woods hopes to enlist a force that is half white and half black, recognizing the fact that there are as many black neighborhoods, as in the white, who resent and oppose the rioters. He is giving both races a place to express their determination to maintain the peace the coming summer.

The fact that Woods is a Republican and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, a Democrat, produced a partisan dispute. Daley said there would be no need for such a volunteer force in the city, that he expects no disturbances next August when the Democratic National Convention is held there, that his police and fire departments are capable of handling any emergencies and, if necessary, the National Guard could be mobilized.

Woods normally confines his police work to suburban Cook County. The volunteers will supplement his regular 250-man riot squad. He has no plans to move his volunteers into Chicago except in cooperation with the city's police. But, he adds, "I am the chief law enforcement officer of the county, and I would not stand by and see homes and businesses burned." No city can have too much protection if riots break out.

John Kennedy Legend

It has been four years and nearly three months since John F. Kennedy, the 35th President was shot and fatally wounded November 22, 1963, as he rode in a motorcade in Dallas. The legend surrounding him has grown so great, that the New York State Assembly voted 3 to 1 to require public schools in the state to hold memorial services each year on his birthday, May 29.

Outnumbered Republicans offered two amendments that were beaten down. One would have added the birthdays of three other Presidents who were assassinated—William McKinley, James A. Garfield and Abraham Lincoln. The other would have honored the birthdays of Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The bill faces an uncertain fate in the Republican controlled Senate and, if it should get that far, at the desk of Governor Rockefeller. The debate was partisan, no doubt about that. But that the Democratic-controlled Assembly would vote such an honor to Kennedy, before honoring the New York native and only four-term President Franklin D. Roosevelt could be a tribute to the luminosity of the young man from Massachusetts, or it could be a studied means of garnering more votes for a Kennedy succession year after year.

Cuban Boycott Riddled

America's boycott of trade with Cuba because the Castro regime foments revolution in Latin America is being riddled not only by the Communist bloc, but also by a half dozen allies of the United States.

Arrival of a party of British engineers in Havana to start construction of a $100 million fertilizer plant essential for Cuba's ambitious agricultural development plans is the latest in a number of incidents that have frustrated Washington. London disregarded Washington's protest of an export credit of $45 million worth of British equipment for the plant last year, and the coming of the engineers will complete the transaction.

Beside Britain which sells Cuba motors and pumps for sugar mills, France sells trucks and bulldozers, Japan sells port equipment and bag manufacturing plants, and Canada breeding cattle. France, Italy and Spain also are in this traffic banned by the United States to its own nationals. Belgium protested a ban on the sale of farm equipment by a mill 65 per cent of which is owned by American interests.

These countries say they have no quarrel with Cuba. However, American investments in their countries give their nationals many times the work they get from Cuban trade. They show that trade does not know friendship as they break American boycotts to share in Cuba's annual $150 million in hard currency available for foreign trade.

Nation Heads Toward Wage, Price Controls

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Slowly but surely the nation is heading toward wage and price controls. This has been customary heretofore in wartime but, because of political expediency nowadays, the Administration has refrained from asking Congress for such legislation. The Vietnam war is rapidly approaching the dimensions of a major conflict so far as its effect on the national economy is concerned, and inflation is already sweeping across the country to an almost unprecedented degree.

A most significant forecast of the probable course of events was made in the current issue of the weekly newspaper published by the International Association of Machinists, which predicted that early in 1969 legislation on wage and prices will be enacted. The prophecy was based on a statement by the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, who told a Congressional committee recently that our "wartime economy" may soon require action to restrain wages and prices even if the proposed income tax increase becomes effective.

The question now is whether the Administration can wait until after the elections for wage and price controls to be imposed. A few days ago the U.S. Department of Labor reported that inflation had wiped out the wage gains of the nation's production workers during the last two years. The blame was in part placed on the workers, whose unions secured wage rates far beyond the rise in national productivity. The rate of productivity had increased by only 1.7 per cent in the last quarter of 1967, while at the same time the average pay per man-hour rose by 5.4 percent. This resulted in a substantial upward movement in what is known as the "unit labor cost.'

"Guidelines" were established six years ago to keep wage increases in line with productivity gains, but these yardsticks have since been disregarded as wage increases have risen far beyond the productivity gains which were anticipated by those who favored the "guidelines" system.

Changes in productivity are the result of several factors, such as an actual increase in the total output of the national economy as well as improved skills on the part of the workers. Economic history shows that a sustained rise in costs of labor per unit produced can only result in increased prices unless there is some offsetting advantage as, for instance, an actual decrease in other costs of producing the units of goods.

The difficulty with the wage problem is that uniformity can hardly be applied. Conditions vary from industry to industry. In one category, the labor unions may be successful in forcing up the wage rates, whereupon unions in other lines endeavor to get the same wage rate irrespective of whether productivity has been or will be increased. The impact of wage scales in one industry upon another is paralleled also by the read-judgments that are forced within a given business when wages are raised for certain types of workers above others.

When the government imposes wage and price controls, an attempt is made to stabilize wages for a given period of time -- at least until the war is over. Even during wartime there are inequities that need correction. There are long delays involved, however, in getting the facts before government agencies so that the necessary changes and adjustments can be made.

The labor unions are intenseiy opposed to wage and price controls, and so are most business managements. But the government has no way out if it is to restrain the rise of the inflation which is not only cutting down the purchasing power of the dollar but is adversely affecting the standard of living, particularly among millions of persons who are dependent upon fixed incomes — including retirement pay.

Control of wages and prices during World War I, World War II and the Korean War did not leave any feeling of satisfaction on the part of the government or labor or industry, but was regarded then—as it probably will be again—as a wartime necessity.

Drew Pearson Says

Nation's Highway Program Faces Crucial Crossroads

WASHINGTON — Military problems in the Far East have obcured one of the most significant battles here at home. It's the battle of a Florida Cracker, Alan S. Boyd, now Secretary of Transportation, to protect Negro and poor white communities against one of the most powerful lobbies in the nation—a freeway lobby.

No one ever suspected, when Alan Boyd was first recommended by his old University of Florida friend, Sen. George Smathers, that Boyd would turn out to be a sociologist and an opponent of lobbyists. But he has. The freeway lobby hates him, secretly is working to undermine him. It claims he must go.

What Secretary Boyd has done to arouse the lobby's wrath is to maintain that freeways are not the sole solution of the transportation problem. Mass transit, subways, high-speed trains, even monorails must be considered.

Secretary Boyd also argues that Negro communities are not the only ones to be relocated to make room for suburban commuter freeways. Wealthier communities should have to move too. Specifically he has held up the North-Central Freeway in Washington because it was shifted over from a high-bracket residential community to a low-bracket area, because the white residents pack more political punch than Negoes do.

"We should not just tear up the homes of poor people and Negroes," says Boyd. "We ought to make a determined effort to put freeways where the traffic wants to go . . . We're going to have to find a better way to do it than say we're going to take the property of poor people and let everybody else alone."

Freeloader Panic

This caused panic and pandemonium among what is called the "Road Gang." This is the group of lobbyists, consultants, engineers, trade association officials which represent the cement, tire, gasoline and automobile industries, plus heavy construction, which have made millions from the National Highway Act by which the federal government pays 90 per cent of the highway bill, the states 10 per cent.

"If these people around Boyd had their way, there wouldn't be a paved street in Washington," said Harold Wirth, Washington lobbyist for Firestone Tire and Rubber. Wirth, incidentally, is also chairman of the Highway Users' Conference and chief spokesman for the "Road Gang."

Linked with the North-Central Freeway is also the Three Sisters Bridge across the Potomac, to carry commuters into Virginia. Secretary Boyd has held this up, because, he argues, the whole transportation plan for the District of Columbia must be considered as a package and the Three Sisters Bridge would funnel enough traffic into Washington to require the building of more freeways.

In the middle of this dispute is the new Negro mayor of Washington, Walter Washington, the first mayor this city has had in 93 years and one of the few Negroes holding such office in any big American city. Secretary Boyd has said he'll let him make the decision. This puts the first Negro mayor of the nation's capital in the position of either bowing to white wealth and the powerful highway lobby or siding with the poor members of his own race.

Billboard Backers

Assistant Mayor Tom Fletcher, who comes for San Diego where freeways are king.

Rep. George Fallon, D, of Baltimore, chairman of the House Public Works Committee and a potent friend of the highway lobby. Fallon has just returned from a junket to Puerto Rico, where he spent the Christmas holidays with a Public Works subcommittee. Refreshed and tanned, courtesy of the taxpayers, he's ready to fight the battle of the lobby.

Rep. John C. Kluczynski, D, of Chicago, a Polish restaurant operator and caterer, who has opposed Lady Bird's beautification program and has been the friend of billboards along new highways. Kluczynski is likewise a pal of the freeway lobby.

Finally, and perhaps the most important of all, is Rep. William H. Natcher, Kentucky Democrat, and chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee for the District of Columbia. Natcher illustrates the inequity of one-man committee rule by threatening to cut off funds for Washington's new subway if Secretary Boyd continues to block money for D.C. freeways.

The U.S. Court of Appeals has now held against the lobby, at least to the extent of instructing Mayor Washington to hold extensive hearing on the traffic problems of the nation's capital.

It will be interesting to see whether Walter Washington, the first mayor of the nation's capital in 93 years, finally lines up with the freeway lobby or the Florida Cracker who defends the poor Negroes of Washington.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Vietnam War Is the Costliest

Somebody will have to take the Vietnam war costs out of dreamland and calculate them into our 1968 economic situation. They're the nut of the coconut and cannot be indefinitely buried.

The accumulated costs since Kennedy's commitment of combat troops have exceeded $100 billion. This approaches one-third of our entire federal debt. Yet, incredibly, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara did not budget a single nickel for the Vietnam war until fiscal 1967.

At today's rate the drain is about $36 billion a year. The the U. S. Treasury estimated its adverse effect on our balance of payments, which is simply a soft name for our gold crisis, at $2.5 billion annually.

A compromise formula or truce would still heave the continuing costs incredibly large. Beyond this, no war in our history, and Vietnam is the third largest war we have ever fought, has even approached the cost of its aftermath.

According to the University of Illinois' respected Bureau of Economic Research, our wars, not including Vietnam, have actually cost us more than all the wealth our people have accumulated throughout the entire history of the United States since the 1776 Declaration of Independence to World War I.

Our wars, again excluding Vietnam, have cost an estimated $414 billion. All the farms, homes, factories, shops, stores, railroads, utilities and other property we have was valued at approximately $400 billion when that war began.

In World War I the average cost of inflicting one casualty on the enemy — killing one enemy—was $21,000. In World War II it was $75,000. Today, with the Vietnam enemy's will-o'-the-wisp tactics, the cost is literally astronomical. And our casualties in dead, wounded and missing have mounted to the annual rate of 50,000, compared with 46,000 in Korea.

Official estimates I have obtained from the Budget Bureau show that our military costs (only) of World War II alone were about $330 billion. We were in that war 1,349 fighting days. It cost us about $250 million, a quarter of a billion dollars, a day — most of which still remains unpaid.

More than 600,000 Americans have died in battle deaths alone in our wars. In the Revolutionary War 4,435 were killed. The War of 1812, 2,260; the Mexican War, 1,733; the War between the States, 140,414 on the Union side, 74,524 fighting for the Confederacy; The Spanish-American War, 385; World War 1, 53,513; World War II, 292,130; Korea 33,629.

World War I servicemen comprise about 15 percent of all participants in all the nation's wars. Their average length of service was 12 months; it was 30 months in World War II, 23 months in Korea. As late as 1963, although the war itself had been over for 18 years, half of the living 2.4 million World War veterans and 483,900 widows were receiving non-service — non-service—connected pensions. And the World War I pension roll still shows an increase of about 8,500 people a month.

In fact, we haven't stopped paying yet for the War Between the States, although that war itself stopped 103 years ago. And in 1946 the Veterans' Bureau reported that it was still paying a pension to a descendant of a veteran of the War of 1812 — which ended 131 years earlier.

Payments to and expenses for veterans of the War Between the States exceeded all costs in the war years, as they have for World War I. And as for World War II, payments for veterans are estimated to finish between the years 2080 and 2100—112 years from now, in the next century.

There are still in force about five million World War II National Service Life Insurance policies with a face value — stupendous — of $32 billion. Loans guaranteed or insured to World War II and Korean veterans alone total an additional $28 billion.

Seventy per cent of all Federal employes are in only three departments—the Defense Department, the Post Office and, surprisingly, the Veterans Administration. The last named is the third largest Federal employer—its 1968 budget exceeds $5 billion.

The cost of the Vietnam war, and, even more, the compounded costs of its aftermath, will be decisive in the nation's economy far beyond any estimates I have seen to date.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The peaceful little town of Mount Vernon, New York, publishes dynamite. The editors of Consumer Reports put out a $1.50 softcover book called "The Medicine Show." The content is so revolutionary that, after the first 50 pages, I didn't know whether to shoot my doctor, my pharmacist, or the men who wrote it.

The American Medical Association, I feel, should either refute the findings of this book, or admit that it has not kept America properly informed. "The Medicine Show," for example, states: "The only significant difference among brands of aspirin, plain or buffered, is price . . . all aspirin is pretty much the same." If this is true, then brand names, carefully nurtured and advertised, go down the drain. The AMA employs a big public relations organization that every physician member must help to pay for.

How about it?

In another section, the book says that Americans lose almost five billion dollars a year in working time because of the common cold. In addition, they spend $350 million for cold remedies. This is a lot of money, a lot of time. Science advances by leaps and bounds in its battle against cancer and cardiovascular disease, but hasn't the remotest notion of how to cure a cold.

Americans average three per year. This comes to 600,000,000 colds. It is thought that the cold comes from a group of unidentified viruses. There is no anti-virus drug, no reliable vaccine. Building resistance by proper diet has failed. Sometimes, at the insistence of the patient, the doctor will administer antibiotics. "Tests," says the book, "repeatedly confirmed the lack of effect of antibiotics and sulfa compounds on the incident, duration and severity of colds."

This puts us back to the time when complete bed rest and fluids were the only specifics. Still, the druggists have 600 proprietary medicines on the shelves—medicines that can be purchased without a doctor's prescription. A cold, say the editors, will "go away in a week or 10 days, with or without treatment." True or untrue?

There is a suspected emotional factor in colds. Unhappy people have more of them than contented people. Some fear the cough and require a placebo to relieve it. Others—strong smokers, perhaps—can adjust themselves to several hundred coughs every 24 hours.

How does a gargle know a friendly germ from an unfriendly one? Assuming that most gargles are germicides, then how do they cure a sore throat? I would guess that the cause of sore throats is deeper than its lining. If this is true, how does a good astringent know who to aim at?

Some of the television commercials take us on a tour of our digestive tracts, avoiding the rapids and portmanteauing our canoes past the falls, but no truer words have been writ than: "No organ of the body is so misunderstood and maltreated as the digestive tract."

It is pampered, pummeled and purged in turn. "The Medicine Show" says that we should not take laxatives. "Continued catharsis diminishes the muscular reflexes, so that stronger and stronger stimulation is required . . ."

Okay, Doc. Your ball.

Insomnia? Take my word for it, the human mind is perverse. It enjoys remaining wide awake all night. When the sun is up, it wants repose. Difficulty in falling asleep is natural to all. There is no basis, says the book, to prove that the human body requires eight hours sleep. Some need five. Others must have more than eight. The person lying awake in the dark may be getting as much rest as the one snoring.

I worry about the pill-poppers. They take pills to make them sleep, others to wake them up. The open-market sleeping pills contain an ingredient called methapyriline. It induces drowziness. These over-the-counter preparations are not addictive, but increased dosages can reduce mental alertness.

Certainly they are to be preferred over chloral hydrate and the barbiturates. The book will not induce sleep. I tried it at bedtime and continued pop-eyed until 4 a.m. Either it is accurate or it is literary quackery. Either way, it's dynamite.

Anything but a tranquillizer . . .

Supersonic Age in 1975

By ROBERT M. LEWIN
(Chicago Daily News Service)

CHICAGO — The supersonic age will start in 1975, says Charles C. Tillinghast Jr., president of Trans World Airlines.

It will be a period of increasing use of computers, the electronic "brain," added Tillinghast.

He told 1,800 industry executives, personnel officials and labor relations specialists at the American Management Assn.'s conference here:

— Home computers will control household chores.

— The home telephone will be the direct line to computers at banks that will handle personal financial transactions.

— Teaching machines will be available in homes and classrooms, helping in the learning process and enabling students to gather research from a central data source.

— People will talk to computers—and receive printed and even spoken responses, with instantaneous language translations.

— Electronic data banks will store personal analyses of people—individuals and families—and their progress, as well as routine personnel records.

Tillinghast forecast that the world's technical knowlege will double in the first 10 years of the supersonic age.

He said that business offices will be equipped with devices that, by pushing the right buttons, will turn out a confirmed airline ticket, theatre tickets, hotel reservation and car rental confirmation—all printed and charged to the company's account.

Tillinghast predicted that the supersonic age "will be one in which machine power will increasingly be aiding management in the thinking and planning sphere, as well as in the replacement of labor."

But he emphasized:

"The search for unusual talent will continue. The march of automation will create a relative surplus of untrained common labor and a shortage of the highly skilled.

"The selection, motivation and retention of superior employes will be at the heart of management."

The response indicates that Sheriff Joseph I. Woods may have discovered a means of polarizing the tremendous feelings aroused by the riots last summer into a force that is ready and anxious to prevent them at little or no cost to the country. Offers even came from many willing to finance volunteers unable to buy their own equipment.

Woods hopes to enlist a force that is half white and half black, recognizing the fact that there are as many black neighborhoods, as in the white, who resent and oppose the rioters. He is giving both races a place to express their determination to maintain the peace the coming summer.

The fact that Woods is a Republican and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, a Democrat, produced a partisan dispute. Daley said there would be no need for such a volunteer force in the city, that he expects no disturbances next August when the Democratic National Convention is held there, that his police and fire departments are capable of handling any emergencies and, if necessary, the National Guard could be mobilized.

Woods normally confines his police work to suburban Cook County. The volunteers will supplement his regular 250-man riot squad. He has no plans to move his volunteers into Chicago except in cooperation with the city's police. But, he adds, "I am the chief law enforcement officer of the county, and I would not stand by and see homes and businesses burned." No city can have too much protection if riots break out.

John Kennedy Legend

It has been four years and nearly three months since John F. Kennedy, the 35th President was shot and fatally wounded November 22, 1963, as he rode in a motorcade in Dallas. The legend surrounding him has grown so great, that the New York State Assembly voted 3 to 1 to require public schools in the state to hold memorial services each year on his birthday, May 29.

Outnumbered Republicans offered two amendments that were beaten down. One would have added the birthdays of three other Presidents who were assassinated—William McKinley, James A. Garfield and Abraham Lincoln. The other would have honored the birthdays of Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The bill faces an uncertain fate in the Republican controlled Senate and, if it should get that far, at the desk of Governor Rockefeller. The debate was partisan, no doubt about that. But that the Democratic-controlled Assembly would vote such an honor to Kennedy, before honoring the New York native and only four-term President Franklin D. Roosevelt could be a tribute to the luminosity of the young man from Massachusetts, or it could be a studied means of garnering more votes for a Kennedy succession year after year.

Cuban Boycott Riddled

America's boycott of trade with Cuba because the Castro regime foments revolution in Latin America is being riddled not only by the Communist bloc, but also by a half dozen allies of the United States.

Arrival of a party of British engineers in Havana to start construction of a $100 million fertilizer plant essential for Cuba's ambitious agricultural development plans is the latest in a number of incidents that have frustrated Washington. London disregarded Washington's protest of an export credit of $45 million worth of British equipment for the plant last year, and the coming of the engineers will complete the transaction.

Beside Britain which sells Cuba motors and pumps for sugar mills, France sells trucks and bulldozers, Japan sells port equipment and bag manufacturing plants, and Canada breeding cattle. France, Italy and Spain also are in this traffic banned by the United States to its own nationals. Belgium protested a ban on the sale of farm equipment by a mill 65 per cent of which is owned by American interests.

These countries say they have no quarrel with Cuba. However, American investments in their countries give their nationals many times the work they get from Cuban trade. They show that trade does not know friendship as they break American boycotts to share in Cuba's annual $150 million in hard currency available for foreign trade.

Nation Heads Toward Wage, Price Controls

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Slowly but surely the nation is heading toward wage and price controls. This has been customary heretofore in wartime but, because of political expediency nowadays, the Administration has refrained from asking Congress for such legislation. The Vietnam war is rapidly approaching the dimensions of a major conflict so far as its effect on the national economy is concerned, and inflation is already sweeping across the country to an almost unprecedented degree.

A most significant forecast of the probable course of events was made in the current issue of the weekly newspaper published by the International Association of Machinists, which predicted that early in 1969 legislation on wage and prices will be enacted. The prophecy was based on a statement by the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, who told a Congressional committee recently that our "wartime economy" may soon require action to restrain wages and prices even if the proposed income tax increase becomes effective.

The question now is whether the Administration can wait until after the elections for wage and price controls to be imposed. A few days ago the U.S. Department of Labor reported that inflation had wiped out the wage gains of the nation's production workers during the last two years. The blame was in part placed on the workers, whose unions secured wage rates far beyond the rise in national productivity. The rate of productivity had increased by only 1.7 per cent in the last quarter of 1967, while at the same time the average pay per man-hour rose by 5.4 percent. This resulted in a substantial upward movement in what is known as the "unit labor cost."

"Guidelines" were established six years ago to keep wage increases in line with productivity gains, but these yardsticks have since been disregarded as wage increases have risen far beyond the productivity gains which were anticipated by those who favored the "guidelines" system.

Changes in productivity are the result of several factors, such as an actual increase in the total output of the national economy as well as improved skills on the part of the workers. Economic history shows that a sustained rise in costs of labor per unit produced can only result in increased prices unless there is some offsetting advantage as, for instance, an actual decrease in other costs of producing the units of goods.

The difficulty with the wage problem is that uniformity can hardly be applied. Conditions vary from industry to industry. In one category, the labor unions may be successful in forcing up the wage rates, whereupon unions in other lines endeavor to get the same wage rate irrespective of whether productivity has been or will be increased. The impact of wage scales in one industry upon another is paralleled also by the readjudgments that are forced within a given business when wages are raised for certain types of workers above others.

When the government imposes wage and price controls, an attempt is made to stabilize wages for a given period of time — at least until the war is over. Even during wartime there are inequities that need correction. There are long delays involved, however, in getting the facts before government agencies so that the necessary changes and adjustments can be made.

The labor unions are intenseiy opposed to wage and price controls, and so are most business managements. But the government has no way out if it is to restrain the rise of the inflation which is not only cutting down the purchasing power of the dollar but is adversely affecting the standard of living, particularly among millions of persons who are dependent upon fixed incomes — including retirement pay.

Control of wages and prices during World War I, World War II and the Korean War did not leave any feeling of satisfaction on the part of the government or labor or industry, but was regarded then—as it probably will be again—as a wartime necessity.

Nation's Highway Program Faces Crucial Crossroads

WASHINGTON — Military problems in the Far East have obcured one of the most significant battles here at home. It's the battle of a Florida Cracker, Alan S. Boyd, now Secretary of Transportation, to protect Negro and poor white communities against one of the most powerful lobbies in the nation—a freeway lobby.

No one ever suspected, when Alan Boyd was first recommended by his old University of Florida friend, Sen. George Smathers, that Boyd would turn out to be a sociologist and an opponent of lobbyists. But he has. The freeway lobby hates him, secretly is working to undermine him. It claims he must go.

What Secretary Boyd has done to arouse the lobby's wrath is to maintain that freeways are not the sole solution of the transportation problem. Mass transit, subways, high-speed trains, even monorails must be considered.

Secretary Boyd also argues that Negro communities are not the only ones to be relocated to make room for suburban commuter freeways. Wealthier communities should have to move too. Specifically he has held up the North-Central Freeway in Washington because it was shifted over from a high-bracket residential community to a low-bracket area, because the white residents pack more political punch than Negoes do.

"We should not just tear up the homes of poor people and Negroes," says Boyd. "We ought to make a determined effort to put freeways where the traffic wants to go . . . We're going to have to find a better way to do it than say we're going to take the property of poor people and let everybody else alone."

Freeloader Panic

This caused panic and pandemonium among what is called the "Road Gang." This is the group of lobbyists, consultants, engineers, trade association officials which represent the cement, tire, gasoline and automobile industries, plus heavy construction, which have made millions from the National Highway Act by which the federal government pays 90 per cent of the highway bill, the states 10 per cent.

"If these people around Boyd had their way, there wouldn't be a paved street in Washington," said Harold Wirth, Washington lobbyist for Firestone Tire and Rubber. Wirth, incidentally, is also chairman of the Highway Users' Conference and chief spokesman for the "Road Gang."

Linked with the North-Central Freeway is also the Three Sisters Bridge across the Potomac, to carry commuters into Virginia. Secretary Boyd has held this up, because, he argues, the whole transportation plan for the District of Columbia must be considered as a package and the Three Sisters Bridge would funnel enough traffic into Washington to require the building of more freeways.

In the middle of this dispute is the new Negro mayor of Washington, Walter Washington, the first mayor this city has had in 93 years and one of the few Negroes holding such office in any big American city. Secretary Boyd has said he'll let him make the decision. This puts the first Negro mayor of the nation's capital in the position of either bowing to white wealth and the powerful highway lobby or siding with the poor members of his own race.

Billboard Backers

Assistant Mayor Tom Fletcher, who comes for San Diego where freeways are king.

Rep. George Fallon, D. of Baltimore, chairman of the House Public Works Committee and a potent friend of the highway lobby. Fallon has just returned from a junket to Puerto Rico, where he spent the Christmas holidays with a Public Works subcommittee. Refreshed and tanned, courtesy of the taxpayers, he's ready to fight the battle of the lobby.

Rep. John C. Kluczynski, D. of Chicago, a Polish restaurant operator and caterer, who has opposed Lady Bird's beautification program and has been the friend of billboards along new highways. Kluczynski is likewise a pal of the freeway lobby.

Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., another enemy of Lady Bird's beautification program and a friend of billboards. In his West Florida district, Cramer operates a laundry, partly owned by his campaign manager, Jack Insco, who in turn gets a salary of $15,063.48 from the U. S. Taxpayers courtesy of being on Cramer's Congressional payroll. Simultaneously the laundry has an $80,000 contract to wash the linen for MacDill Air Force Base in Florida.

Finally, and perhaps the most important of all, is Rep. William H. Natcher, Kentucky Democrat, and chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee for the District of Columbia. Natcher illustrates the inequity of one-man committee rule by threatening to cut off funds for Washington's new subway if Secretary Boyd continues to block money for D.C. freeways.

This is how powerful the freeway lobby is. How much money its members contribute to these Congressmen's campaign fund is not always recorded. It could run into many figures.

The U.S. Court of Appeals has now held against the lobby, at least to the extent of instructing Mayor Washington to hold extensive hearing on the traffic problems of the nation's capital.

It will be interesting to see whether Walter Washington, the first mayor of the nation's capital in 93 years, finally lines up with the freeway lobby or the Florida Cracker who defends the poor Negroes of Washington.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Vietnam War Is the Costliest

Somebody will have to take the Vietnam war costs out of dreamland and calculate them into our 1968 economic situation. They're the nut of the coconut and cannot be indefinitely buried.

The accumulated costs since Kennedy's commitment of combat troops have exceeded $100 billion. This approaches one-third of our entire federal debt. Yet, incredibly, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara did not budget a single nickel for the Vietnam war until fiscal 1967.

At today's rate the drain is about $36 billion a year. The the U. S. Treasury estimated its adverse effect on our balance of payments, which is simply a soft name for our gold crisis, at $2.5 billion annually.

A compromise formula or truce would still heave the continuing costs incredibly large. Beyond this, no war in our history, and Vietnam is the third largest war we have ever fought, has even approached the cost of its aftermath.

According to the University of Illinois' respected Bureau of Economic Research, our wars, not including Vietnam, have actually cost us more than all the wealth our people have accumulated throughout the entire history of the United States since the 1776 Declaration of Independence to World War I.

Our wars, again excluding Vietnam, have cost an estimated $414 billion. All the farms, homes, factories, shops, stores, railroads, utilities and other property we have was valued at approximately $400 billion when that war began.

In World War I the average cost of inflicting one casualty on the enemy — killing one enemy—was $21,000. In World War II it was $75,000. Today, with the Vietnam enemy's will-o'-the-wisp tactics, the cost is literally astronomical. And our casualties in dead, wounded and missing have mounted to the annual rate of 50,000, compared with 46,000 in Korea.

Official estimates I have obtained from the Budget Bureau show that our military costs (only) of World War II alone were about $330 billion. We were in that war 1,347 fighting days. It cost us about $250 million, a quarter of a billion dollars, a day — most of which still remains unpaid.

More than 600,000 Americans have died in battle deaths alone in our wars. In the Revolutionary War 4,435 were killed; The War of 1812, 2,260; the Mexican War, 1,733; the War between the States, 140,414 on the Union side, 74,524 fighting for the Confederacy; The Spanish-American War, 385; World War 1, 53,513; World War II, 292,130; Korea 33,629.

World War I servicemen comprise about 15 percent of all participants in all the nation's wars. Their average length of service was 12 months; it was 30 months in World War II, 23 months in Korea. As late as 1963, although the war itself had been over for 18 years, half of the living 2.4 million World War veterans and 483,900 widows were receiving non-service — non-service—connected pensions. And the World War I pension roll still shows an increase of about 8,500 people a month.

In fact, we haven't stopped paying yet for the War Between the States, although that war itself stopped 103 years ago. And in 1946 the Veterans' Bureau reported that it was still paying a pension to a descendant of a veteran of the War of 1812 — which ended 131 years earlier.

Payments to and expenses for veterans of the War Between the States exceeded all costs in the war years, as they have for World War I. And as for World War II, payments for veterans are estimated to finish between the years 2080 and 2100—112 years from now, in the next century.

There are still in force about five million World War II National Service Life Insurance policies with a face value — stupendous — of $32 billion. Loans guaranteed or insured to World War II and Korean veterans alone total an additional $28 billion.

Seventy per cent of all Federal employes are in only three departments—the Defense Department, the Post Office and, surprisingly, the Veterans Administration. The last named is the third largest Federal employer—its 1968 budget exceeds $5 billion.

The cost of the Vietnam war, and, even more, the compounded costs of its aftermath, will be decisive in the nation's economy far beyond any estimates I have seen to date.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The peaceful little town of Mount Vernon, New York, publishes dynamite. The editors of Consumer Reports put out a $1.50 softcover book called "The Medicine Show." The content is so revolutionary that, after the first 50 pages, I didn't know whether to shoot my doctor, my pharmacist, or the men who wrote it.

The American Medical Association, I feel, should either refute the findings of this book, or admit that it has not kept America properly informed. "The Medicine Show," for example, states: "The only significant difference among brands of aspirin, plain or buffered, is price . . . all aspirin is pretty much the same." If this is true, then brand names, carefully nurtured and advertised, go down the drain. The AMA employs a big public relations organization that every physician member must help to pay for.

How about it?

In another section, the book says that Americans lose almost five billion dollars a year in working time because of the common cold. In addition, they spend $350 million for cold remedies. This is a lot of money, a lot of time. Science advances by leaps and bounds in its battle against cancer and cardiovascular disease, but hasn't the remotest notion of how to cure a cold.

Americans average three per year. This comes to 600,000,000 colds. It is thought that the cold comes from a group of unidentified viruses. There is no anti-virus drug, no reliable vaccine. Building resistance by proper diet has failed. Sometimes, at the insistence of the patient, the doctor will administer antibiotics. "Tests," says the book, "repeatedly confirmed the lack of effect of antibiotics and sulfa compounds on the incident, duration and severity of colds."

This puts us back to the time when complete bed rest and fluids were the only specifics. Still, the druggists have 600 proprietary medicines on the shelves—medicines that can be purchased without a doctor's prescription. A cold, say the editors, will "go away in a week or 10 days, with or without treatment." True or untrue?

There is a suspected emotional factor in colds. Unhappy people have more of them than contented people. Some fear the cough and require a placebo to relieve it. Others—strong smokers, perhaps—can adjust themselves to several hundred coughs every 24 hours.

How does a gargle know a friendly germ from an unfriendly one? Assuming that most gargles are germicides, then how do they cure a sore throat? I would guess that the cause of sore throats is deeper than its lining. If this is true, how does a good astringent know who to aim at?

Some of the television commercials take us on a tour of our digestive tracts, avoiding the rapids and portmanteauing our canoes past the falls, but no truer words have been writ than: "No organ of the body is so misunderstood and maltreated as the digestive tract."

It is pampered, pummeled and purged in turn. "The Medicine Show" says that we should not take laxatives. "Continued catharsis diminishes the muscular reflexes, so that stronger and stronger stimulation is required . . ."

Okay, Doc. Your ball.

Insomnia? Take my word for it, the human mind is perverse. It enjoys remaining wide awake all night. When the sun is up, it wants repose. Difficulty in falling asleep is natural to all. There is no basis, says the book, to prove that the human body requires eight hours sleep. Some need five. Others must have more than eight. The person lying awake in the dark may be getting as much rest as the one snoring.

I worry about the pill-poppers. They take pills to make them sleep, others to wake them up. The open-market sleeping pills contain an ingredient called methapyriline. It induces drowziness. These over-the-counter preparations are not addictive, but increased dosages can reduce mental alertness.

Certainly they are to be preferred over chloral hydrate and the barbiturates. The book will not induce sleep. I tried it at bedtime and continued pop-eyed until 4 a.m. Either it is accurate or it is literary quackery. Either way, it's dynamite.

Anything but a tranquillizer...

Supersonic Age in 1975

By ROBERT M. LEWIN
(Chicago Daily News Service)

CHICAGO — The supersonic age will start in 1975, says Charles C. Tillinghast Jr., president of Trans World Airlines.

It will be a period of increasing use of computers, the electronic "brain," added Tillinghast.

He told 1,800 industry executives, personnel officials and labor relations specialists at the American Management Assn.'s conference here:

— Home computers will control household chores.

— The home telephone will be the direct line to computers at banks that will handle personal financial transactions.

— Teaching machines will be available in homes and classrooms, helping in the learning process and enabling students to gather research from a central data source.

— People will talk to computers—and receive printed and even spoken responses, with instantaneous language translations.

— Electronic data banks will store personal analyses of people—individuals and families—and their progress, as well as routine personnel records.

Tillinghast forecast that the world's technical knowlege will double in the first 10 years of the supersonic age.

He said that business offices will be equipped with devices that, by pushing the right buttons, will turn out a confirmed airline ticket, theatre tickets, hotel reservation and car rental confirmation—all printed and charged to the company's account.

Tillinghast predicted that the supersonic age "will be one in which machine power will increasingly be aiding management in the thinking and planning sphere, as well as in the replacement of labor."

But he emphasized:

"The search for unusual talent will continue. The march of automation will create a relative surplus of untrained common labor and a shortage of the highly skilled.

"The selection, motivation and retention of superior employes will be at the heart of management."

Stream of Assurances Has Confused, Frustrated Public

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
(Chicago Daily News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—If optimistic comment by government officials could win a war, Vietnam would have been over long ago.

From the very start a rosy-hued view was taken by high level spokesmen despite the complications and problems of a conflict into which the United States was drawn even more deeply.

It generally is agreed that the administration has contributed to the confusion and frustrations of the public by its stream of assurances that all is going well—but its policy of putting the best possible light on the developments in Vietnam is one that it appears reluctant to abandon.

Here are some samples over the years:

— May 11, 1962. Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara said in Saigon at the conclusion of his first visit to the war theater that he was "tremendously encouraged" by developments in South Vietnam. He had stated two days earlier on his arrival that "there is no plan" for introducing American combat forces to the theater.

— Feb. 1, 1963. Sec. of State Dean Rusk reported that "there are some definitely encouraging elements." On Feb. 13, he announced "the momentum of the Communist drive has been stopped." On April 22, he said "there is a good basis for encouragement."

Statement in 1963

— Oct. 2, 1963. This is what the White House said in a statement issued after a trip to Vietnam by McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff: "Sec. McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the U. S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U. S. training personnel . . ."

America then had 14,000 "military advisers" in Vietnam.

— Feb. 24, 1964. Rusk said. "I think the resources and capabilities are there to get this job done on the present basis of assistance to the Vietnamese so that they themselves can handle this problem primarily with their own effort."

— In March of 1964, President Johnson announced that McNamara and Taylor were going to pay another visit to Vietnam. "I do not think," he said, "that the speculation that has been made that we should enter into a neutralization of that area, or that we are losing the fight in that area, or that things have gone to pot there, are at all justified, and I think they do our cause a great disservice."

— May 14, 1964. McNamara said on his return from his fifth visit to Vietnam, "I firmly believe that the persistent execution of the political-military plans which the Government of Vietnam has developed to carry out that war with our assistance will lead to success."

It might be necessary, he said, to send "certain additional U.S. personnel" to Vietnam, but only to expand the training of South Vietnamese forces.

— July 1, 1964. Rusk said, "I think they (the Viet Cong) have very serious problems—not only in terms of losses but in terms of morale. So I am not pessimistic about the situation." It was announced this month that about 5,000 more American troops would be sent to Vietnam, bringing the total to about 21,000.

Grave, Not Hopeless

— Feb. 24, 1965. McNamara told the Senate Armed Services Committee, "The present situation in South Vietnam is grave but by no means hopeless." The past year, he added, had "brought some encouraging developments."

— July 20, 1965. McNamara, leaving Saigon after his sixth visit to Vietnam, said "The over-all situation continues to be serious. As a matter of fact, in many aspects there has been deterioration since I was here last, 15 months ago . . . but the picture is not all black by any means. The Vietnamese people continue to be willing to fight and die in their own defense."

On July 28, President Johnson ordered American forces in Vietnam to be raised from 75,000 to 125,000.

— Sept. 16, 1965. McNamara told a Pentagon press conference, "I remain cautiously optimistic."

— Nov. 30, 1965. McNamara, arriving back in the United States after another visit to Vietnam, reported, "We have stopped losing the war."

— July 9, 1966. McNamara, returning from a council of war in Honolulu, stated "We have been thwarting the enemy plans, inflicting very heavy losses on him . . . I'm cautiously optimistic." The United States then had 280,000 men in Vietnam.

— Jan. 1, 1967. Rusk said "I do believe that one basis for optimism is that the other side must surely now understand that they are not going to succeed in seizing Vietnam by force."

— March 1, 1967. McNamara told White House reporters that the United States had 415,000 troops in Vietnam. "This has permitted a very substantial increase in the rate of U. S. operations."

— July 12, 1967. Returning from his ninth trip to Vietnam, McNamara talked of "tremendous progress," "dramatic change," and "very substantial improvement." All of the military comanders he met ridiculed the "reports they read in the press of a military stalemate," he said. Of the reorganized pacification program, he commented, "I was very pleased with what I saw."

— July 19, 1967. Rusk declared, "The other side is hurting, and they are hurting very badly."

— Nov. 21, 1967. Gen William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam, told a National Press Club luncheon that 1968 would be a year "when the end begins to come into view." He said it was "conceivable that within two years or less . . . we will be able to phase down the level of our military effort and withdraw some troops."

Can Handle Viet Cong

The South Vietnamese government "will prove its stability," he said, and the South Vietnamese army "will show that it can handle the Viet Cong."

— Jan. 1, 1968. President Johnson told a press conference, "We feel that the enemy knows that he can no longer win a military victory in South Vietnam."

— Feb. 2, 1968. At the end of a week in which the Viet Cong launched a major, surprise offensive against Saigon and a number of other cities, the President told a news conconference that the enemy had suffered "a complete failure" militarily.

— Feb. 4, 1968. McNamara said on the same program that it is "very clear" that the other side is "not as strong today as they were three and a half years ago."

Now, the United States is awaiting what administration spokesmen have warned will be the biggest enemy offensive of the war against the isolated Marine outpost of Khe Sanh.

For "insurance purposes," 10,500 additional troops are being rushed out to join the 500,000 already in Vietnam.

But the Joint Chiefs of Staff have assured the President, in writing, that Khe Sanh "can and should be defended" and that it will not turn into a humiliating defeat such as the French suffered at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The current administration line is that this offensive "may be the last big push by the enemy before coming to the conference table."

Red Guard Newspapers Disappear in Peking

By Hans-Jaochim Bargman
(Chicago Daily News Service)

PEKING, Feb. 15 — All Red Guard newspapers have disappeared almost overnight from the Chinese capital and it would not surprise observers here if they have vanished throughout China.

Foreign observers here had expected such measures for some time, after the Peking Peoples Daily repeatedly had demanded a ban on "illegal publications."

A series of letter and editorials pointed out that Red Guard publications had contributed to the distribution of Chairman Mao Tse-Tung's teachings, but that "illegal publications" also had created chaos throughout the country.

The editorials said these publications had promoted group mentality and the petty bourgeoisie and had betrayed party and state secrets, which had been used for sabotage by agents of American imperialism, Soviet revisionism and the Japanese.

At the height of the cultural revolution, there were well over 50 such newspapers in Peking alone. They were sold on street corners for a few pennies.

Though sensational and highly unreliable, these papers were the most important source of information on the cultural revolution until last summer, when their sale to foreigners was forbidden.

Along with the disappearance of the newspapers, there has been a considerable drop in the wall posters and other Red Guard releases. The posters appear now only at definite places in the city and at universities, schools, factories and administrative buildings.

Use Pueblo to Ridicule U.S.

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is now becoming clear what North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo means in Asian eyes and what effects the capture was expected to have in Korea, Vietnam, Thailand, Burma, Cambodia and Laos.

To understand just what the North Koreans intended, it is necessary to tell the story of a recent incident in South Vietnam.

A friend we shall call Alexander, adviser to a Vietnamese provincial governor, discovered that one of the province's district chiefs was particularly corrupt.

On every visit to the provincial capital, Alexander brought in new evidence of the ways in which this particular district leader was using his office to milk the people for his own ends.

Each time the subject was brought up, the governor would shrug his shoulders and say nothing could be done. The man, it seems, had powerful friends.

Then one day Alexander, on one of his trips through the province, by accident saw the corrupt district chief being chased down the street of his village by his irate wife. She had found him dallying with other women. My friend thought this was humorous, but gave it little more thought. The next time he was in to see the governor, however, he did mention in passing what he had seen. He expected a few guffaws, nothing more.

To Alexander's surprise, the governor, on hearing the story, jumped up, his face red, his fists clenched and shouted "That man has got to go!" And go he did.

The explanation was simple. The man could not control his wife. Thereby he lost face. He had become ridiculous in the eyes of the people of his district. He could therefore no longer command their respect. He was through.

Like this district chief, U.S. power was made to appear a little ridiculous in Asian eyes when a very small country such as North Korea hijacked an American Navy ship off the high seas with no shots fired in defense.

In Asian custom, there is something particularly degrading about a hijacking. When a group wants to particularly ridicule the government in the eyes of the people, they kidnap a high official. Afterward, he never again commands quite the same respect, even if he returns alive, unless he has escaped by outwitting his captors.

According to reports, the North Koreans are attempting to add to the ridiculous position in which we now find ourselves by suggesting they might be willing to return the Pueblo and its crew if Washington will make an apology, pay a fine and induce the South Koreans to return North Korean agents captured in the south.

It is clear the United States could not afford to accept these conditions. In the interests of future peace in Asia it is essential that the United States find some way to recover from this situation with dignity.

Stream of Assurances Has Confused, Frustrated Public

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
(Chicago Daily News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—If optimistic comment by government officials could win a war, Vietnam would have been over long ago.

From the very start a rosy-hued view was taken by high level spokesmen despite the complications and problems of a conflict into which the United States was drawn even more deeply.

It generally is agreed that the administration has contributed to the confusion and frustrations of the public by its stream of assurances that all is going well—but its policy of putting the best possible light on the developments in Vietnam is one that it appears reluctant to abandon.

Here are some samples over the years:

— May 11, 1962. Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara said in Saigon at the conclusion of his first visit to the war theater that he was "tremendously encouraged" by developments in South Vietnam. He had stated two days earlier on his arrival that "there is no plan" for introducing American combat forces to the theater.

— Feb. 1, 1963. Sec. of State Dean Rusk reported that "there are some definitely encouraging elements." On Feb. 13, he announced "the momentum of the Communist drive has been stopped." On April 22, he said "there is a good basis for encouragement."

Statement in 1963

— Oct. 2, 1963. This is what the White House said in a statement issued after a trip to Vietnam by McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff: "Sec. McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the U. S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U. S. training personnel . . ."

America then had 14,000 "military advisers" in Vietnam.

— Feb. 24, 1964. Rusk said. "I think the resources and capabilities are there to get this job done on the present basis of assistance to the Vietnamese so that they themselves can handle this problem primarily with their own effort."

— In March of 1964, President Johnson announced that McNamara and Taylor were going to pay another visit to Vietnam. "I do not think," he said, "that the speculation that has been made that we should enter into a neutralization of that area, or that we are losing the fight in that area, or that things have gone to pot there, are at all justified, and I think they do our cause a great disservice."

— May 14, 1964. McNamara said on his return from his fifth visit to Vietnam, "I firmly believe that the persistent execution of the political-military plans which the Government of Vietnam has developed to carry out that war with our assistance will lead to success."

It might be necessary, he said, to send "certain additional U.S. personnel" to Vietnam, but only to expand the training of South Vietnamese forces.

— July 1, 1964. Rusk said, "I think they (the Viet Cong) have very serious problems—not only in terms of losses but in terms of morale. So I am not pessimistic about the situation." It was announced this month that about 5,000 more American troops would be sent to Vietnam, bringing the total to about 21,000.

Grave, Not Hopeless

— Feb. 24, 1965. McNamara told the Senate Armed Services Committee, "The present situation in South Vietnam is grave but by no means hopeless." The past year, he added, had "brought some encouraging developments."

— July 20, 1965. McNamara, leaving Saigon after his sixth visit to Vietnam, said "The over-all situation continues to be serious. As a matter of fact, in many aspects there has been deterioration since I was here last, 15 months ago . . . but the picture is not all black by any means. The Vietnamese people continue to be willing to fight and die in their own defense."

On July 28, President Johnson ordered American forces in Vietnam to be raised from 75,000 to 125,000.

— Sept. 16, 1965. McNamara told a Pentagon press conference, "I remain cautiously optimistic."

— Nov. 30, 1965. McNamara, arriving back in the United States after another visit to Vietnam, reported, "We have stopped losing the war."

— July 9, 1966. McNamara, returning from a council of war in Honolulu, stated "We have been thwarting the enemy plans, inflicting very heavy losses on him . . . I'm cautiously optimistic." The United States then had 280,000 men in Vietnam.

— Jan. 1, 1967. Rusk said "I do believe that one basis for optimism is that the other side must surely now understand that they are not going to succeed in seizing Vietnam by force."

— March 1, 1967. McNamara told White House reporters that the United States had 415,000 troops in Vietnam. "This has permitted a very substantial increase in the rate of U. S. operations."

— July 12, 1967. Returning from his ninth trip to Vietnam, McNamara talked of "tremendous progress," "dramatic change," and "very substantial improvement." All of the military comanders he met ridiculed the "reports they read in the press of a military stalemate," he said. Of the reorganized pacification program, he commented, "I was very pleased with what I saw."

— July 19, 1967. Rusk declared, "The other side is hurting, and they are hurting very badly."

— Nov. 21, 1967. Gen William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam, told a National Press Club luncheon that 1968 would be a year "when the end begins to come into view." He said it was "conceivable that within two years or less . . . we will be able to phase down the level of our military effort and withdraw some troops."

Can Handle Viet Cong

The South Vietnamese government "will prove its stability," he said, and the South Vietnamese army "will show that it can handle the Viet Cong."

— Jan. 1, 1968. President Johnson told a press conference, "We feel that the enemy knows that he can no longer win a military victory in South Vietnam."

— Feb. 2, 1968. At the end of a week in which the Viet Cong launched a major, surprise offensive against Saigon and a number of other cities, the President told a news conference that the enemy had suffered "a complete failure" militarily.

— Feb. 4, 1968. McNamara said on the same program that it is "very clear" that the other side is "not as strong today as they were three and a half years ago."

Now, the United States is awaiting what administration spokesmen have warned will be the biggest enemy offensive of the war against the isolated Marine outpost of Khe Sanh.

For "insurance purposes," 10,500 additional troops are being rushed out to join the 500,000 already in Vietnam.

But the Joint Chiefs of Staff have assured the President, in writing, that Khe Sanh "can and should be defended" and that it will not turn into a humiliating defeat such as the French suffered at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The current administration line is that this offensive "may be the last big push by the enemy before coming to the conference table."

Red Guard Newspapers Disappear in Peking

By Hans-Jaochim Bargman
(Chicago Daily News Service)

PEKING, Feb. 15 — All Red Guard newspapers have disappeared almost overnight from the Chinese capital and it would not surprise observers here if they have vanished throughout China.

Foreign observers here had expected such measures for some time, after the Peking Peoples Daily repeatedly had demanded a ban on "illegal publications."

A series of letter and editorials pointed out that Red Guard publications had contributed to the distribution of Chairman Mao Tse-Tung's teachings, but that "illegal publications" also had created chaos throughout the country.

The editorials said these publications had promoted group mentality and the petty bourgeoisie and had betrayed party and state secrets, which had been used for sabotage by agents of American imperialism, Soviet revisionism and the Japanese.

At the height of the cultural revolution, there were well over 50 such newspapers in Peking alone. They were sold on street corners for a few pennies.

Though sensational and highly unreliable, these papers were the most important source of information on the cultural revolution until last summer, when their sale to foreigners was forbidden.

Along with the disappearance of the newspapers, there has been a considerable drop in the wall posters and other Red Guard releases. The posters appear now only at definite places in the city and at universities, schools, factories and administrative buildings.

Use Pueblo to Ridicule U.S.

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is now becoming clear what North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo means in Asian eyes and what effects the capture was expected to have in Korea, Vietnam, Thailand, Burma, Cambodia and Laos.

To understand just what the North Koreans intended, it is necessary to tell the story of a recent incident in South Vietnam.

A friend we shall call Alexander, adviser to a Vietnamese provincial governor, discovered that one of the province's district chiefs was particularly corrupt.

On every visit to the provincial capital, Alexander brought in new evidence of the ways in which this particular district leader was using his office to milk the people for his own ends.

Each time the subject was brought up, the governor would shrug his shoulders and say nothing could be done. The man, it seems, had powerful friends.

Then one day Alexander, on one of his trips through the province, by accident saw the corrupt district chief being chased down the street of his village by his irate wife. She had found him dallying with other women. My friend thought this was humorous, but gave it little more thought. The next time he was in to see the governor, however, he did mention in passing what he had seen. He expected a few guffaws, nothing more.

To Alexander's surprise, the governor, on hearing the story, jumped up, his face red, his fists clenched and shouted "That man has got to go!" And go he did.

The explanation was simple. The man could not control his wife. Thereby he lost face. He had become ridiculous in the eyes of the people of his district. He could therefore no longer command their respect. He was through.

Like this district chief, U.S. power was made to appear a little ridiculous in Asian eyes when a very small country such as North Korea hijacked an American Navy ship off the high seas with no shots fired in defense.

In Asian custom, there is something particularly degrading about a hijacking. When a group wants to particularly ridicule the government in the eyes of the people, they kidnap a high official. Afterward, he never again commands quite the same respect, even if he returns alive, unless he has escaped by outwitting his captors.

According to reports, the North Koreans are attempting to add to the ridiculous position in which we now find ourselves by suggesting they might be willing to return the Pueblo and its crew if Washington will make an apology, pay a fine and induce the South Koreans to return North Korean agents captured in the south.

It is clear the United States could not afford to accept these conditions. In the interests of future peace in Asia it is essential that the United States find some way to recover from this situation with dignity.

Why We Say--

BENCH: The banking business has changed a great deal from the time it received its name. The first bankers were money changers in Venice. They spread out stacks of money on long benches or "bancos," thus the name banker was taken from the word bench.

Chichester

CHICHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. James Zimmerman visited his sister in Middletown Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Berryann and family of Lanesville and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick and daughter, Melanie, visited Mrs. Doris Sweet and children in Fleischmanns Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ostrander arrived home Thursday from Daytona Beach, Fla., where they had been vacationing for three weeks.

Bus Schedule Announced by Mental Health

The monthly bus trip to Middletown State Hospital, sponsored by the Ulster County Association for Mental Health will take place Sunday, Feb. 25.

The bus leaves from the Park Diner, Kingston, at 11:45 a.m.; from The Elms, Rosendale, at 12 noon; and from the Grand Union, North Chestnut Street, New Paltz, at 12:10 p.m. The bus returns to Kingston by 5:30 p.m., stopping as requested en route.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Edwin C. Shults, Saugerties, Mrs. Harriet Kerr, New Paltz, or from the office of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health in Kingston. The office is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A nominal charge is made, and there is also a small fund available to assist persons unable to cover the cost themselves.

Ball and Chain

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Bystanders immediately knew what Nancy Takata, 18, and Leonard Banks, 23, wanted when they walked into the office of the city clerk. Attached to Banks' ankle was a 40 pound ball and chain. Although it took only 20 minutes to get a marriage license it was more than an hour later before city employes succeeded in removing the binding chains which had been securely fastened by Banks' fellow workers.

HIGH FALLS NEWS

HIGH FALLS—Mrs. Richard Andersen has left for a 10 day trip to New Orleans including the Mardi Gras ceremony. She will then go to Madiera Beach, Fla., to visit relatives. She expects to be gone about a month.

Mrs. William Brooks has returned home from the Benedictine Hospital, where she underwent surgery.

Mrs. Louise Yeaple has returned to her teaching position at Marbletown Elementary School after a three month's absence due to illness.

Mrs. Fred Moone Sr. has returned home from the hospital where she was a patient for a couple of months.

Boy Scout Troop 16 spent a winter weekend at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett. They were accompanied by Scoutmasters James Feth and Arnold van-Laer Jr. and Scout Committeeman Robert Hornbeck. Local scouts attending include James Feth, Roy Hornbeck, Gary van-Laer, Gary Lynch, Thomas Lynch, Skip Doyne, Ronald Hall and James Davenport. Also attending were Stone Ridge Scouts Robert Taylor, Gary Bartle, David Connard, Dan Holly, Byron McCann, and Jimmy Snesith. On Sunday, the Troop attended church services in East Jewett.

The Circles of the Women's Guild for Christian Service of the High Falls Reformed Church are preparing for the annual fall and Christmas bazaar. The Day Circle meets very week on Wednesday from 9:0 a.m. to 2 p.m. and are working on baby quilts at present. Another project is the making of doll clothes of all sizes. Anyone willing to participate may contact Mrs. John Ham.

The Guild is sponsoring a penny social in the basement of the church Friday evening, March 8. Mrs. James Feth, Mrs. Edward Weber and Mrs. Betty Rask have charge of the event and are asking for donations of both new and used saleable articles.

Why We Say--

BENCH: The banking business has changed a great deal from the time it received its name. The first bankers were money changers in Venice. They spread out stacks of money on long benches or "bancos," thus the name banker was taken from the word bench.

Chichester

CHICHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. James Zimmerman visited his sister in Middletown Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Berryann and family of Lanesville and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick and daughter, Melanie, visited Mrs. Doris Sweet and children in Fleischmanns Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ostrander arrived home Thursday from Daytona Beach, Fla., where they had been vacationing for three weeks.

Bus Schedule Announced by Mental Health

The monthly bus trip to Middletown State Hospital, sponsored by the Ulster County Association for Mental Health will take place Sunday, Feb. 25.

The bus leaves from the Park Diner, Kingston, at 11:45 a.m.; from The Elms, Rosendale, at 12 noon; and from the Grand Union, North Chestnut Street, New Paltz, at 12:10 p.m. The bus returns to Kingston by 5:30 p.m., stopping as requested en route.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Edwin C. Shults, Saugerties, Mrs. Harriet Kerr, New Paltz, or from the office of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health in Kingston. The office is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A nominal charge is made, and there is also a small fund available to assist persons unable to cover the cost themselves.

Ball and Chain

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Bystanders immediately knew what Nancy Takata, 18, and Leonard Banks, 23, wanted when they walked into the office of the city clerk. Attached to Banks' ankle was a 40 pound ball and chain. Although it took only 20 minutes to get a marriage license it was more than an hour later before city employes succeeded in removing the binding chains which had been securely fastened by Banks' fellow workers.

Hold Klondike Derby

An inter-troop Klondike derby was conducted last weekend between Boy Scout Troop 10 of Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, Town of Ulster and Troop 11 of St. James Methodist Church, Kingston.

Each group was given 40 gold nuggets at the start of the day's activity. Nuggets were taken away as demerits as each patrol competed in the following scoutcraft subjects: compass degree reading, silent hand signals, trail signs, tent pitching, first aid, lashings, and knot tying.

The inter-troop activity was supervised by Richard Raible, Scoutmaster of Troop 11, Carlton Deyo, Scoutmaster of Troop 10; Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Fowler of Troop 10, Scout Father Theodore Pfieffer of Troop 10 and Frank Rockwell of Troop 11.

Preferred Customer

TULSA, Kla. (AP) — T. E. Lenon was flattered to receive a letter from a department store he patronized which began: "As one of our preferred customers, you are being sent this circular early so you may have first choice of the specials inside."

The envelope was addressed "Occupant."

Scout News

Phone Pioneer Explorer Post Given Charter

Scout Explorer Post 91, sponsored by the New York Telephone Pioneers, Kingston Club, was presented its Charter last week from the national office of the Boy Scouts of America.

The meeting, at Community Room of Britt's was opened by temporary President Norman Christie Jr. A report indicating that the membership stands at 50 Explorers with two applications pending was submitted.

President Christie introduced Alex MacDonald, scout executive of the Rip VanWinkle Council, who gave a brief summary of how the new Post evolved from plans set forth last year. He complimented the Post committee on its sacrifice of time and work to make the present program a successful one.

The Charter was passed to Santos Cali, the institutional representative, who forecast a fine future for the Post. He felt that the leadership being provided was of high caliber and that the boy members would greatly benefit by the experience to be gained. Robert Davis was introduced as committee chairman. Men working with him as committee members are Andrew Grier, John Machino, Mark Kachigan, George Flemming and William Maisenheder. Advisor to the Post will be Edward Safford. His associates are Allen Windelspecht and Richard DeWitt.

Explorer officers duly eleted by the Post were President — Gary Readler, Vice-President — Eric Bruck, Secretary — John Goerke and Treasurer — Bruce Hornbeck. After the new officers were installed by the Advisor Gary Murdock and Robert Greenburg were chosen as cabinet representatives.

The announcement was made that the Post would compete in the Council-wide Explorer Bowling Tournament in April. Future meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

Scouts Expand By 14 Units In Past Year

The Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council formed 14 new units last year in its drive to extend Scouting to all boys in Ulster and Greene counties no matter where they live.

This was made known today by Alan McCorkle, the Council's organization extension chairman, in conjunction with National Boy Scout Week.

The new units started last year included Pack No. 7 sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in Kingston; Pack 15 and Troop 15 sponsored by the Parents Club at the Emma Wygant School; Explorer Post 25 sponsored by IBM; Troop 65 sponsored by the Methodist Church in Samsonville; Explorer Post 90 sponsored by the Ulster County Medical Society; and Pack 27 and Troop 27 sponsored by the Dutch Arms Men's Club in Ellenville.

Also Troop 74 sponsored by the Gardiner Reformed Church and St. Charles Burremeo Church in Gardiner; Pack 77 sponsored by the New Paltz Methodist Church; Troop 54 sponsored by the Hunter-Tannersville Parent-Teacher Association in Hunter; Neighborhood Den 52 in Prattsville; Explorer Post 49 sponsored by the New York State Vocational Institution at West Coxsackie, and Explorer Post 72 sponsored by the Mohonk Bowmen in Marlboro.

Honor Leader

William Daum, Scoutmaster of Troop 9, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, was honored at the annual Scout Week dinner for his 35th year in scouting.

Participating in the program were the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, pastor, James Tyrrell of WKNY, guest speaker; Randy Wells, master of ceremonies and Richard Burns, assistant Scoutmaster who led the This Is Your Life tribute to Daum. The long time scouter was presented with Lamb and Silver Beaver Awards, as well as a special troop award given by Wilfred Ortiz, senior patrol leader.

At court of honor William Garrity and Ameous Lucas were admitted as tenderfoot scouts. The star rank was presented to Paul Markle.

Port Ewen Cubs Mark Birthday With Banquet

Service Stars were awarded as follows: Fred Becker, Wayne Bodie and Brian Secor, one year; William Brown, Michael Hendricks and Mark Sabatino, two years; Thomas Cornish, one year as Den Chief. A gold arrow went to John Genther, Michael Jordan and Peter Shultis. Silver arrow to Jordan. Michael Langton earned the first activity Badge or Webelos new program, the Naturalist Badge. Denner strips were earned by David Patrick and George Jordan with assistant denner strips to Rudy Schlicting and Brian Secor.

Phone Pioneer Explorer Post Given Charter

Scout Explorer Post 91, sponsored by the New York Telephone Pioneers, Kingston Club, was presented its Charter last week from the national office of the Boy Scouts of America.

The meeting, at Community Room of Britt's was opened by temporary President Norman Christie Jr. A report indicating that the membership stands at 50 Explorers with two applications pending was submitted.

President Christie introduced Alex MacDonald, scout executive of the Rip VanWinkle Council, who gave a brief summary of how the new Post evolved from plans set forth last year. He complimented the Post committee on its sacrifice of time and work to make the present program a successful one.

The Charter was passed to Santos Cali, the institutional representative, who forecast a fine future for the Post. He felt that the leadership being provided was of high caliber and that the boy members would greatly benefit by the experience to be gained. Robert Davis was introduced as committee chairman. Men working with him as committee members are Andrew Grier, John Machino, Mark Kachigan, George Flemming and William Maisenheder. Advisor to the Post will be Edward Safford. His associates are Allen Windelspecht and Richard DeWitt.

Explorer officers duly elected by the Post were President — Gary Readler, Vice-President — Eric Bruck, Secretary — John Goerke and Treasurer — Bruce Hornbeck. After the new officers were installed by the Advisor Gary Murdock and Robert Greenburg were chosen as cabinet representatives.

The announcement was made that the Post would compete in the Council-wide Explorer Bowling Tournament in April. Future meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

Scouts Expand By 14 Units In Past Year

The Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council formed 14 new units last year in its drive to extend Scouting to all boys in Ulster and Greene counties no matter where they live.

This was made known today by Alan McCorkle, the Council's organization extension chairman, in conjunction with National Boy Scout Week.

The new units started last year included Pack No. 7 sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in Kingston; Pack 15 and Troop 15 sponsored by the Parents Club at the Emma Wygant School; Explorer Post 25 sponsored by IBM; Troop 65 sponsored by the Methodist Church in Samsonville; Explorer Post 90 sponsored by the Ulster County Medical Society; and Pack 27 and Troop 27 sponsored by the Dutch Arms Men's Club in Ellenville.

Also Troop 74 sponsored by the Gardiner Reformed Church and St. Charles Burremeo Church in Gardiner; Pack 77 sponsored by the New Paltz Methodist Church; Troop 54 sponsored by the Hunter-Tannersville Parent-Teacher Association in Hunter; Neighborhood Den 52 in Prattsville; Explorer Post 49 sponsored by the New York State Vocational Institution at West Coxsackie, and Explorer Post 72 sponsored by the Mohonk Bowmen in Marlboro.

Honor Leader

William Daum, Scoutmaster of Troop 9, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, was honored at the annual Scout Week dinner for his 35th year in scouting.

Participating in the program were the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, pastor, James Tyrrell of WKNY, guest speaker; Randy Wells, master of ceremonies and Richard Burns, assistant Scoutmaster who led the This Is Your Life tribute to Daum. The long time scouter was presented with Lamb and Silver Beaver Awards, as well as a special troop award given by Wilfred Ortiz, senior patrol leader.

At court of honor William Garrity and Ameous Lucas were admitted as tenderfoot scouts. The star rank was presented to Paul Markle.

Port Ewen Cubs Mark Birthday With Banquet

Service Stars were awarded as follows: Fred Becker, Wayne Bodie and Brian Secor, one year; William Brown, Michael Hendricks and Mark Sabatino, two years; Thomas Cornish, one year as Den Chief. A gold arrow went to John Genther, Michael Jordan and Peter Shultis. Silver arrow to Jordan. Michael Langton earned the first activity Badge or Webelos new program, the Naturalist Badge. Denner strips were earned by David Patrick and George Jordan with assistant denner strips to Rudy Schlicting and Brian Secor.

Red Hook Winners

Nine seniors at Red Hook Central School have been notified that they have been awarded New York State Regents Scholarships.

The recipients of these awards are Thomas J. Fisher, Robert F. Gueldner III, Stanley C. Jacoby, Henry C. Liebold, Steven M. Melley, Judith A. Mulvey, John Perz, William F. Scully, and Mark P. Townsend.

Hold Klondike Derby

An inter-troop Klondike derby was conducted last weekend between Boy Scout Troop 10 of Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, Town of Ulster and Troop 11 of St. James Methodist Church, Kingston.

Each group was given 40 gold nuggets at the start of the day's activity. Nuggets were taken away as demerits as each patrol competed in the following scoutcraft subjects: compass degree reading, silent hand signals, trail signs, tent pitching, first aid, lashings, and knot tying.

The inter-troop activity was supervised by Richard Raible, Scoutmaster of Troop 11, Carlton Deyo, Scoutmaster of Troop 10; Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Fowler of Troop 10, Scout Father Theodore Pfieffer of Troop 10 and Frank Rockwell of Troop 11.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is depicted by White House visitors as quietly confident that diplomacy eventually will win release of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo's crew.

In the face of a new North Korean threat to try the 82 surviving crew members, Johnson was said to believe a way will be found to reach a settlement after the other side has had its day of blustering.

Warns of War

In Moscow Tuesday, Zang Ie Zoon, counselor of the North Korean Embassy, told a news conference the Pueblo's crew will be punished and any American reprisals would bring immediate war.

The United States already had warned that any punishment would be a "deliberate aggravation" of the crisis. The North Korean diplomat said the ship's personnel, "having committed crimes in one country, will get the punishment provided by that country."

"If the American imperialists dare to make reprisals, then war will break out immediately," he said.

These threats seem to be regarded at the White House as a part of the game when dealing with the Communists. More important, it was said, was that after early shouting sessions at Panmunjom some real negotiating now is going on.

The State Department confirmed the eighth meeting on the Pueblo case was held at Panmunjom, but declined to give details of the session.

Johnson's course has been to try to cool South Korean demands for retaliation while efforts are made to reach some accommodation with the Communists. Even though the trip to South Korea of his personal representative Cyrus R. Vance, was only partially successful in this respect, the administration's feeling is that time may help in the solution of this particular phase of the problem.

Johnson reviewed the Pueblo matter, along with Vietnam and other international problems at a 90-minute White House session Monday night with the Senate's party leaders.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declined to disclose the substance of the talks.

By GERRY McLAUGHLIN

ALBANY N.Y. (AP) A settlement appeared to be in sight today in the months-long dispute over the new penal law's restrictions on the rights of police and private citizens to shoot at suspected criminals .

With most members assenting, the Legislature's codes committees agreed Tuesday on legislation designed to clear up objections of policemen and others on provisions of the law involving use of "deadly force."

Police responded promptly by calling off a planned protest march on the capital of 2,000 members of the Police Conference of New York in connection with the existing statute.

Predicts Approval

At the same time, Senate Codes Chairman Edward J. Speno predicted legislative approval of the measure cleared by the Assembly and Senate Codes committees.

From the man-on-the-beat to the highest ranking officers, police in many communities have complained that provisions in the new law limit their right to fire at criminals and thus leaves them vulnerable to attack.

Others dissatisfied with the law have complained about the provision restricting the right of householders to use "deadly physical force" against intruders.

Assembly Codes Chairman Alexander Chananau, D-Bronx, and Speno, a Nassau County Republican, told newsmen that the Legislature's high command, Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, had approved their legislation.

Speno also expressed confidence that the revisions would be accepted by the Bartlett Commission a panel of prominent lawmakers, legal experts and other citizens that drafted the new penal law.

Until last Sept. 1, when the new law went into effect, police were empowered to fire at any fleeing felon. Now however, the new law stipulates that a policeman or a citizen can use "deadly physical force" only if he believed the suspected criminal has used or is threatening to use deadly physical force himself in carrying out a crime or in fleeing.

Parallels Recommendations

That would be changed by the codes committees' bill to permit a policeman or citizen to employ "deadly force" against a felon who has used or threatened to use "any" kind of force —deadly or otherwise.

This provision parallels one advanced by the Bartlett Commission last month.

Another codes provision running along lines suggested by the Bartlett Commission is one that would allow a policeman to shoot at a suspected criminal armed with any kind of weapon.

Under the old penal law, homeowners were allowed to shoot at an intruder to prevent him from committing a felony, —burglary, arson or rape, for instance. The new law, however, stipulates that the householder may not use "deadly physical force" unless he has "reasonably belief" that the intruder is about to use such force on him.

The codes committees' bill would allow the occupant of a dwelling or any other premise to use deadly force "when he reasonably believes such to be necessary to prevent or terminate" a criminal intrusion—regardless of whether the intruder was ready to use force.

This approach differs somewhat from the Bartlett Commission recommendation. The commission proposed easing the new law to permit use of such force when the occupant was "in fear" of physical force by an intruder.

As a further revision, the codes committees suggested authorization for use of deadly force against an arsonist even if he did not actually invade the property.

The two chairmen said that 29 of the 36 members of their two committees had agreed to united in sponsoring the bill.

Of the remaining seven, Chananau reported some, thought the bill amounted to revival of the old law, while others thought it was still too restrictive.

Urbanaid Help Not Enough

By ALLAN WOLPER

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The firm front put up by New York mayors in support of Mayor John V. Lindsay's Urbanaid plan won't be enough to get it legislative approval.

Spokesmen for Gov. Rockefeller and Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges said the tax sharing plan would have to be accompanied by a revenue-raising device to make up for the money the state would have to turn over to local municipalities.

The Urban aid plan would guarantee the state's cities a 27.5 per cent share of the state income taxes, replacing the existing per capita aid program.

Lindsay has said that the program would produce more than $500 million for the cities, including $220 million for New York City.

Mayors from 11 smaller cities Tuesday unanimously endorsed the Urbanaid plan after Lindsay addressed them at a special conference in Schenectady.

But Lindsay did not wax optimisim. He told newsmen at a news conference after the meeting that the proposal might be a "little ahead of its time."

The problem with the proposal, according to legislative leaders, is that it promotes a state aid program for the cities without coming up with a way for the state to get additional revenues to balance its budget.

Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson said said 64 per cent of the income tax revenue now goes back to the cities in various aid formulas.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said the plan "was totally unrealistic. If they want the plan they (the mayors) should plead with their constituents for higher taxes."

The mayors who endorsed the plan were from Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, Elmira, Ithaca, New Rochelle, Rome, roy Utica, White Plains and Schenectady.

Lindsay has said he would cut back on virtually every city service unless the state provides him with an additional $332 million in revenue to balance his $6 billion budget.

Annual Church Conference At Overlook

Overlook Methodist Church will hold its annual church conference on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p. m. at which time the annual reports of officers and commissions will be presented and election of officers for the current year will be held. The, district superintendent, Dr. John E. Carrington will preside at the business meeting. All members of the congregation are invited to attend.

On Feb. 25, the Rev. James W. Cook, will lead the congregation in a recognition service for church school teachers and staff. His sermon topic will be: "What's a Nice Church Like Ours Doing Mixing With Social Issues?" At 6:30 p. m. the Social Concerns Commission, with Mrs. Kenton Knickmeyer, chairman, will sponsor a "talk-in" to which all members of the church are invited.

On Feb. 18, Rev. Cook baptized Alexandra Helene West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald West, of Mead Mt. Road.

DIES—District Judge Joe B. Brown, 60, who presided at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, died late Tuesday. He had suffered a heart attack earlier in the day. Brown was widely criticized for the way he conducted the Ruby trial in 1964. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Democrats Set Fund Raising Fete in March

A buffet dinner will kick off the 1968 season for the Ulster County Democrats according to announcement made today by Gerald P. Gorman, county chairman.

The fund raising event will be held at the Fallsview Hotel, Ellenville, March 24. The social hour will begin at 4:30 with dinner to be served 5:30 p. m.

Committees for the dinner-dance are James Keefe, chairman; Rose Hogan and Harriet Kerr, entertainment; John Hogan and John O. Bonila, tickets; Martha France and James McCardle, publicity; and Frank Costello, special events.

Anyone wishing tickets may contact Hogan or Bonilla.

Young Dems Slate Forum

The Young Democrats of Ulster County announce that they will sponsor a public forum on March 6 to illuminate the issues surrounding the proposed therapeutic abortion bill now placed before the State Legislature.

The basic format of the discussion will be a debate between Assemblyman Albert H. Blumenthal, the primary author and sponsor of the bill now pending in the Legislature, and Louis J. Dolan, a prominent New York City and Rockland County attorney who is opposed to the bill.

Both of these gentlemen will present a ten minute opening statement which briefly outlines their opposing viewpoints; they will then be subjected to questioning by a panel composed of local leaders from the fields of religion, law and medicine. Questions asked will pertain to the morality of abortion, the legal rights of the unborn vs. the rights of the mother, and the medical feasibility and propriety of such a law.

John C. Frankle, chairman of the Ulster County Young Democrats, emphasizes that the forum will not be politically oriented. It is intended to help the people of the Hudson Valley make a clearer, more knowledgeable personal decision regarding the issue of abortion.

Details concerning the time and place of the forum, as well as background information relating to Blumenthal, Dolan and other members of the panel, will be forthcoming.

Heritage Homes Notes Increase

He reported that Heritage Homes, represented by 26 builders throughout New England and Eastern New York, recorded a 13 per cent increase in 1967.

"Sales of components for new homes passed $1 million for the first time and these figures translate into $3,000,000 of completed homes," Tierney said. Featured speaker at the sales and business meeting was Stanley Edge, Washington, D. C., nationally recognized authority on sales management and marketing in the home building industry.

"Norm" Tierney's Homes offers a wide range of Heritage Homes for construction on individual lots. Basic components are built in the Heritage plant in Westfield, assembled on site and completed by local craftsmen.

Commenting on reports of tight mortgage money in some areas of the country, Tierney said this problem is experienced more by the speculative tract and apartment builder. "There are no signs that the custom home mortgage field will be tighter in 1968," he said. "We look forward to continued growth locally, again in 1968 since the response to Heritage models has been excellent."

15 Day Sentence

Arrested in January in connection with an alleged assault, Ramon Rodriquez, 38, of 172 Center Street, Ellenville, was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to third degree assault before Ellenville Police Justice Ronald Rose. Rodriquez was accused of assaulting Alberta Smith of Oak Ridge, on Jan. 4. He also faces a first degree assault charge which accused him of stabbing the woman during an altercation in a tavern on Jan. 14. The woman is still under treatment at Ellenville Community Hospital.

DIES—District Judge Joe B. Brown, 60, who presided at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, died late Tuesday. He had suffered a heart attack earlier in the day. Brown was widely criticized for the way he conducted the Ruby trial in 1964. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Democrats Set Fund Raising Fete in March

A buffet dinner will kick off the 1968 season for the Ulster County Democrats according to announcement made today by Gerald P. Gorman, county chairman.

The fund raising event will be held at the Fallsview Hotel, Ellenville, March 24. The social hour will begin at 4:30 with dinner to be served 5:30 p. m.

Committees for the dinner-dance are James Keefe, chairman; Rose Hogan and Harriet Kerr, entertainment; John Hogan and John O. Bonilla, tickets; Martha France and James McCardle, publicity; and Frank Costello, special events.

Anyone wishing tickets may contact Hogan or Bonilla.

Young Dems Slate Forum

The Young Democrats of Ulster County announce that they will sponsor a public forum on March 6 to illuminate the issues surrounding the proposed therapeutic abortion bill now placed before the State Legislature.

The basic format of the discussion will be a debate between Assemblyman Albert H. Blumenthal, the primary author and sponsor of the bill now pending in the Legislature, and Louis J. Dolan, a prominent New York City and Rockland County attorney who is opposed to the bill.

Both of these gentlemen will present a ten minute opening statement which briefly outlines their opposing viewpoints; they will then be subjected to questioning by a panel composed of local leaders from the fields of religion, law and medicine. Questions asked will pertain to the morality of abortion, the legal rights of the unborn vs. the rights of the mother, and the medical feasibility and propriety of such a law.

John C. Frankle, chairman of the Ulster County Young Democrats, emphasizes that the forum will not be politically oriented. It is intended to help the people of the Hudson Valley make a clearer, more knowledgeable personal decision regarding the issue of abortion.

Details concerning the time and place of the forum, as well as background information relating to Blumenthal, Dolan and other members of the panel, will be forthcoming.

Heritage Homes Notes Increase

He reported that Heritage Homes, represented by 26 builders throughout New England and Eastern New York, recorded a 15 per cent increase in 1967.

"Sales of components for new homes passed $1 million for the first time and these figures translate into $3,000,000 of completed homes," Tierney said. Featured speaker at the sales and business meeting was Stanley Edge, Washington, D. C. nationally recognized authority on sales management and marketing in the home building industry.

"Norm" Tierney's Homes offers a wide range of Heritage Homes for construction on individual lots. Basic components are built in the Heritage plant in Westfield, assembled on site and completed by local craftsmen.

Commenting on reports of tight mortgage money in some areas of the country, Tierney said this problem is experienced more by the speculative tract and apartment builder. "There are no signs that the custom home mortgage field will be tighter in 1968," he said. "We look forward to continued growth locally, again in 1968 since the response to Heritage models has been excellent."

15 Day Sentence

Arrested in January in connection with an alleged assault, Ramon Rodriquez, 38, of 172 Center Street, Ellenville, was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to third degree assault before Ellenville Police Justice Ronald Elias. Rodriquez was accused of assaulting Alberta Smith of Oak Ridge, on Jan. 4. He also faces a first degree assault charge which accused him of stabbing the woman during an altercation in a tavern on Jan. 14. The woman is still under treatment at Ellenville Community Hospital.

Press Pledges Court Fight Over the ABA

By BARRY SCHWEID

CHICAGO (AP) At the moment, the American Bar Association's press-trial standards are what ABA officials have insisted all along they be called—recommendations.

Undoubtedly, they will encourage judges, lawyers and policemen to limit the flow of information to the public about arrests and trials. In fact, the ABA discovered, some already have.

Eventually, though, in the words of one top news official: Publishers will go to court "to prove that prior restraint on official news sources amounts to censorship in advance in violation of the First Amendment."

Only after this court fight, predicted by J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, will it be known if the standards will stick.

Will Forward Proposals

Immediately in the offing is this: The proposed restrictions on what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say about a pending criminal case will be forwarded to an ABA committee that is in the process of revising the organization's ethics code.

ABA President Earl F. Morris expects the first draft of the new code to be ready next summer and the final version, he hopes, will be presented to the House of Delegates for adoption a year from now.

Morris says the standards then would be binding on the members of the ABA. This includes about 120,000 practicing lawyers.

He and Bernard G. Segal, a Philadelphia lawyer who will become ABA president in August 1969, expect state bar associations to generally follow suit, adopting the ABA codes as their own.

Also, Morris says, in some areas state supreme courts probably would adopt rules along these lines.

The result of all this would be that from then on, from arrest through trial, lawyers who gave out certain information or expressed their opinions publicly about a case would run a risk of reprimand, suspension or even disbarment.

But Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, emphasizes that "neither the ABA nor the House of Delegates makes the law."

And, he says, "House of Delegates action has only advisory, not compulsory, force at the state and local level."

As for the bulk of the ABA proposals, Morris says, "implementation depends on police departments, state courts and possibly state legislatures."

These proposals deal with the conduct of police officials, judges and court officials, with use of the contempt power by judges, and suggest closing some court proceedings to the press and public.

It is in these areas — particularly the exclusion of the public and the press, at the request of the defendant's lawyer, from pretrial hearings and portions of the trial itself—that there are likely to be court fights.

Justice Bernard S. Mayer of the New York State Supreme Court, a member of the ABA's Fair Trial-Free Press Committee, told the House of Delegates "there is no absolute right of the press to be present at all stages of the criminal process."

And the head of the committee, Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, speaking of his report on the whole, said it could be carried out "without in any true sense damaging constitutional freedoms."

Hu Blonk, chairman of The Associated Press Managing Editors' Freedom of Information Committee, says it is probably unconstitutional to bar newsmen from preliminary hearings or parts of a trial "at the whim" of the defendant's attorney.

Unconstitutional Action

Blonk, managing editor of the Wenatchee, Wash., Daily World, thinks that if the judicial branch tried to force restrictions on police, courts would declare the action unconstitutional.

Similarly, Murray says there probably will be a case testing "the disputed power of either courts or legislatures to compel compliance of the police, who are members of the executive branch, in violation of the principle of separation of powers."

And Michael J. Ogden, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, says that letting the policeman, rather than the editor, decide what the public needs to be told about a crime "could only result in prior restraint on news sources, certainly in violation of the spirit of the 1st Amendment."

Caldor Arrest

Ilona N. Vaeth, 36, of RD 2, Woodland Acres, Saugerties, was arrested Tuesday by Security Officer Herbert O'Brien at Caldor's on a petit larceny charge. O'Brien said the woman allegedly stole merchandise valued at $14.85. Arraigned before Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly, the woman pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and received a 30-day suspended sentence, according to the arresting officer.

Press Pledges Court Fight Over the ABA

By BARRY SCHWEID

CHICAGO (AP) At the moment, the American Bar Association's press-trial standards are what ABA officials have insisted all along they be called—recommendations.

Undoubtedly, they will encourage judges, lawyers and policemen to limit the flow of information to the public about arrests and trials. In fact, the ABA discovered, some already have.

Eventually, though, in the words of one top news official: Publishers will go to court "to prove that prior restraint on official news sources amounts to censorship in advance in violation of the First Amendment."

Only after this court fight, predicted by J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, will it be known if the standards will stick.

Will Forward Proposals

Immediately in the offing is this: The proposed restrictions on what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say about a pending criminal case will be forwarded to an ABA committee that is in the process of revising the organization's ethics code.

ABA President Earl F. Morris expects the first draft of the new code to be ready next summer and the final version, he hopes, will be presented to the House of Delegates for adoption a year from now.

Morris says the standards then would be binding on the members of the ABA. This includes about 190,000 practicing lawyers.

He and Bernard G. Segal, a Philadelphia lawyer who will become ABA president in August 1969, expect state bar associations to generally follow suit, adopting the ABA codes as their own.

Also, Morris says, in some areas state supreme courts probably would adopt rules along these lines.

The result of all this would be that from then on, from arrest through trial, lawyers who gave out certain information or expressed their opinions publicly about a case would run a risk of reprimand, suspension or even disbarment.

But Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, emphasizes that "neither the ABA nor the House of Delegates makes the law."

And, he says, "House of Delegates action has only advisory, not compulsory, force at the state and local level."

As for the bulk of the ABA proposals, Morris says, "implementation depends on police departments, state courts and possibly state legislatures."

These proposals deal with the conduct of police officials, judges and court officials, with use of the contempt power by judges, and suggest closing some court proceedings to the press and public.

It is in these areas — particularly the exclusion of the public and the press, at the request of the defendant's lawyer, from pretrial hearings and portions of the trial itself—that there are likely to be court fights.

Justice Bernard S. Mayer of the New York Stat e Supreme Court, a member of the ABA's Fair Trial-Free Press Committee, told the House of Delegates "there is no absolute right of the press to be present at all stages of the criminal process."

And the head of the committee, Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, speaking of his report on the whole, said it could be carried out "without in any true sense damaging constitutional freedoms."

Unconstitutional Action

Blonk, managing editor of the Wenatchee, Wash., Daily World, thinks that if the judicial branch tried to force restrictions on police, courts would declare the action unconstitutional.

Similarly, Murray says there probably will be a case testing "the disputed power of either courts or legislatures to compel compliance of the police, who are members of the executive branch, in violation of the principle of separation of powers."

And Michael J. Ogden, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, says that letting the policeman, rather than the editor, decide what the public needs to be told about a crime "could only result in prior restraint on news sources, certainly in violation of the spirit of the 1st Amendment."

Caldor Arrest

Ilona N. Vaeth, 36, of RD 2, Woodland Acres, Saugerties, was arrested Tuesday by Security Officer Herbert O'Brien at Caldor's on a petit larceny charge. O'Brien said the woman allegedly stole merchandise valued at $14.85. Arraigned before Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly, the woman pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and received a 30-day suspended sentence, according to the arresting officer.

The Medicaid Slash Heads for Oblivion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate - approved plan to chop about $302 million from the medicaid program — cutting it in half — was consigned today to Assembly oblivion.

Speaker Anthony J. Travia, who wields decisive influence over legislation in his house, told The Associated Press that 'under no circumstances" could he accept the Senate plan.

Not the Answer: Travia

"We may do something about medicaid," Travia said, "but this isn't it."

Thus the 2-hour, 20-minute debate staged in the Senate Tuesday, when the Republican majority rammed through their medicaid-cutback bill, appeared to be only an exercise.

The Senate's Democratic minority howled in protest as Republicans insisted on narrowing the scope of the program they espoused only two years ago, a program that became an anathema to cost - conscious communities upstate.

Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki pulled out all the stops in protesting the GOP decision to retrench the fledging program of health services for New York residents deemed "medically indigent."

"How can you be so devastatingly cruel?" Zaretzki cried.

"In my 21 years in this house," he said, "I've never seen anything so rotten, so contemptible, so mean, so low..."

But the GOP majority had more than enough votes to force passage of the medicaid bill drafted in response to complaints that the program was draining tax resources upstate.

Among other things, the measure would deny nearly all benefits to New York residents in the 21-through-64 age group. It also would lower the income-eligibility level for medicaid sharply.

Other Developments

— Travia announced that he would sponsor a bill recommended by Rockefeller to encourage construction of more nursing homes. It would establish a $2-million revolving fund, from which loans would be made to help non-profit groups sponsor new nursing homes.

— A Senate subcommittee studying operations of the Family Court reported that more and better paid probation workers were needed to speed the work of the court.

Travia, who consistently has opposed Republican efforts to cut back the medicaid program, said he was "unimpressed" by the action of the Republican - controlled Senate.

"I've said all along," he commented, "that we should defer action until we see where this medicaid problem fits into the entire budget picture."

It may take several weeks more before the Legislature decides what to do about Rockefeller's proposed $5.5 - billion budget and his request for $494 million in state tax increases to help finance it.

Travia said his Democratic majority eventually might approve some changes in the medicaid program "but nothing like this" — the Republican plan.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was aided by some impressive earnings statements as it advanced early Wednesday in fairly active trading.

International Nickel reported record indicated fourth quarter earnings and United Aircraft reported fourth quarter profits up 54.6 per cent from a year earlier.

Each stock was up more than a point.

Gains of a point or more were posted also by RCA, Control Data, Eastman Kodak, Xerox and Liggett & Myers. Texas Gulf Sulphur advanced about 2.

Benguet eased fractionally.

Moderate gains were made by "Automatic" Sprinkler, American Photocopy, American Motors, Eastern Air Lines and Roan Selection Trust.

The market was extending a technical rally into the third straight session even though on Washington's Birthday Thursday markets will close, a normal reason for caution. A decline in durable goods orders and a decline in the short interest were other reasons for restraint.

Opening blocks included:

American Motors, up at 12⅞ on 12,000 shares; Gulf & Western, unchanged at 47½ on 10,100; Litton Industries, 70⅝ at 70⅝ on 6,300; and American Cyanamid, unchanged at 24⅛ on 5,500.

Six Adventurers Head for North Pole

Led by Ralph Plaisted, a St. Paul insurance man, the expedition of five Americans and one Canadian hopes to become the first to reach the Pole by surface since Adm. Robert Peary made it in 1909.

Peary made the trip by dogsled. Plaisted and his crew will use snowmobiles.

Plaisted failed to complete the trip last year when his expedition was forced to turn back in May after 38 days, 370 miles from the Pole.

His reason for attempting the difficult and dangerous polar trek a second time is simple: "It's there and the challange is ours. Even if we fail, we have more satisfaction than those who remain in the gray area—the warm house, the television set—or those who never try and can never know success or failure."

Accompanying Plaisted are a pathologist, a geography instructor and three engineers. They are amateur explorers, but they are not inexperienced.

In addition to the experience they gained on last year's attempt, they have been training on weekends since December in the frozen muskeg and timber of northern Minnesota.

With Plaisted on the trip will be Donald E. Powellek, 40, of St. Paul; Arthur C. Aufderheide, 43, of Duluth; Gerald R. Pitzl, 34, of St. Paul; Jean Luc Bombardier, 29, of Montreal and Walter H. Pederson 40, of St. Cloud, Minn.

Plaisted said the first expedition was defeated by blizzards and the spring ice breakup. Since then Plaisted has trimmed the size of his party from eight to six, lightened the load, reduced the number of snowmobiles from eight to four and increased the machine's horsepower from 10 to 16.

The crew hopes to start over the ice cap by March 1 from their base camp at Ward Hunt Island. That would give them a 29-day headstart over last year and they would be 200 miles farther north than last year's start at Eureka, Northwest Territories.

The starting point will leave the expedition a zigzag trip of about 600 miles across the top of the world to the Pole.

Successful Investing....

When Income Is Adequate Build Up Growth Position

Q—We are both 68, retired, with our home clear and adequate insurance. Annual income from pension is $8,400 plus Social Security. Savings total $16,000. We own $22,000 in bonds and 11 stocks on list enclosed. We will have about $1,000 available for investment this year and would like to increase our holdings in the above stocks. What are your suggestions?—P.O.

A—It is a genuine pleasure for me to encounter a couple so well situated as you are in retirement. Your Telephone, Pacific Gas & Electric and Textron bonds are satisfactory. All your stocks are of good quality, but some—such as Allied Chemical and National Lead—seem better situated for yield than for growth. Since your overall income appears more than adequate, I suggest you strengthen the growth section of your list in the expectation that stocks of his caliber will protect you over a period of time from continued dollar erosion, which seems inevitable. I would add to IBM; Sears, Roebuck; and American Telephone, which I consider oversold at current levels.

Q—Can I buy government bonds to yield as much as 5 per cent? I have E bonds but would like now to get something to yield more. I do not want to buy stocks.—G.B.

A—The highest rate obtainable from government bonds or notes at recent levels is about .7 per cent. You could get this yield (figured to maturity) on the Treasury ¾s due 1974 which have been selling around 100½. You can do a little better on good corporate bonds. Jersey Standard 6s due 1997 were selling recently to yield 6 per cent to maturity. They are nonredeemable as a whole until 1977. A yield of 6.0 per cent could be obtained from American Can 6s of 1997 which cannot be redeemed before 1977. Both of these issues would give you a satisfactory degree of security and good call protection.

along the Communists' supply route and, once it falls, the soldiers would move to seal off the last enemy approach to Hue.

The Communists still hold all of the Citadel's south wall, much of the west wall, and control sections south, east and west of the Citadel, despite the efforts of 4,000 allied troops to dislodge them.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have reported killing 3,000 enemy soldiers since the Communists seized most of Hue Jan. 31 in the lunar new year's offensive against 35 cities and towns.

About 100 Marines have been killed and many more wounded. Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the 1st Corps area, said 400 of his troops had been killed and 700 wounded in and around the Citadel.

Lam claimed 85 per cent of the 1½-mile-square Citadel was in allied hands and said the rest could be taken in three or four days once the weather cleared enough for allied planes to operate.

South Vietnamese Marines reported that in three sharp clashes Tuesday they killed 32 Communist troops just outside the Citadel, while U.S. Marines edging along the northeast wall said they killed another 33 enemy troops.

Sporadic fighting continued in Saigon's western and northeastern suburbs, and U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 173 Viet Cong there Tuesday and Wednesday.

Communist gunners also kept up sporadic rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon's sprawling Tan Son Nhut Air Base. A 122mm rocket hit a civilian construction firm complex in the base about noon, but no casualties or damage were reported. Four and a half hours later three rocket or mortar rounds hit the base, two of them near the control tower, but there was no immediate report of damage or casualties.

Vietnamese Rangers, skirmishing off and on with guerrillas around the Phu Tho racetrack on Saigon's western fringe, killed another 18 guerrillas in a sharp fight today and found the bodies of three South Vietnamese plainclothes policemen who apparently had been executed by the Viet Cong. Their hands were tied behind their backs, they were blindfolded, and they had been shot through the head.

Trooper Drive On Dope Aimed At Big Areas

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Police drive ordered by Gov. Rockefeller against dope traffic will be concentrated on New York City and other large metropolitan areas "to root out the big boys," he says.

Elaborating on his order Tuesday, the governor said that the campaign would proceed with available manpower but that additional troopers he has requested would be employed "in large part" in the fight against narcotics.

In his budget message to the legislature last month, Rockefeller asked for funds to add 550 men to the present force of 3,000.

State Police usually do not step into city investigations unless requested to do so by local authorities. But Rockefeller told reporters Tuesday that "we have got to supplement the local and federal agents" in the war against illegal narcotics.

In reference to New York City, he said, "We have been working with city officials... and they can use all the help they can get."

The Medicaid Slash Heads for Oblivion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate - approved plan to chop about $302 million from the medicaid program — cutting it in half — was consigned today to Assembly oblivion.

Speaker Anthony J. Travia, who wields decisive influence over legislation in his house, told The Associated Press that 'under no circumstances" could he accept the Senate plan.

Not the Answer: Travia

"We may do something about medicaid," Travia said, "but this isn't it."

Thus the 2-hour, 20-minute debate staged in the Senate Tuesday, when the Republican majority rammed through their medicaid-cutback bill, appeared to be only an exercise.

The Senate's Democratic minority howled in protest as Republicans insisted on narrowing the scope of the program they espoused only two years ago, a program that became an anathema to cost - conscious communities upstate.

Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki pulled out all the stops in protesting the GOP decision to retrench the fledging program of health services for New York residents deemed "medically indigent."

"How can you be so devastatingly cruel?" Zaretzki cried.

"In my 21 years in this house,' he said, "I've never seen anything so rotten, so contemptible, so mean, so low..."

But the GOP majority had more than enough votes to force passage of the medicaid bill drafted in response to complaints that the program was draining tax resources upstate.

Among other things, the measure would deny nearly all benefits to New York residents in the 21-through-64 age group. It also would lower the income-eligibility level for medicaid sharply.

Other Developments

— Travia announced that he would sponsor a bill recommended by Rockefeller to encourage construction of more nursing homes. It would establish a $2-million revolving fund, from which loans would be made to help non-profit groups sponsor new nursing homes.

— A Senate subcommittee studying operations of the Family Court reported that more and better paid probation workers were needed to speed the work of the court.

Travia, who consistently has opposed Republican efforts to cut back the medicaid program, said he was "unimpressed" by the action of the Republican - controlled Senate.

"I've said all along," he commented, "that we should defer action until we see where this medicaid problem fits into the entire budget picture."

It may take several weeks more before the Legislature decides what to do about Rockefeller's proposed $5.5 - billion budget and his request for $494 million in state tax increases to help finance it.

Travia said his Democratic majority eventually might approve some changes in the medicaid program "but nothing like this" — the Republican plan.

When Income Is Adequate Build Up Growth Position

Q—We are both 68, retired, with our home clear and adequate insurance. Annual income from pension is $8,400 plus Social Security. Savings total $16,000. We own $22,000 in bonds and 11 stocks on list enclosed. We will have about $1,000 available for investment this year and would like to increase our holdings in the above stocks. What are your suggestions?—P.O.

A—It is a genuine pleasure for me to encounter a couple so well situated as you are in retirement. Your Telephone, Pacific Gas & Electric and Textron bonds are satisfactory. All your stocks are of good quality, but some—such as Allied Chemical and National Lead—seem better situated for yield than for growth. Since your overall income appears more than adequate, I suggest you strengthen the growth section of your list in the expectation that stocks of his caliber will protect you over a period of time from continued dollar erosion, which seems inevitable. I would add to IBM; Sears, Roebuck; and American Telephone, which I consider oversold at current levels.

Q—Can I buy government bonds to yield as much as 5 per cent? I have E bonds but would like now to get something to yield more. I do not want to buy stocks.—G.B.

A—The highest rate obtainable from government bonds or notes at recent levels is about .7 per cent. You could get this yield (figured to maturity) on the Treasury ¾s due 1974 which have been selling around 100½. You can do a little better on good corporate bonds. Jersey Standard 6s due 1997 were selling recently to yield 6 per cent to maturity. They are nonredeemable as a whole until 1977. A yield of 6.0 per cent could be obtained from American Can 6s of 1997 which cannot be redeemed before 1977. Both of these issues would give you a satisfactory degree of security and good call protection.

along the Communists' supply route and, once it falls, the soldiers would move to seal off the last enemy approach to Hue.

The Communists still hold all of the Citadel's south wall, much of the west wall, and control sections south, east and west of the Citadel, despite the efforts of 4,000 allied troops to dislodge them.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops have reported killing 3,000 enemy soldiers since the Communists seized most of Hue Jan. 31 in the lunar new year's offensive against 35 cities and towns.

About 100 Marines have been killed and many more wounded. Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the 1st Corps area, said 400 of his troops had been killed and 700 wounded in and around the Citadel.

Lam claimed 85 per cent of the 1½-mile-square Citadel was in allied hands and said the rest could be taken in three or four days once the weather cleared enough for allied planes to operate.

South Vietnamese Marines reported that in three sharp clashes Tuesday they killed 32 Communist troops just outside the Citadel, while U.S. Marines edging along the northeast wall said they killed another 33 enemy troops.

Sporadic fighting continued in Saigon's western and northeastern suburbs, and U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 173 Viet Cong there Tuesday and Wednesday.

Communist gunners also kept up sporadic rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon's sprawling Tan Son Nhut Air Base. A 122mm rocket hit a civilian construction firm complex in the base about noon, but no casualties or damage were reported. Four and a half hours later three rocket or mortar rounds hit the base, two of them near the control tower, but there was no immediate report of damage or casualties.

Vietnamese Rangers, skirmishing off and on with guerrillas around the Phu Tho racetrack on Saigon's western fringe, killed another 18 guerrillas in a sharp fight today and found the bodies of three South Vietnamese plainclothes policemen who apparently had been executed by the Viet Cong. Their hands were tied behind their backs, they were blindfolded, and they had been shot through the head.

Trooper Drive On Dope Aimed At Big Areas

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Police drive ordered by Gov. Rockefeller against dope traffic will be concentrated on New York City and other large metropolitan areas "to root out the big boys," he says.

Elaborating on his order Tuesday, the governor said that the campaign would proceed with available manpower but that additional troopers he has requested would be employed "in large part" in the fight against narcotics.

In his budget message to the legislature last month, Rockefeller asked for funds to add 550 men to the present force of 3,000.

State Police usually do not step into city investigations unless requested to do so by local authorities. But Rockefeller told reporters Tuesday that "we have got to supplement the local and federal agents" in the war against illegal narcotics.

In reference to New York City, he said, "We have been working with city officials... and they can use all the help they can get."

Children's Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Tuesday 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. The public health nurse at the Ulster County Health Department may be contacted for appointments and further information between 9 and 10 a. m. Monday through Friday.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was aided by some impressive earnings statements as it advanced early Wednesday in fairly active trading.

International Nickel reported record indicated fourth quarter earnings and United Aircraft reported fourth quarter profits up 54.6 per cent from a year earlier.

Each stock was up more than a point.

Gains of a point or more were posted also by RCA, Control Data, Eastman Kodak, Xerox and Liggett & Myers. Texas Gulf Sulphur advanced about 2.

Benguet eased fractionally.

Moderate gains were made by "Automatic" Sprinkler, American Photocopy, American Motors, Eastern Air Lines and Roan Selection Trust.

The market was extending a technical rally into the third straight session even though on Washington's Birthday Thursday markets will close, a normal reason for caution. A decline in durable goods orders and a decline in the short interest were other reasons for restraint.

Opening blocks included:

American Motors, up at 12⅞ on 12,000 shares; Gulf & Western, unchanged at 47½ on 10,100; Litton Industries, 70⅝ at 70⅞ on 6,300; and American Cyanamid, unchanged at 24⅛ on 5,500.

Six Adventurers Head for North Pole

Led by Ralph Plaisted, a St. Paul insurance man, the expedition of five Americans and one Canadian hopes to become the first to reach the Pole by surface since Adm. Robert Peary made it in 1909.

Peary made the trip by dogsled. Plaisted and his crew will use snowmobiles.

Plaisted failed to complete the trip last year when his expedition was forced to turn back in May after 38 days, 370 miles from the Pole.

His reason for attempting the difficult and dangerous polar trek a second time is simple: "It's there and the challange is ours. Even if we fail, we have more satisfaction than those who remain in the gray area—the warm house, the television set—or those who never try and can never know success or failure."

Accompanying Plaisted are a pathologist, a geography instructor and three engineers. They are amateur explorers, but they are not inexperienced.

In addition to the experience they gained on last year's attempt, they have been training on weekends since December in the frozen muskeg and timber of northern Minnesota.

With Plaisted on the trip will be Donald L. Powellek, 40, of St. Paul; Arthur C. Aufderheide, 43, of Duluth; Gerald R. Pitzl, 34, of St. Paul; Jean Luc Bombardier, 29, of Montreal and Walter H. Pederson 40, of St. Cloud, Minn.

Plaisted said the first expedition was defeated by blizzards and the spring ice breakup. Since then Plaisted has trimmed the size of his party from eight to six, lightened the load, reduced the number of snowmobiles from eight to four and increased the machine's horsepower from 10 to 16.

The crew hopes to start over the ice cap by March 1 from their base camp at Ward Hunt Island. That would give them a 29-day headstart over last year and they would be 200 miles farther north than last year's start at Eureka, Northwest Territories.

The starting point will leave the expedition a zigzag trip of about 600 miles across the top of the world to the Pole.

F. T. Murray, Ex-County D.A., Dies in 69th Year

Mr. Murray, a graduate of Fordham University Law School, began practice in Kingston in 1926. He was appointed district attorney of Ulster County in 1930 by the then, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

From 1931-33 he was chairman of the commission of appraisal in the Schoharie proceeding against the City of New York over the construction of the Schoharie Reservoir.

For a number of years he was associated with the late County Judge Andrew J. Cook and since 1943 served as senior assistant corporation counsel with the New York City Law Department.

Mr. Murray, the son of the late Thomas J. and Elizabeth Murray, is survived by his wife, the former Marion Kelly, a son, Francis T. Jr., a daughter, Mrs. John P. Turner of Farmington, Conn., three sisters, Mrs. William J. Campbell and Mrs. Arthur F. Hallinan, both of Kingston and Miss Elizabeth Murray of Brooklyn. Three grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be Friday from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway, thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 11 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7-9 p. m. and tomorrow from 2-4 and 7-9 p. m.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my wife and our mother, Mrs Fred Marks, whom God called Feb. 21, 1948.

There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true;
And a token of affection mother,
And a heartache still for you.

HUSBAND & DAUGHTERS

Memoriam

In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Anna Buckman, who passed away Feb. 21, 1963.

Though years may pass before we see,
Our Mother's face once more,
The faith she taught us at her knee,
Will lead at last to Heaven's door.
In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name.
Those who loved her in life sincerely,

Justice Klein Dead at 63

NEW YORK (AP) — Justice Arthur G. Klein, 63, of the State Supreme Court, who represented the lower East Side in Congress for almost 15 years before being elected to the bench in 1956, died Tuesday night of a heart attack in Lenox Hill Hospital.

One of his best known decisions on the bench was a 1963 ruling on the book "Fanny Hill." Klein held the work was not obscene but observed that he thought it so badly written it would never replace "Little Red Riding Hood" as a bedtime story.

He also drew public attention in 1966 when he lost a bitter Surrogate Court primary fight to Justice Samuel J. Silverman. Klein was backed by both Republican and Democratic regulars, but Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and reform Democrats united behind Silverman.

Klein, who lived at 47 E. 88th St., had been ill for about two months, according to members of his family.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mary Goldenkranz; two daughters, Mrs. Harold Wilson of Parsippany, N.J., and Mrs. Elliot Staple of Manhattan; a brother, Harold, of the Bronx; four sisters, Mrs. Louis Lipkowitz, Mrs. Ben Jackson, Mrs. Morris Kahn and Mrs. Hayman, all of New York City; and one grandson.

Saugerties Board Announces Program

Saugerties Planning Board Board this week announced a program for the study of future recreational facilities in the township, restoration of the town's historic lighthouse and the possibility of adopting a town building code.

Albert V. Conte, a member of the board was named to head a Recreation Study Committee to be formed from among public spirited citizens interested in recreation. The study will include development of more than 27 acres purchased from the Henry Knaust Estate situated adjacent to Cantine Memorial Field, the town-owned recreational park.

Also under study will be expansion of comfort station facilities at Cantine Field, suitability of 35 acres of recreational land at Mt. Marion Park, and also a site inspection of the Schroeder property some 160 acres on Windemere Heights and along the Esopus Creek.

Reports on these recreational possibilities will be made by the committee at the next Town Planning Board session March 13.

Former supervisor Peter M. Williams and Albert J. Cawein, planning board vice chairman will investigate the possibility of having the historic Saugerties Lighthouse designated as a State Historic Trust for the purposes of restoration and possible development into a Marine Museum.

The two-story brick structure originally built in 1835 is known to be the oldest lighthouse on the Hudson River. The building has about 10 rooms and is situated on about 4½ acres of land.

In correspondence already received, assistance in the preservation of the town landmark has been assured by the Hudson River Valley Commission and the Hudson River Conservation Society. Both groups will again be contacted for further steps to bring about the fulfillment of the project.

Planning Board Chairman Dr. Richard J. Messina and vice chairman Cawein will study the standard forms of town building codes and report their recommendations at the next meeting. When approved by the Planning Board the building code proposal will be recommended to the Town Board for action.

A report of the Ulster County Planning Board meeting concerning a county sewer study was presented at the board's recent meeting by Irving R. Oltmann, Town Planning Board secretary and Saugerties' representative on the County Planning Board.

Frank X. Greimel, newly appointed member was introduced. Greimel was named to the two year term to fill a vacancy created by the election of George Turner to the Town Board.

The Planning Board is planning to study the possibility of securing permission from the Town Board to use the upstairs rooms of the Town Lockup on Russell Street for permanent headquarters.

Several members of the Planning Board will make an on-site inspection at an early date.

Quality Course

The Mid-Hudson section of the American Society for Quality Control will offer a 14-day course in basic statistical quality control for local industry.

Classes will meet 7 to 9 p. m. Wednesdays from Feb. 28 to April 10 at Vassar College. Charles Tarr, IBM, East Fishkill, may be contacted for further information.

The University of North Carolina opened its doors to students in 1795.

Another Dies of Injuries

Fatal in Dutchess

A 72-year-old Dutchess County man died Tuesday in Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, of injuries sustained in a Columbia County traffic mishap on Sunday, and a 36-year-old man was killed early today in a one-car accident near Millerton, according to State Police.

Melie Greco of Chestnut Street, Rhinebeck, died of multiple injuries, according to Claverack troopers. His car was involved in a collision on Route 9H at the intersection of County Route 18 in the Town of Claverack with a station wagon driven by Shirley Cousin, 40, of 446 Columbia Street, Hudson.

Greco was driving north and the woman was entering the highway from Route 18 when the vehicles collided. Greco's wife, Henrietta, 71, suffered a fractured left clavicle. She was taken to the Rhinebeck hospital.

The Hudson woman was cited by Troopers F. M. Pesce and BCI Investigator J. C. Savosky of Claverack for reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle without registration, according to Trooper T. J. Foster.

Gary DePastarot, of 6928 Queens, was fatally injured at 1 a. m. today when his car went out of control on County Route 62 north of Millerton, according to State Trooper J. M. Hulihan of Dover Plains. The car was traveling south when it failed to negotiate a left curve. The vehicle skidded 132 feet before careening off the pavement and overturned in a field.

Trooper Hulihan said there were no seat belts in the car. The driver was ejected. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Michael Badeen of Millerton, county medical examiner. Death was due to multiple internal injuries. Troopers C. A. Kennedy and W. H. Staples of Dover investigated, and noted the probable cause of the mishap was speed too fast for conditions.

DE WITT SHATTERS EVERY PRICE

for this 3 day revolutionary

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY-SALE

THURSDAY, February 22nd, FRIDAY, February 23rd & SATURDAY, February 24th

DEPEND ON DE WITT FOR TOTAL VALUE.

★ COMPETITIVE PRICES

You can depend on De Witt to deliver the most car for your money — and the reason is simple arithmetic. De Witt is the area's leading volume Cadillac-Oldsmobile dealer — and that means lower proportionate overhead per car. Remember, it's the net price that counts — and everything works in your favor at De Witt: Volume buying from the factory and volume selling of both new and used cars combine to put us in a position to give you the No. 1 value — whatever car you choose, on any day, in any month, during any season of the year. See De Witt first or see De Witt last — just be sure to see De Witt before you decide.

★ HUGE SELECTIONS

You can depend on De Witt to make it easy for you to decide — because you'll see a cavalcade of cars at De Witt, not a gallery of pictures. De Witt has a spectacular standing stock of brand new Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles and late model used cars that spans the whole spectrum of series, body styles, colors, accessories and equipment options. The chances are excellent that exactly the car you want is in De Witt's inventory right now — but if it's necessary to place a factory order, you'll still have the advantage of De Witt's delivery expediting service. There's no faster way to get what you want than to let De Witt get it for you.

★ SUPREME SERVICE

You can depend on De Witt to keep your confidence and safeguard your satisfaction in the matter that may well be the most important of all: Service. Your new Cadillac or Oldsmobile is covered, of course, by one of the most complete and comprehensive warranties in the industry. But it takes the skill of De Witt's master mechanics and the precision of De Witt's advanced automotive maintenance equipment to give that protection maximum meaning through preventive care and professional expertness of the highest order. It all adds up to one clear conclusion: "When you depend on De Witt—you've found the formula for total value."

Saugerties Board Announces Program

Saugerties Planning Board Board this week announced a program for the study of future recreational facilities in the township, restoration of the town's historic lighthouse and the possibility of adopting a town building code.

Albert V. Conte, a member of the board was named to head a Recreation Study Committee to be formed from among public spirited citizens interested in recreation. The study will include development of more than 27 acres purchased from the Henry Knaust Estate situated adjacent to Cantine Memorial Field, the town-owned recreational park.

Also under study will be expansion of comfort station facilities at Cantine Field, suitability of 35 acres of recreational land at Mt. Marion Park, and also a site inspection of the Schroeder property some 160 acres on Windemere Heights and along the Esopus Creek.

Reports on these recreational possibilities will be made by the committee at the next Town Planning Board session March 13.

Former supervisor Peter M. Williams and Albert J. Cawein, planning board vice chairman will investigate the possibility of having the historic Saugerties Lighthouse designated as a State Historic Trust for the purposes of restoration and possible development into a Marine Museum.

The two-story brick structure originally built in 1835 is known to be the oldest lighthouse on the Hudson River. The building has about 10 rooms and is situated on about 4½ acres of land.

BABSON on BUSINESS

FARM FINANCES AND THE GREAT SOCIETY

BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 16—Between 1940 and 1965, the nation's population increased from 132 million to about 195 million . . . a gain of almost 50 per cent. During this same period, our farm population declined from 30½ million to less than 13 million . . . a drop of nearly 60 per cent.

Self-Defeating Efficiency

About 100 years ago—when we numbered not much more than 30 million people—some 60 per cent of all Americans lived on farms. Today our farm population is less than 7 per cent of the total. In the late 1800s and in the forepart of the present century, the exodus from farms to urban and suburban areas was gradual as the U.S. shifted from an agrarian to an industrial society. But since 1940, the pace has been vastly accelerated . . . as farm efficiency soared.

Now, normally when productivity increases, earnings also rise, in step, or more. But this has not been true of farming during the past quarter-century or so. Our national income has multiplied eightfold since 1940 . . . ballooning from $81 billion to $653 billion. Net farm income, however, has made only about a threefold gain . . . from $4.2 billion to $14.6 billion. And the farmer's share in the national income has dipped from 5.2 per cent to 2.2 per cent!

Why People Leave the Farm

Despite this severe income squeeze—and the increasing displacement of manpower by machines—farming is still the nation's Number One employing industry. We have over 5 million farm workers . . . or more than the total work force in the transportation, public utilities, auto, and steel industries combined. Yet the number is declining each year as capital in the form of mechanical power, machinery, fertilizer, and bought feed, seed, and livestock are increasingly substituted for manpower and farm-produced inputs.

For several years the average investment per farm worker has been rising steadily. Some observers feel it is now significantly above $25,000. This means that an investment of as much as $100,000 may be required for a farm big enough to yield a net money income of only about $4,000. Farms once large enough to produce a decent living for their family owners are now simply too small. So the owners have had to get out of farming if they could not enlarge their farms and/or their investment in them.

Bargaining No Cure-All

Administration after administration has proposed remedies calculated to improve the farmer's lot and boost his income, but farmers are still a long way from receiving anywhere near parity prices for what they produce and market. As we move deeper into this presidential election year, diminished purchasing power of the American farmer presents a serious economic and social challenege to the nation . . . a problem which directly affects the comfort and happiness of several million farmers and ex-farmers in rural areas, and one that involves the stability of our largest single industry.

As the squeeze has tightened, farmers have showed renewed interest in market bargaining arrangements as supplements to, or replacements for, national farm programs. However, the possibilities of improvement through such arrangements are at best limited because of the very diversity of farm production and the consequent inability to exercise sufficiently tight control over market offerings.

Rural Poverty

Meanwhile, the impact of the inexorable trend toward bigger and more highly mechanized farms and of the continued disparity between farm and industrial product prices is being increasingly felt. Although it is the plight of the nation's urban poor that most often receives attention in the press and elsewhere, rural deprivation, too, is widespread and serious.

In these rural areas of America, more than 70 per cent of the poor families have less than $2,000 income annually, and 25 per cent have less than $1,000. Such destitution suggests that the Great Society has a long way to go "down on the farm" as well as in the big cities.

Why We Say--

CUNNING OR SLY: It was not always a compliment for a girl to be called pretty. The word is derived from the Old English "praetig" which meant cunning or sly. After centuries it changed to crafty, then ingenious and finally to its present meaning.

In the SERVICE

Edelman Graduates

Seaman Apprentice Bruce E. Edelman, USN, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Edelman Sr., of Wawarsing, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

Oakley Returns

Seaman Apprentice David A. Oakley, USN, son of Mrs. Dorothy E. Oakley, of 363 Wilbur Avenue, has returned to Norfolk, Va., aboard the destroyer USS Douglas H. Fox.

His ship has been operating as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean for the past five months.

Popowich on Duty

Airman First Class George R. Popowich, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Popowich, who resides on First Street, Connelly, has arrived for duty at MacDill AFB, Fla.

Airman Popowich, a munitions specialist, is assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

He previously served at Udorn Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Burkhart Graduates

Army Private Harry W. Burkhart III, 22, whose parents live on Route 2, New Paltz, completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training Feb. 2 at Ft. Dix, N.J. He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M—14 rifle, the M—60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher. Burkhardt, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Delta Chi fraternities, received his BA degree in 1967 from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.

Rehfeld Promoted

Ronald P. Rehfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf P. Rehfeld of 152 Route 32 North, New Paltz, has been promoted to sergeant in the U. S. Air Force.

Sergeant Rehfeld is a radio repairman at Pope AFB, N. C. He is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service.

Penelope Works With Twiggy and a New Tree Is the Result

NEW YORK (AP) — Gone are the harshly lined eyes and the minute minis. There's a new Penelope Tree.

Not that the old Penelope was in need of revamping. The 18-year-old model just decided the dark painted lines accenting the gaunt sad-eyed look which made her famous were too harsh. They've been replaced with soft brown eye shadow.

Just back from three weeks in Paris where she worked with the English model, Twiggy, Penelope curled her long bare legs up under calf-length dress and talked about her seven-month modeling career.

"I always thought modeling was a sort of stupid job—which it is. You're not doing anything for anybody, it's just standing there. I'm not particularly proud," she said. "The photographer molds you. All you can hope to accomplish is some poetic movement."

"The secret is in acting out the clothes. For example, you act like you are a barmaid in Louisiana. It brings intensity to your expression. Sometimes I pretend I'm a suburban housewife who has just gone to New York to the theater or an Indian off a reservation who is going to Europe," she explained, tossing her long brown hair. "I just say to myself, I am an Indian off the reservation."

Since then life has been "schizophrenic," when teenagers recognize her skinny, 5-foot-10 frame on the street, or she sees her picture in a magazine, she feels "like its a made-up name, a made-up person."

Her mother was an ambassador to the United Nations, her half-sister was a Vietnam correspondent, her uncle was governor of Massachusetts, her grandfather an Episcopal bishop. And her grandmother, she declares with brown eyes dancing, "is the one who went to jail." Her grandmother was active in the civil rights movement.

As if the glamorous life she lives with her parents, the Ronald Trees, in a chic New York townhouse were not enough, she now belongs to her own clique of celebrities.

She shops in London at the Beatles-backed boutique, Apple, or in New York's Paraphernalia, and she finds the $60 an hour she earns as a model goes almost as quickly as it comes.

Her name crops up in gossip columns as if she attends chic-chic soirees every night of the week. Actually she frequents museums and movies mostly and has only been to one opening night. Her favorite clothes are a fox tail belt and a pair of jeans—not worn together.

Morale Builder: Pentagon

One-Year Viet Tour Will Remain

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) The Pentagon apparently intends to maintain the one-year Vietnam duty tour regardless of any other actions to bolster U.S. military manpower in Southeast Asia.

"There is no sentiment in favor of stretching the tour," one high official said. "The one-year tour is awfully useful as a morale builder."

Other Measures Studied

Possible actions include calling to active duty thousands of National Guardsmen and reservists, increasing draft calls, shortening the interval between tours of duty in Vietnam and bringing more troops back from Europe.

An already tight manpower situation would become worse if President Johnson should order an increase in authorized troop levels for Vietnam beyond the currently planned 525,000 by mid-summer.

Johnson said last weekend he will boost the level "if we need to."

Pentagon officials said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, has not yet requested any over-all increase. But military sources expect that he will.

Last week Johnson approved the speedy shipment to Vietnam of about 10,500 Army paratroopers and Marines specifically asked for by Westmoreland as insurance against an expected Communist assault on the Khe Sanh stronghold in northwestern South Vietnam.

This development highlighted the manpower squeeze because it drew from the United States a brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division, the last division-size Army outfit capable of quick reaction to meet new crises which may develop in the Caribbean, Mediterranean or elsewhere.

The necessity to draw also on an already thin Marine contingent in the United States also tended to underscore the overall manpower problem.

The Army and Marines have tried to allow a man at least 24 months away from Vietnam before he is sent back.

But authorities said an exception had to be made in the case of the new reinforcement of 10,500 paratroopers and Marines.

About 40 per cent of the paratroop brigade had been back from Vietnam less than two years, and many less than one year. The Marine regiment was in somewhat the same shape.

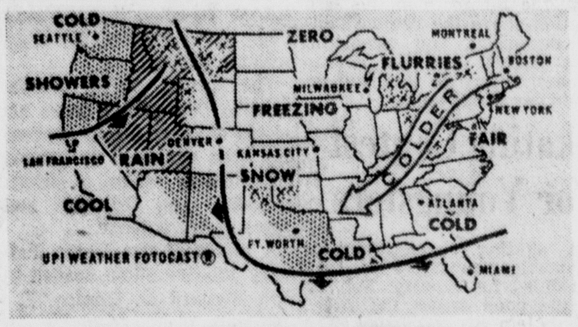
Strong Protests

Faced with strong protests from congressmen and relatives of men being returned to Vietnam, the Army is developing a plan to permit what is called a "phase return" of men who had recently returned from their first war tour.

Officials said the plan has not yet been approved.

Under the proposal a man who had been home from the war only six months, for example, would be rotated back from his second tour in Vietnam ahead of a man who had been back in the United States for seven months.

Presumably, many of those rushed over would not have to serve another full year in Vietnam. Whether such exceptions to the 24-month interval policy will become frequent will depend on whether the 525,000-troop ceiling is raised, and by how much.



For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Thursday

Tonight will find showers over the lower Plains, southern Plateaus and the north and mid Pacific coastal states. Rain is due in the Great Basin, becoming mixed with snow in the northern Plateaus. Snow is expected in the Panhandle while fluries fall over the upper Ohio Valley and the Lakes region. Elsewhere fair to partly cloudy skies should prevail. Colder weather is on tap for most of the area from the central and lower Plains eastward, excluding the lower half of Florida. Minimum temperatures include: Atlanta 30; Boston 10; Chicago 1; Denver 23; Duluth –10; Ft. Worth 29; Jacksonville 36; Kansas City 20; Los Angeles 55; Miami 49; New Orleans 40; New York 10; San Francisco 52; Seattle 45; St. Louis 8 and Washington 14.

Seek Cause Of Ulster Fire

Investigation was under way today by Kingston State Police seeking to determine the cause of fire which broke out in Ivan Ruger's Esso Service Station on Route 9W at Boice's Lane, Town of Ulster, early today.

The fire was discovered by an unidentified passerby who had just left Michael's Diner on Albany Avenue Extension. He notified authorities and an alarm was sounded at 3:07 a. m. Apparatus from Station 1 in command of Chief William Williams responded with 30 men, and Station 2 equipment was placed on standby.

A department spokesman said the fire was confined to one stall and involved rubbish and rags. The interior of the building was damaged by smoke, it was reported. The spokesman said substance found spread over the floor of the building was being analyzed at the State Police laboratory.

Two turkeys and a chicken in a coop in the building were rescued by firemen, it was reported. The blaze was quelled with a 1½-inch pre-connected line.

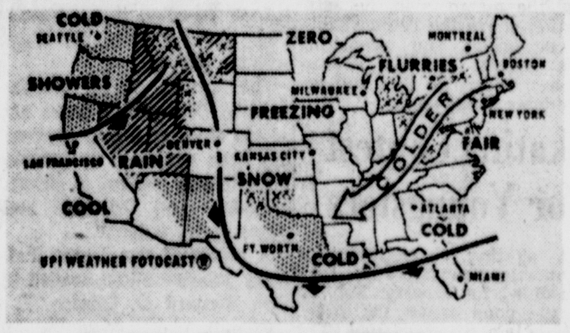
Presumably, many of those rushed over would not have to serve another full year in Vietnam. Whether such exceptions to the 24-month interval policy will become frequent will depend on whether the 525,000-troop ceiling is raised, and by how much.



For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Thursday

Tonight will find showers over the lower Plains, southern Plateaus and the north and mid Pacific coastal states. Rain is due in the Great Basin, becoming mixed with snow in the northern Plateaus. Snow is expected in the Panhandle while fluries fall over the upper Ohio Valley and the Lakes region. Elsewhere fair to partly cloudy skies should prevail. Colder weather is on tap for most of the area from the central and lower Plains eastward, excluding the lower half of Florida. Minimum temperatures include: Atlanta 30; Boston 10; Chicago 1; Denver 23; Duluth –10; Ft. Worth 29; Jacksonville 36; Kansas City 20; Los Angeles 55; Miami 49; New Orleans 40; New York 10; San Francisco 52; Seattle 45; St. Louis 8 and Washington 14.

Seek Cause Of Ulster Fire

Investigation was under way today by Kingston State Police seeking to determine the cause of fire which broke out in Ivan Ruger's Esso Service Station on Route 9W at Boice's Lane, Town of Ulster, early today.

The fire was discovered by an unidentified passerby who had just left Michael's Diner on Albany Avenue Extension. He notified authorities and an alarm was sounded at 3:07 a. m. Apparatus from Station 1 in command of Chief William Williams responded with 30 men, and Station 2 equipment was placed on standby.

A department spokesman said the fire was confined to one stall and involved rubbish and rags. The interior of the building was damaged by smoke, it was reported. The spokesman said substance found spread over the floor of the building was being analyzed at the State Police laboratory.

Two turkeys and a chicken in a coop in the building were rescued by firemen, it was reported. The blaze was quelled with a 1½-inch pre-connected line.

Mt. Marion Fourth Graders Present Plays

The first was entitled "The Pilgrims," written by a group of children themselves without help from their teacher. It depicted the pilgrims on their arrival in America, introduced by Danny Martin. The characters were Miles Standish played by Jay Gahenheimer. The other pilgrim men were played by Kevin Hartrum, Warren Cagnone, and Allen White. Alan Kremper took the part of Samoset, Clifford Benjamin was Squanto, and Danny Martin was Massasoit. The pilgrim women were Maureen Reilly, Carol Bauser, Brenda Landers, Terri Sickler and Elizabeth Krum. The Indian women were Sharon Plotzyk, Lora Funfstuck, Dawn Darling and Mary Waldron.

The second play introduced by Carol Bauser was entitled "A Gift From Hans Brinker." It depicted a skating race on a canal in Netherlands. The characters were Hans Brinker played by James Bridgman, Gretel by Linda Misasi, Dame Brinker by Dawn Darling, Madame Van Gleck by Terry Beisel and official starter by Lee Nelson. The parts of other boys and girls were taken by George Boice, Lora Funfstuck, Theresa Kallos, Alan Kremper, Allen White, Albert Kiersted, Randy Brandt, Maureen Riley, Rosemary Gambino, Brenda Landers, Terri Sickler, Sean Tonnesen, Warren Cagnone, Jeffrey Harbinger, John Pelletieri, Sharon Plotzyk, Elizabeth Krum, Donna Drake, and Mary Waldron.

Hears About Hudson River

The Saugerties Monday Club met at Arrowfield, the home of Mrs. Fabian L. Russell, Monday, Feb. 12.

Mrs. Gordon Keeley, president, presided. Mrs. Russell gave the program. Her topic was "The Hudson River at Saugerties." She discussed the river in general, the river at Saugerties in the winter, and the U. S. Coast Guard Ice Breakers that patrol the 306-mile Hudson and keep a path clear to Albany.

She spoke about the Saugerties long dock, which had much to do with the early social and economic growth of Saugerties.

A Valentine party followed the meeting.

Mrs. David Hildebrandt will be the hostess for the Feb. 19 meeting.

Saugerties Ladies To Demo Confab

Frank Costello, chairman of the Democratic Party in Saugerties announced today that two local Democrats, members of the Democratic Club will represent Saugerties at the 17th annual political conference of the Women's Division of the Democratic State Committee at Albany, Feb. 25-26.

Mrs. James Keefe and Mrs. Homer Strong will join 800 women of 62 counties of the state in a conference to discuss The Mobilization of Opinions: A Search For New Direction In N. Y. State.

Tenderizing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Marvin Murray had agreed to let her daughter Leah, 3, attend her first party and wear her best velvet dress.

In order to fluff it up, Mrs. Murray hung the dress in the bathroom and turned on the hot water.

After a few moments, Mrs. Murray peered into he steam-filled room and said, "No, it isn't done yet."

Rocky: No Conflict Of Courage in Viet

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is in its "most controversial conflict since the Civil War" in Vietnam, says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

However, Rockefeller told 500 members of the American Legion Tuesday, there is "no conflict about the courage of the men waging the battle there."

The American soldier in Vietnam is "cut from the same cloth of the men who fought in Korea...and the men who brought the Japanese warlods to their knees' during World War II, the governor said.

Rockefeller, at the 49th annual Legislative Dinner, sponsored by the New York Department of the American Legion, said also that he was "happy American soldiers were not using their bayonets to pick up garbage in New York City."

The remark was made in reference to his role in ending the nine-day garbage strike in New York City. Mayor John V. Lindsay had asked that the National Guard be used to help clean the streets of garbage. Instead, Rockefeller proposed that the state temporarily take over the city's garbage collection.

A second speaker, William E. Galbraith, national commander of the legion, said he was in full support of a recent position taken by Rockefeller that returning Vietnam servicemen be given job priorities.

The governor announced two weeks ago the formation of a job pool, which is seeking to elicit employment pledges from New York State firms.

Galbraith also attacked what he termed was a growing attitude of dual morality on America.

Those "who counsel others" to willfully "break the the law," then accuse their country of being engaged in an illegal action in Vietnam, "are living with an indefensible set of double standen," Galbraith said.

List Several Needs To Aid Family Court

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — More and better paid probation workers and other services are needed, a legislative committee contended Tuesday, if the Family Court is to improve its image with the public.

The court, which handles juvenile delinquency cases and scores of other family matters, has been subjected to increasing criticism because of clogged calendars and the high incidence of "repeaters."

A report of the Senate Judiciary sub-committee headed by Sen. Bernard G. Gordon, R - Peekskill, played down the appeal to increase the number of judges over the 105 now on the bench and called for more effective auxiliary services.

It did observe, however, that high - density areas like Westchester, Suffolk and Nassau counties could use more judges to handle the caseload.

The committee cited 'the lack of adequate auxiliary services emerging as one of the greatest frustrations to a successful Family Court."

The report emphasized that the court, state and private agencies must mount an aggressive campaign to formulate new concepts to solve the social problems that beset society.

"If we may be permitted an analogy," the committee said, "fire departments are essential but fire prevention is more intelligent, economical and puts the emphasis where it ought to be."

"Probation staffs are understaffed and over-worked," the report stated, noting that quality personnel are not attracted to probation work because it is economically "unattractive."

The problem is applicable to all counties although the larger ones pay more realistic wages. And many local probation directors have complained that personnel gain experience and training on the job, then quit for better paying jobs.

The report criticized the State Judicial Conference for becoming involved in the probation field, arguing "the potential value of probation services may be frustrated and lost in the organizational structure of the Judicial Conference."

The committee also cited the lack of detention facilities and recommended that the state investigate the possibility of buying or leasing residences, but by competent staffs, that could be located near the courts.

The facilities — to serve as a stopgap until the number of permanent detention facilities can be increased — could be used for detention, placement or "half-way" houses for those not yet ready to return to their homes and society.

Rockefeller, at the 49th annual Legislative Dinner, sponsored by the New York Department of the American Legion, said also that he was "happy American soldiers were not using their bayonets to pick up garbage in New York City."

The remark was made in reference to his role in ending the nine-day garbage strike in New York City. Mayor John V. Lindsay had asked that the National Guard be used to help clean the streets of garbage. Instead, Rockefeller proposed that the state temporarily take over the city's garbage collection.

A second speaker, William E. Galbraith, national commander of the legion, said he was in full support of a recent position taken by Rockefeller that returning ards," Galbraith said.

Vietnam servicemen be given job priorities.

The governor announced two weeks ago the formation of a job pool, which is seeking to elicit employment pledges from New York State firms.

Galbraith also attacked what he termed was a growing attitude of dual morality on America.

Those "who counsel others" to willfully "break the the law," then accuse their country of being engaged in an illegal action in Vietnam, "are living with an indefensible set of double standen

List Several Needs To Aid Family Court

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — More and better paid probation workers and other services are needed, a legislative committee contended Tuesday, if the Family Court is to improve its image with the public.

The court, which handles juvenile delinquency cases and scores of other family matters, has been subjected to increasing criticism because of clogged calendars and the high incidence of "repeaters."

A report of the Senate Judiciary sub-committee headed by Sen. Bernard G. Gordon, R - Peekskill, played down the appeal to increase the number of judges over the 105 now on the bench and called for more effective auxiliary services.

It did observe, however, that high - density areas like Westchester, Suffolk and Nassau counties could use more judges to handle the caseload.

The committee cited 'the lack of adequate auxiliary services emerging as one of the greatest frustrations to a successful Family Court."

The report emphasized that the court, state and private agencies must mount an aggressive campaign to formulate new concepts to solve the social problems that beset society.

"If we may be permitted an analogy," the committee said, "fire departments are essential but fire prevention is more intelligent, economical and puts the emphasis where it ought to be."

"Probation staffs are understaffed and over-worked," the report stated, noting that quality personnel are not attracted to probation work because it is economically "unattractive."

The problem is applicable to all counties although the larger ones pay more realistic wages. And many local probation directors have complained that personnel gain experience and training on the job, then quit for better paying jobs.

The report criticized the State Judicial Conference for becoming involved in the probation field, arguing "the potential value of probation services may be frustrated and lost in the organizational structure of the Judicial Conference."

The committee also cited the lack of detention facilities and recommended that the state investigate the possibility of buying or leasing residences, but by competent staffs, that could be located near the courts.

The facilities — to serve as a stopgap until the number of permanent detention facilities can be increased — could be used for detention, placement or "half-way" houses for those not yet ready to return to their homes and society.

Seek Spring Start For New Palsy Center

Murray Weisberg, an area chairman, defined the goal of this year's campaign which will reach its peak with a radio-telethon eminating from the Ellenville Central School auditorium this Sunday.

Construction plans call for a 8,000 square foot building on land donated by Benedictine Hospital, centrally located in Kingston. Facilities would be for treatment of 500 handicapped children, more than doubling the capacity of makeshift facilities now available.

In outlining the Ellenville appeal through the Sunday program, Weisberg said that large advance donors will be given an opportunity to appear on television by means of video tape. The VTR and its portable camera will make advance audio-visual taping possible for later playback on the Channel 6 line.

The show will be aired in Town of Wawarsing homes from 1 noon to 6 p. m. on Ellenville Wired TV and 1 to 6 p. m. on station WELV.

Dick Hall of the Granit Hotel will serve as master of ceremonies with an assist from Peg Leg Bates. Top professional and local talent will take part in the program.

Members of the Knights of Pythias Lodge will man a battery of telephones accepting pledges which will be picked up by 11-Meter CB Clubbers.

White House Imagination: Dreaming Up Special Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes it seems the White House must have a special staff in charge of dreaming up names for federal programs: Head Start, Upward Bound, Operation Mainstream and all the others.

But no such staff exists. The whole name-calling procedure is a very informal one ,though it sometimes resembles an organized exercise in "group think" or "brainstorming."

Take the christening of the National Alliance of Businessmen, the group President Johnson created to give private enterprise a role in training and finding jobs for the hard-core unemployed.

Many Ideas

When White House aides were preparing Johnson's recent message to Congress on jobs, they kicked around all kinds of ideas for naming the business organization. Their final choice was determined by the fact that National Alliance of Businessmen can be alphabetized as NAB—an apt description, they thought, for a program to actively seek out job-training candidates and propel them into the labor force.

"We try to find something uplifting that gives the essence of the program," explains Larry Levinson, a White House assistant who has participated in many a bureaucratic christening. The thing to avoid, he says, is dull, formal verbiage.

Occasionally a program name is suggested by the department principally responsible for its evolution. More often, members of the White House staff sit around in a small group and start thinking out loud. Eventually someone produces an idea that wins acceptance.

Thus New Careers, Stay in School and Operation Mainstream.

Acronyms are ever popular. Last year when a presidential commission on the draft suggested a Selective Service lottery, a conscious effort was made to come up with a name tag that would play down the gambling connotation and help sell the idea.

Result: The Fair system, for Fair and Impartial Random System.

Some other examples: Job Opportunities in the Business Sector, JOBS and Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System, CAMPS. In these cases, the abbreviations seem almost essential in view of the mouthful of words required to recite the formal titles.

Acronyms of this kind are not encouraged in all cases, of course. As an example, Johnson last month proposed a new program that he labeled Partnership for Education and Earning, which qualifies as both inspirational and catchily descriptive. It does not lend itself, however, to abbreviation.

COUNTY WIDE

A thousand-and-one Arabian Nights gift items and a vast selection of other merchandise make up a start of the year-round selling stock of Drug City at Ulster Shopping Plaza, one of the Hudson Valley's newest and most exciting drug stores.

Drug City is one the management contends will "run rings around its competitors" by being a discount store and still offering personal service. "It's an idea that just grew," said Ken Barnes and Harris Gally, co-managers, "on the basic concept of consumer service and diversification of merchandise. Cosmetics and gifts are next in line."

Drug City caused a retail rush of customers during its four-day grand opening, featuring department store merchandising with the personal touch. It is a store geared to fierce competition and hard-driving retailing techniques, steered by a management team that is progressive.

Seek Spring Start For New Palsy Center

Murray Weisberg, an area chairman, defined the goal of this year's campaign which will reach its peak with a radio-telethon eminating from the Ellenville Central School auditorium this Sunday.

Construction plans call for a 8,000 square foot building on land donated by Benedictine Hospital, centrally located in Kingston. Facilities would be for treatment of 500 handicapped children, more than doubling the capacity of makeshift facilities now available.

In outlining the Ellenville appeal through the Sunday program, Weisberg said that large advance donors will be given an opportunity to appear on television by means of video tape. The VTR and its portable camera will make advance audio-visual taping possible for later playback on the Channel 6 line.

The show will be aired in Town of Wawarsing homes from 1 noon to 6 p. m. on Ellenville Wired TV and 1 to 6 p. m. on station WELV.

Dick Hall of the Granit Hotel will serve as master of ceremonies with an assist from Peg Leg Bates. Top professional and local talent will take part in the program.

Nixon Worth About $250,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says he has been earning about $200,000 a year income in recent years and currently is worth about $250,000.

Look magazine says in an article by Fletcher Knebel in this week's issue that the former vice president supplied the figures and allowed him to examine photostats of his tax returns for the years 1963 through 1966. They showed an average gross income of $200,000 a year Knebel said, with $60,000 a year in federal and state taxes and an average of $12,000 a year in charitable contributions.

Last ovember, Look reported that Michigan Gov. George Romney and his wife earned nearly $3 million from 1955 through 1966—an average of about $250,000 a year. Romney's income, Look said, actually ranged from a high of $661,427 in 1960, when he was president of American Motors, to a low of $78,483 in 1966.

Nixon reported to him, Knebel wrote, "that his net worth when he left government in 1961 was $48,000. His net worth on a cost basis increased to $250,000 as of early this year."

SOLUTIONS TO YOUR EVERYDAY WASHDAY STAIN PROBLEMS

CUT OUT AND SAVE!

Every housewife is confronted with those hard to remove stains such as grease, blood, grass etc. Now, CUT OUT and HANG this remarkable STAIN REMOVAL CHART in your laundry or utility room and use it as a reference. There will hardly be a day when you'll not refer to this chart. This STAIN REMOVAL CHART will show you solutions and procedures for removal of 20 of the most common household stains . . . PLUS informative information HOW TO PROPERLY CLEAN AND RESTORE ORIGINAL WHITENESS AND BRIGHTNESS TO SYNTHETIC FABRICS, HOW TO RENEW WATER SOFTENERS

Miracle White®

SUPER CLEANER

Makes water wetter...makes detergents work better!

For Normal Washing in Automatics or by Hand, add at least ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER to the wash water. (For exceptionally soiled clothes, use more —up to ½ cup). If a garment is stained, locate the specific stain on the chart below and follow the suggested treatment exactly. Prompt action with MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER can often remove stains before they become permanently set in the fabric.

Stain Removal Chart for Washables

TYPE OF STAIN	TREATMENT
BLOOD	Soak in cold water 45 minutes or longer. If stain persists soak in 1 gallon solution of MIRACLE WHITE and warm water plus 2 ounces of household ammonia, for 30 minutes. If this does not work rub detergent into stain, launder using a bleach safe for the fabric.
CHEWING GUM	Harden gum by rubbing with ice. Scrape as much as possible. Sponge with good dry cleaning fluid. Rinse and launder.
CHOCOLATE AND COCOA	Soak the stained area in cold water plus ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE. Pretreat stain with detergent and launder in as hot water as fabric can stand safely. Remove any left over grease stain when dry with good dry cleaning fluid. If stain persists sponge with hydrogen peroxide, rinse and launder.
COFFEE AND TEA	To remove fresh tea and coffee stains, stretch stained area over a bowl (preferably collander), secure with string or rubber band and pour boiling water over stained area until lightened. Launder in water at least 150 degrees to which add ¼ to ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent and ½ to ¾ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach. If cream was used and grease stain remains, sponge with dry cleaner. Very old stains are sometimes impossible to remove.
CREAM, ICE CREAM, AND MILK	Sponge or soak in cold water. Rub a solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent into spot and launder. Sponge any grease spot with good dry cleaning fluid. If coloring remains, bleach according to type of fabric.
CRAYON	Loosen stain with kitchen shortening, apply detergent on stain. Rub stained area until stain begins to disappear. Launder as usual. Repeat if necessary, using an all purpose household liquid cleaner. If stain still persists use a bleach recommended for the fabric. On silk or wool, sponge stain with good dry cleaning fluid.
PERSPIRATION	Fresh perspiration stains usually are acid, while old ones may be alkaline. When garment is removed from body, immediately rinse perspiration stain with plain water. Dry before placing into clothes hamper (to prevent mildew). Old stains should be sponged with white vinegar. Launder in water as hot as material calls for adding ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ cup low sudsing detergent.
DYE OR TRANSFER OF COLOR	Removal from colored items is almost impossible. Bleach colorfast items immediately using either chlorine or NON-chlorine powdered bleach as suited to fabric or water contents.
FRUIT STAINS	All fruit and berry stains, except cherry, pear, peach and plum can be removed by pouring boiling water over stain until lightened. Pre-soak in hot water adding ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ cup low sudsing detergent for 25 minutes. Launder and rinse. For cherry, pear, peach, and plum, sponge with cold water and then proceed as above.
GRASS	Add ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE to warm suds, soak well, then rub or put thru washer. Bleach stubborn stains with hydrogen peroxide, rinse well.
COSMETICS	Pretreat with solution of 1 gallon warm water, ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE and ¼ cup detergent, soak then launder.
INK	Most permanent and ball point inks are almost impossible to remove. Pour cold water on stain and keep pouring until color is light. Rub in lemon juice and detergent. Let stand 15 min. Launder. If stain has not come out soak in solution of 1 gallon Hot water, ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE and 1 full cup of powdered non-chlorine type bleach for 1 hour.
IODINE	Remove stain with sodium thiosulfate crystals (purchase at drug store). Rinse and launder in solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent.
MEAT, JUICE AND EGG	If dried scrape off excess gently. Sponge with cold water. Rub a solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent into stain, then launder, using a bleach designed for fabric. On wool or wash and wears, sponge with cold water, then good dry cleaning fluid. Rinse and launder.
CANDLEWAX	Scrape off as much as possible with dull knife. To remove balance of wax, place fabric between 2 paper towels and iron with warm iron. Remove any residue with trichlorthane then launder with your favorite detergent and MIRACLE WHITE.
RUST (Due to Well Water)	Add ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to wash water, let soak one hour or longer, add low sudsing detergent and put through wash cycle. Add ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE (more if iron content is high) to final fresh rinse water. Do NOT use chlorine type bleaches in rust water.
SOFT DRINKS	Sponge spot with cold water as soon as possible. Some stains are invisible when dry, but turn yellow with heat or age. These cannot be removed.
AUTOMOBILE AND FURNITURE UPHOLSTERY, RUGS AND CARPETS	Add ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to ½ pail of warm water, add ¼ cup of dishwashing detergent. Soak sponge in water, squeeze dry, sponge upholstery and/or plastic covers.
BOBBY SOCKS	Add ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to laundry wash water, soak socks for ½ hour, add detergent and put thru regular wash.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES	Sponge with cold water. Soak area with solution of Vinegar and water. Rinse with clear water. Launder with ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE and your favorite detergent added to the wash water.
YELLOWED AND STAINED DIAPERS	Soak diapers for 1 hour or more in pail with a solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup of dry non-chlorine type bleach or ammonia, ¼ cup detergent. After soaking, pour entire contents into washing machine. Run through entire cycle.
TO RESTORE WHITENESS OR BRIGHTNESS TO WHITE OR COLORFAST SYNTHETIC UNIFORMS	Pre-soak for 1 hour in solution of ½ to ¾ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ to 1 full cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent (water at least 150 degrees). Run complete cycle. This procedure works exceptionally well for the general brightening of the uniforms of nurses, doctors, waitresses, cosmeticians and barbers. For specific stains, see the appropriate section of this chart.
HELP REMOVE BABY'S FORMULA AND VITAMIN STAINS	Rub stained area with household rubbing alcohol. Soak for 1 hour in solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to 2 gallons water. Rub powdered scouring cleanser into stain. Pour solution and garments into washing machine with detergent. Run through complete cycle.
LINENS, TABLECLOTHS, AND NAPKINS (WHITE AND COLORFAST)	For WHITE MATERIAL: Soak for one hour or longer in ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup DILUTED CHLORINE BLEACH, ½ cup detergent. For COLORED MATERIAL: Substitute a NON-chlorine powdered bleach. NOTE: NEVER use a chlorine type bleach when there is iron rust and/or hard minerals in water supply.
DIRTY AND GRIMY WORK CLOTHES	WHITE WORK CLOTHES: Soak 1 hour or more in solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup liquid bleach, ½ cup detergent. COLORED WORK CLOTHES: Substitute a dry non-chlorine type bleach or ammonia for the liquid bleach. Pour entire contents into washer. Run through the complete cycle.
BATHROOM TILE WALLS AND BATH MATS	To remove white lime stains from tile walls, shower stalls: Soak cloth or sponge with concentrated MIRACLE WHITE rub over white lime scale, then rinse with clear water. To remove white lime scale and black stains from rubber bath mats: Pour 1 or 2 cupfuls of MIRACLE WHITE into bath tub, fill with enough water to cover mat, let soak overnight. Rinse in clear water.
SYNTHETIC AND FIBER-GLASS DRAPERIES (COLORFAST)	Pre-soak for ½ hour in water at least 150 degrees to which is added ½ to ¾ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent. Run through regular wash cycle.
MILDEW	Mildew stains are mold growths and if not attended to can rot the fabric. Brush stained areas out-of-doors to remove spores (seed equivalent). Pre-soak in hot water (at least 150 degrees) to which is added ¼ to ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ to 1 full cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent for 30 minutes. Put through complete wash cycle.
RENEW WATER SOFTENERS (No tools necessary) Makes Water Softeners Work Like New Again	MIRACLE WHITE cleans and removes rust and debris from all filters and water softeners, quickly, safely. MIRACLE WHITE is harmless and safe for septics. Biodegradable-NON-TOXIC. FOR MANUAL SOFTENERS & FILTERS: Pour ½ gallon (2 quarts) into mineral tank. Run cold water for 3 or 4 minutes. After a few hours, back wash. To keep unit in top operation, add 1 cup MIRACLE WHITE to salt with each regeneration. FOR AUTOMATICS: Pour 1 to 2 quarts MIRACLE WHITE into well that contains float, inside brine tank. FOR PRESSURE BRINE. Add ½ gallon to pressure brine tank. Always add 1 quart MIRACLE WHITE when filling tank with salt.
PERMA PRESS, WASH AND WEAR, SYNTHETIC FABRICS	All these fabrics tend to repel water. This means that it takes up to 6 minutes of a 10 minute wash cycle just to saturate the material, leaving only 4 minutes for washing action . . . not enough for thorough cleaning. ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER in your machine (or 2 oz. per gallon if you're washing by hand) makes the fabric become saturated immediately, allowing deep down cleaning and resulting in a beautiful, like-new look to the article.

NOTE: Unusually Difficult Stains and Deeply Imbedded Dirt can often be removed completely by soaking the article overnight in ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER, ½ cup of your favorite detergent and ¼ cup of non-chlorine type bleach mixed together in a washerful of water. Work solution well into the material, let it soak in solution as long as possible (preferably overnight)—then run through a complete washing cycle.

NOTE: If using chlorine type bleach, always dilute with water before adding to wash water.

CUT OUT AND SAVE!

Every housewife is confronted with those hard to remove stains such as grease, blood, grass etc. Now, CUT OUT and HANG this remarkable STAIN REMOVAL CHART in your laundry or utility room and use it as a reference. There will hardly be a day when you'll not refer to this chart. This STAIN REMOVAL CHART will show you solutions and procedures for removal of 20 of the most common household stains . . . PLUS informative information HOW TO PROPERLY CLEAN AND RESTORE ORIGINAL WHITENESS AND BRIGHTNESS TO SYNTHETIC FABRICS, HOW TO RENEW WATER SOFTENERS

SUPER CLEANER

Makes water wetter...makes detergents work better!

For Normal Washing in Automatics or by Hand, add at least ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER to the wash water. (For exceptionally soiled clothes, use more —up to ½ cup). If a garment is stained, locate the specific stain on the chart below and follow the suggested treatment exactly. Prompt action with MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER can often remove stains before they become permanently set in the fabric.

Stain Removal Chart for Washables

TYPE OF STAIN	TREATMENT
BLOOD	Soak in cold water 45 minutes or longer. If stain persists soak in 1 gallon solution of MIRACLE WHITE and warm water plus 2 ounces of household ammonia, for 30 minutes. If this does not work rub detergent into stain, launder using a bleach safe for the fabric.
CHEWING GUM	Harden gum by rubbing with ice. Scrape as much as possible. Sponge with good dry cleaning fluid. Rinse and launder.
CHOCOLATE AND COCOA	Soak the stained area in cold water plus ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE. Pretreat stain with detergent and launder in as hot water as fabric can stand safely. Remove any left over grease stain when dry with good dry cleaning fluid. If stain persists sponge with hydrogen peroxide, rinse and launder.
COFFEE AND TEA	To remove fresh tea and coffee stains, stretch stained area over a bowl (preferably collander), secure with string or rubber band and pour boiling water over stained area until lightened. Launder in water at least 150 degrees to which add ¼ to ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent and ½ to ¾ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach. If cream was used and grease stain remains, sponge with dry cleaner. Very old stains are sometimes impossible to remove.
CREAM, ICE CREAM, AND MILK	Sponge or soak in cold water. Rub a solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent into spot and launder. Sponge any grease spot with good dry cleaning fluid. If coloring remains, bleach according to type of fabric.
CRAYON	Loosen stain with kitchen shortening, apply detergent on stain. Rub stained area until stain begins to disappear. Launder as usual. Repeat if necessary, using an all purpose household liquid cleaner. If stain still persists use a bleach recommended for the fabric. On silk or wool, sponge stain with good dry cleaning fluid.
PERSPIRATION	Fresh perspiration stains usually are acid, while old ones may be alkaline. When garment is removed from body, immediately rinse perspiration stain with plain water. Dry before placing into clothes hamper (to prevent mildew). Old stains should be sponged with white vinegar. Launder in water as hot as material calls for adding ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ cup low sudsing detergent.
DYE OR TRANSFER OF COLOR	Removal from colored items is almost impossible. Bleach colorfast items immediately using either chlorine or NON-chlorine powdered bleach as suited to fabric or water contents.
FRUIT STAINS	All fruit and berry stains, except cherry, pear, peach and plum can be removed by pouring boiling water over stain until lightened. Pre-soak in hot water adding ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ cup low sudsing detergent for 25 minutes. Launder and rinse. For cherry, pear, peach, and plum, sponge with cold water and then proceed as above.
GRASS	Add ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE to warm suds, soak well, then rub or put thru washer. Bleach stubborn stains with hydrogen peroxide, rinse well.
COSMETICS	Pretreat with solution of 1 gallon warm water, ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE and ¼ cup detergent, soak then launder.
INK	Most permanent and ball point inks are almost impossible to remove. Pour cold water on stain and keep pouring until color is light. Rub in lemon juice and detergent. Let stand 15 min. Launder. If stain has not come out soak in solution of 1 gallon Hot water, ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE and 1 full cup of powdered non-chlorine type bleach for 1 hour.
IODINE	Remove stain with sodium thiosulfate crystals (purchase at drug store). Rinse and launder in solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent.
MEAT, JUICE AND EGG	If dried scrape off excess gently. Sponge with cold water. Rub a solution of MIRACLE WHITE and detergent into stain, then launder, using a bleach designed for fabric. On wool or wash and wears, sponge with cold water, then good dry cleaning fluid. Rinse and launder.
CANDLEWAX	Scrape off as much as possible with dull knife. To remove balance of wax, place fabric between 2 paper towels and iron with warm iron. Remove any residue with trichlorthane then launder with your favorite detergent and MIRACLE WHITE.
RUST (Due to Well Water)	Add ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to wash water, let soak one hour or longer, add low sudsing detergent and put through wash cycle. Add ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE (more if iron content is high) to final fresh rinse water. Do NOT use chlorine type bleaches in rust water.
SOFT DRINKS	Sponge spot with cold water as soon as possible. Some stains are invisible when dry, but turn yellow with heat or age. These cannot be removed.
AUTOMOBILE AND FURNITURE UPHOLSTERY, RUGS AND CARPETS	Add ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to ½ pail of warm water, add ¼ cup of dishwashing detergent. Soak sponge in water, squeeze dry, sponge upholstery and/or plastic covers.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES	Sponge with cold water. Soak area with solution of Vinegar and water. Rinse with clear water. Launder with ¼ cup MIRACLE WHITE and your favorite detergent added to the wash water.
YELLOWED AND STAINED DIAPERS	Soak diapers for 1 hour or more in pail with a solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup of dry non-chlorine type bleach or ammonia, ¼ cup detergent. After soaking, pour entire contents into washing machine. Run through entire cycle.
TO RESTORE WHITENESS OR BRIGHTNESS TO WHITE OR COLORFAST SYNTHETIC UNIFORMS	Pre-soak for 1 hour in solution of ½ to ¾ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ to 1 full cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent (water at least 150 degrees). Run complete cycle. This procedure works exceptionally well for the general brightening of the uniforms of nurses, doctors, waitresses, cosmeticians and barbers. For specific stains, see the appropriate section of this chart.
HELP REMOVE BABY'S FORMULA AND VITAMIN STAINS	Rub stained area with household rubbing alcohol. Soak for 1 hour in solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE to 2 gallons water. Rub powdered scouring cleanser into stain. Pour solution and garments into washing machine with detergent. Run through complete cycle.
LINENS, TABLECLOTHS, AND NAPKINS (WHITE AND COLORFAST)	For WHITE MATERIAL: Soak for one hour or longer in ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup DILUTED CHLORINE BLEACH, ½ cup detergent. For COLORED MATERIAL: Substitute a NON-chlorine powdered bleach. NOTE: NEVER use a chlorine type bleach when there is iron rust and/or hard minerals in water supply.
DIRTY AND GRIMY WORK CLOTHES	WHITE WORK CLOTHES: Soak 1 hour or more in solution of ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ½ cup liquid bleach, ½ cup detergent. COLORED WORK CLOTHES: Substitute a dry non-chlorine type bleach or ammonia for the liquid bleach. Pour entire contents into washer. Run through the complete cycle.
BATHROOM TILE WALLS AND BATH MATS	To remove white lime stains from tile walls, shower stalls: Soak cloth or sponge with concentrated MIRACLE WHITE rub over white lime scale, then rinse with clear water. To remove white lime scale and black stains from rubber bath mats: Pour 1 or 2 cupfuls of MIRACLE WHITE into bath tub, fill with enough water to cover mat, let soak overnight. Rinse in clear water.
SYNTHETIC AND FIBER-GLASS DRAPERIES (COLORFAST)	Pre-soak for ½ hour in water at least 150 degrees to which is added ½ to ¾ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent. Run through regular wash cycle.
MILDEW	Mildew stains are mold growths and if not attended to can rot the fabric. Brush stained areas out-of-doors to remove spores (seed equivalent). Pre-soak in hot water (at least 150 degrees) to which is added ¼ to ½ cup MIRACLE WHITE, ¾ to 1 full cup NON-chlorine powdered bleach and ¼ to ½ cup low sudsing detergent for 30 minutes. Put through complete wash cycle.
RENEW WATER SOFTENERS (No tools necessary) Makes Water Softeners Work Like New Again	MIRACLE WHITE cleans and removes rust and debris from all filters and water softeners, quickly, safely. MIRACLE WHITE is harmless and safe for septics. Biodegradable-NON-TOXIC. FOR MANUAL SOFTENERS & FILTERS: Pour ½ gallon (2 quarts) into mineral tank. Run cold water for 3 or 4 minutes. After a few hours, back wash. To keep unit in top operation, add 1 cup MIRACLE WHITE to salt with each regeneration. FOR AUTOMATICS: Pour 1 to 2 quarts MIRACLE WHITE into well that contains float, inside brine tank. FOR PRESSURE BRINE. Add ½ gallon to pressure brine tank. Always add 1 quart MIRACLE WHITE when filling tank with salt.
PERMA PRESS, WASH AND WEAR, SYNTHETIC FABRICS	All these fabrics tend to repel water. This means that it takes up to 6 minutes of a 10 minute wash cycle just to saturate the material, leaving only 4 minutes for washing action . . . not enough for thorough cleaning. ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER in your machine (or 2 oz. per gallon if you're washing by hand) makes the fabric become saturated immediately, allowing deep down cleaning and resulting in a beautiful, like-new look to the article.

NOTE: Unusually Difficult Stains and Deeply Imbedded Dirt can often be removed completely by soaking the article overnight in ¼ cup of MIRACLE WHITE SUPER CLEANER, ½ cup of your favorite detergent and ¼ cup of non-chlorine type bleach mixed together in a washerful of water. Work solution well into the material, let it soak in solution as long as possible (preferably overnight)—then run through a complete washing cycle.

NOTE: If using chlorine type bleach, always dilute with water before adding to wash water.

Selected for Inclusion In 'Outstanding' Book

The Woodstock Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that John Stefano has been selected for inclusion in the 1968 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

Stefano is assistant principal of Onteora High School and has also received the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award for 1967.

Outstanding Young Men of America is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 10,000 young men of outstanding rank throughout the country.

President Lyndon B. Johnson has said about the Outstanding Young Men book, "The decision to honor in this manner the outstanding young men in our country is most welcome. it serves to spur these future leaders of our land to even greater accomplishments accomplishments and it encourages others to follow their example."

Stefano and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Woodstock and are the parents of three children, Judith, 8; Ellen, 6; John, 3.

Library Fair Plans Underway for 1968

Mrs. Monroe Longendyke, serving her second consecutive year as Fair Chairman, has announced that the first meeting of committee chairmen will be held March 4. She also announced that Stephanie Godwin has agreed to run the book table for the fair.

Four hundred people attended a gala open-house at the Library on Sunday, Feb. 11, to officially commemorate the successful completion of the $60,000 remodeling program. The library actually reopened to the public six weeks ago. Mrs. Ellin Roberts, the new librarian, reports that books are now being taken out at the rate of over 200 per day. It represents a significant increase over the usual January-February daily circulation rate.

Mrs. Roberts has also noted an increase in persons asking for library membership applications and other information about library membership. It is not necessary to be a member to utilize the Library's service, but memberships now provide only $2,000 per year of the annual income. Although the Library serves a total population of approximately 8,000 people, membership now stands at only 300 people.

The following new book acquisitions during January have been announced by Mari Bollman, book selection committee chairman: The Blast of War, Macmillan; Hitchcock, Truffault; A Pride of Prejudice, Royster; The Year 2000, Kahn and Wiener; Ski The Champion Way, McCulloch; Ehrenburg, Post-War Years, 1945-1954; Surtsey: New Island in North Atlantic, Thorarinsson; Man and the Matterhorn, Rebuffat.

Also, Black Power, Carmichael and Hamilton; American Heritage History of the Thirteen Colonies, The Sculpture of Gaston Lachaise, The Falkners of Mississippi, M. C. Falkner; Crossroads, McConkey; Giacomo Joyce, Joyce; The Witnesses, Waring; Stop-Time, Conroy; The Hochmann Miniatures, Fish.

Runaway

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — After being reprimanded by her parents, Lela Shiver announced she was running away from home.

The four-year-old girl left but returned a few minutes later to ask a pertinent question.

"Mommy," she said, "When you run away from home, do you run up the street or down the street?"

Snowmobile Bill Signed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has signed a bill freeing property owners of any financial liabilty for accidents that occur when they permit snowmobiles to operate on their property.

The legislation is effective Sept. 1.

The measure, signed Tuesday, was sponsored by Assemblyman Charles F. Stockmeister and had been approved unanimously by both the Assembly and the Senate.

Under previous law, property owners could not be held liable for injuries that arose when they permitted their land to be used for hunting, fishing, trapping or training of hunting dogs.

CORRESPONDENT WOUNDED — UPI correspondent Alvin B. Webb received shrapnel wounds in the leg, lower back and head during fighting at Hue. Webb, who has served in Vietnam for more than 18 months and has covered most of the 21-day battle for Hue, was taken to the U. S. military hospital at Phu Bai below Hue and then transferred to a Saigon hospital. First reports said he would have to stay in bed for a few days. Webb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Webb of Knoxville, Tenn. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Leary May Have to Leave His LSD Farm But Not Dutchess County, Cohort Says

MILLBROOK, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary may have to leave his LSD farm here, but one of his cohorts has said Leary doesn't plan to leave Dutchess County.

Still on Farm

Arthur Kleps of the Neo-American Church, served with a summary eviction notice Monday with Leary said "Leary will leave as ordered but plans to set up a psychedelic coffee shop where he and his friends can continue operating."

So far Leary has not left the farm. His attorney, Noel Tepper of Poughkeepsie said "if the Hitchcock Corporation is determined to remove Leary and his followers from the premises, they have every right to do so. This does not mean, however, that Dr. Leary will remove his operation entirely from Dutchess County. There's always the possibility of his finding another place to settle."

The Hitchcock Cattle Corp. which owns the 2,500-acre estate, served the eviction notice. Leary has been staying there with his psychedelic cult with the consent of socialite William Hitchcock, son of famed polo player, Tommy Hitchcock.

Tepper said he thought the reason for the eviction grew out of the cattle corporation's "concern about the reputation of the family and the innumerable prosecutions."

Drug Recognition Course Is Given

FARMINGVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Police gave a course in drug recognition this week to student leaders of the State University's Stony Brook campus, in a lecture at which the audience got to see, touch and smell various forms of illegal drugs.

The half-hour lecture was given to some 50 dormitory advisers at the Suffolk County Mental Health Board's building here, which is about four miles from Stony Brook. The advisers are senior students responsible for good order in their sections of the dorms.

Detective Sgt. Arnold Dihrberg of the county police's technical laboratory, showed the students marijuana in raw form and as cigarettes, barbiturate and emphetimine pills.

One of the students, Peggy Ingino, a senior from Hicksville, commented afterward that the role of resident advisers at the university has changed radically since the Jan. 17 police raids on the campus. The predawn roundup of suspected narcotics users touched off a storm in the state legislature and brought two investigating committees to New York to hold hearings on narcotics use at the school.

"We used to be counsellors," said Miss Ingino. "Now we act more like sheriffs."

The university's newly appointed consultant on drugs, Dean A. Hepper, said that advisers now must report any evidence of drug activities to the quad directors, who are the adults in charge of the dorms.

What will be done with such information, Hepper said, is to be decided Thursday at a meeting to be attended by Stony Brook administrators, Suffolk Police Commissioner John L. Barry and County Executive H. Lee Dennison.

Two more drug-recognition lectures were scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, for the rest of the nearly 150 dormitory advisers at Stony Brook.

'Bonnie and Clyde,' 'Guess Who's' Share

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Bonnie and Clyde" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" took top honors in the 40th annual Academy Awards nominations today with 10 mentions apiece.

The nominations featured a sentimental happening: Spencer Tracy who died last year, was named among the best actors for his final performance in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." It was the ninth nomination for the two-time winner.

Two first-time nominees for best actor were Warren Beatty for "Bonnie and Clyde" and Dustin Hoffman for "The Graduate." Also named were Paul Newman for "Cool Hand Luke" and Rod Steiger for "In the Heat of the Night."

Three past winners won nominations for best actress— Anne Bancroft, "The Graduate" Audrey Hepburn, "Wait Until Dark" and Katharine Hepburn, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." The other nominees were newcomer Faye Dunaway for "Bonnie and Clyde" and the veteran Dame Edith Evans for "The Whisperers."

The nominees for best picture of the year were: "Bonnie and Clyde," the violent tale of bank robbers in the 1930s; "Doctor Dolittle," children's fantasy; "The Graduate," a sex-charged account of a college graduate's search for identity; "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," an account of inter-racial romance, and "In The Heat of the Night," murder in the deep south.

Curiously, Sidney Poitier starred in the latter two films yet failed to win a nomination as best actor. He won a best actor Oscar in 1963 for "Lilies of the Field."

CORRESPONDENT WOUNDED — UPI correspondent Alvin B. Webb received shrapnel wounds in the leg, lower back and head during fighting at Hue. Webb, who has served in Vietnam for more than 18 months and has covered most of the 21-day battle for Hue, was taken to the U. S. military hospital at Phu Bai below Hue and then transferred to a Saigon hospital. First reports said he would have to stay in bed for a few days. Webb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Webb of Knoxville, Tenn. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Leary May Have to Leave His LSD Farm But Not Dutchess County, Cohort Says

MILLBROOK, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary may have to leave his LSD farm here, but one of his cohorts has said Leary doesn't plan to leave Dutchess County.

Still on Farm

Arthur Kleps of the Neo-American Church, served with a summary eviction notice Monday with Leary said "Leary will leave as ordered but plans to set up a psychedelic coffee shop where he and his friends can continue operating."

So far Leary has not left the farm. His attorney, Noel Tepper of Poughkeepsie said "if the Hitchcock Corporation is determined to remove Leary and his followers from the premises, they have every right to do so. This does not mean, however, that Dr. Leary will remove his operation entirely from Dutchess County. There's always the possibility of his finding another place to settle."

The Hitchcock Cattle Corp. which owns the 2,500-acre estate, served the eviction notice. Leary has been staying there with his psychedelic cult with the consent of socialite William Hitchcock, son of famed polo player, Tommy Hitchcock.

Tepper said he thought the reason for the eviction grew out of the cattle corporation's "concern about the reputation of the family and the innumerable prosecutions."

Drug Recognition Course Is Given

FARMINGVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Police gave a course in drug recognition this week to student leaders of the State University's Stony Brook campus, in a lecture at which the audience got to see, touch and smell various forms of illegal drugs.

The half-hour lecture was given to some 50 dormitory advisers at the Suffolk County Mental Health Board's building here, which is about four miles from Stony Brook. The advisers are senior students responsible for good order in their sections of the dorms.

Detective Sgt. Arnold Dihrberg of the county police's technical laboratory, showed the students marijuana in raw form and as cigarettes, barbiturate and emphetimine pills.

One of the students, Peggy Ingino, a senior from Hicksville, commented afterward that the role of resident advisers at the university has changed radically since the Jan. 17 police raids on the campus. The predawn roundup of suspected narcotics users touched off a storm in the state legislature and brought two investigating committees to New York to hold hearings on narcotics use at the school.

Ski Lift Fatal Probe Continues

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — Investigators from the State Labor Department were to continue their inspection today at nearby Grosstal Ski center, scene of a fatal accident Saturday.

Walter B. Miskey, head of the State Labor Department's Industrial Safety Services Division in Buffalo, said, however, there would be no comment on the inspection until it was completed.

About 30 persons were injured when the chair lift at the ski center reversed. Approximately 100 passengers were on the lift. It was reported that the lift was at the time.

Miskey said, however, the seven shortcomings found by the state "did not have a bearing on the accident."

Meanwhile, the Buffalo Courier-Express reported safety code compliance orders were pending at 13 of the 31 ski areas in Western New York. One of the 13 is state operated, and the orders there and elsewhere involve safety devices used to stop ski lifts, the newspaper added.

Officials in the labor department's bureau of construction said some of the violations were noted after recent changes in the state code brought about by decisions of the Board of Safety and Appeals.

In Albany the labor department said an inquiry would be held within 10 days concerning the incident.

Four Upstaters Die in Vietnam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four Upstate servicemen have been reported killed in action recently in the Vietnam fighting their families say.

Army Pfc. David R. Reynolds, of Buffalo, was killed recently but no details of the death were known, his parents said.

Reynolds, a graduate of Kensington High School, was a member of the 173rd Airborne Division.

Besides his parents he leaves two brothers and two sisters.

The family lives at 307-B Langfield Drive.

Marine Lance Cpl. Joseph T. Bailey, 20, of Gainsville, died last Friday of wounds suffered in the Vietnam fighting. He entered the Marine Corps just over a year ago after attending Letchworth Central High School.

Marine Pfc. William M. Devos, 19, of Rochester was killed Sunday by a sniper's bullet while on patrol in Quang Tri Province. He graduated from East High School in 1967.

His family lives at 190 Minnesota St.

Arrest Militant Buddhist Leader

SAIGON (AP) National police arrested the militant Buddhist leader Thich Tri Quang today a few hours after arresting two other prominent political opponents of the South Vietnamese government.

U.S. Embassy officials said the arrests were a remarkable case of bad timing since they came shortly before a new anti-Communist front, "The People's Congress for National Salvation," announced that it had succeeded in uniting political friends and foes of the government. The congress is backed by the government.

Associates and friends of all three arrested men are members of the new congress. There was speculation that they might quit because of the surprise arrests.

In addition to the monk Tri Quang, the police arrested Truong Dinh Dzu, who ran a strong second as a peace candidate in last October's presidential election, and Au Truong Thanh, a former economy minister. Thanh also tried to run for president on a peace platform but his ticket was disqualified by the Constituent Assembly for "pro-Communist and pro-neutralist tendencies." Dzu got around that by keeping his peace platform quiet until after the assembly certified his candidacy.

Informed American sources said further arrests of government opponents were "entirely possible." They could not confirm reports that a small number of intellectuals had also been arrested.

Tri Quang commands a large following throughout South Vietnam. As recently as last September he was able to call thousands of Buddhist monks, nuns and laymen into the streets for protest marches against the government. In 1966 he led "struggle movements" against the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and virtual anarchy in Hue and Da Nang was put down only after government troops were flown in.

The new anti-Communist front held its first meeting with newsmen today and announced it had united several different groups and personalities to counter the Viet Cong offensive.

The chairman of the standing committee, Sen. Tran Van Don, said although the group has government's backing, it is not a government group. However, Vice President Ky's press aide helped organize the meeting, and soldiers set up the loudspeaker system for the news conference.

Associates and friends of all three arrested men are members of the new congress. There was speculation that they might quit because of the surprise arrests.

In addition to the monk Tri Quang, the police arrested Truong Dinh Dzu, who ran a strong second as a peace candidate in last October's presidential election, and Au Truong Thanh, a former economy minister. Thanh also tried to run for president on a peace platform but his ticket was disqualified by the Constituent Assembly for "pro-Communist and pro-neutralist tendencies." Dzu got around that by keeping his peace platform quiet until after the assembly certified his candidacy.

Informed American sources said further arrests of government opponents were "entirely possible." They could not confirm reports that a small number of intellectuals had also been arrested.

Tri Quang commands a large following throughout South Vietnam. As recently as last September he was able to call thousands of Buddhist monks, nuns and laymen into the streets for protest marches against the government. In 1966 he led "struggle movements" against the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and virtual anarchy in Hue and Da Nang was put down only after government troops were flown in.

The new anti-Communist front held its first meeting with newsmen today and announced it had united several different groups and personalities to counter the Viet Cong offensive.

The chairman of the standing committee, Sen. Tran Van Don, said although the group has government's backing, it is not a government group. However, Vice President Ky's press aide helped organize the meeting, and soldiers set up the loudspeaker system for the news conference.

Congressman Wants On Job Training Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has failed to provide funds for the job training projects it has approved in New York State, a New York congressman says.

Rep. Howard W. Robison of Owego said Tuesday New York has received only $300,000 of $4.7 million the department had agreed to make available to the state in the year ending June 30. It has received no funds since October, he said.

In a telegram to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, the Republican congressman said the situation is calculated "to disenchant even the most previously cooperative employer."

"It's continuance threatens not only the many projects already approved in New York State," Robison said, "but also the acceptance and possible success of the newer programs which your department will try to sell to private employers."

Dies in Fire

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — John I. Vaner, 75, died Monday in a fire at his house near this Southern Tier city.

Fire officials said a short circuit may have caused the fire. Vaner's death was attributed to asphyxiation.

Bill for Servicemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military personnel would not have to pay taxes on re - enlistment bonuses under a bill introduced by Rep. Carleton J. King, R-N.Y.

"It doesn't seem right," King said Tuesday, "to offer an individual a bonus incentive to reenlist and then take part of it away from him in the form of taxes."

FUN IN THE SUN—The newspaper headline explains this high school student's expression as she, along with hundreds of others spend the day surfing instead of in school. They are among thousands of Florida students whose schools were closed after a mass walkout by some 35,000 teachers around the state, who turned in their resignations after a special session of the legislature failed to satisfy their demands for higher wages and other benefits. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Affirmative Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Jacob K. Javits each voted in favor of refusing to invoke cloture on the civil rights bill in a roll - call vote in the Senate Tuesday.

The move to invoke cloture was defeated, 55 to 37. Kennedy is a Democrat and Javits a Republican.

WAC Program

Sergeant Edward Keene urges those women who qualify for this program to write, call, or visit him at the local Recruiting Station, 640 Broadway, Kingston.

Thruway Arrests

Two Albany men were arrested by Thruway State Police Tuesday night after they were stopped near Coxsackie by Troopers Daniel Devine and R. C. Best for a routine check.

Nathaniel Carney was accused of driving a car without a license. Cornies Hawthorne, 40, of 43 Tenbrock Street, Albany, was cited for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car. Search of the vehicle uncovered a billy club, and Hawthorne was accused of possessing a dangerous weapon.

Both were taken before Catskill Town Justice George Carl. Pleas of guilty resulted in fines of $50, authorities said.

Aid Chief Is Taking His Lumps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid chief William Steen Gaud is taking his lumps but bearing up well, at least in public.

He's undergone a two-week bombardment of charges of scandal and inefficiency in his far-flung, high-spending Agency for International Development.

Yet the lean, salty administrator—in his first interview since the storm season began—still talked with undiminished zeal of a worldwide agricultural revolution and the blessings of birth control.

A sex scandal involving AID officials in Belgium? A high-level padded expense account in Washington?

"Foolishness. Just sheer foolishness in both cases. Not viciousness at all," Gaud (rhymes with cloud) told a reporter.

Is AID morale sagging?

"I'm the worst person to ask that," said the 60-year-old AID boss. "They don't all wander in here and tell me they feel like hell.

"And yet it's been a bad two weeks. I can't imagine it hasn't bothered and discouraged them. That's why I gave them that pep talk Monday."

As for his own morale, Gaud —who's headed AID for a year and a half and been in it nearly seven—said, "I'm okay. I've had some bad moments in the last two weeks.

Real Frustration

"But my real frustration is the lack of public support and understanding of foreign aid. That's the toughest part: Feeling this kind of program is so vital to the future of the world, yet being unable to make the people at large understand this."

Gaud refused to accept speculation that his foreign aid program will be torn apart by Congress because of AID's troubles.

"We're going to have a tough time getting the $2.5 billion we asked for," he acknowledged. "But that would have been true in any case; it always is.

"Maybe I'm a sucker for feeling this way, but I think most of them (congressmen) recognize that we're trying to run this agency well, constantly improving ourselves. Those who like to make a career of kicking us, of course, will certainly have a new pretext for doing so."

Gaud enthusiastically claimed AID accomplishments in the agricultural and economic development of the world's emerging nations; of the gradual acceptance of birt h control in the heavily populated ones.

A neat, tweedy dresser, he sat in a straight-back chair in his well-appointed State Depart ment suite. His slightly-cultured accent made it doubly surprising when he larded his phrases with seamanlike expletives.

Policy Change

"The problem is that there's been a great change in foreign aid since it really got going in the 50s," Gaud said. "At the time of the Marshall Plan, we were aiding Europe— the French, the Dutch, the Belgians, with whom we had blood ties.

"The Cold War was hotter then; people were really worried about communism. They had a real stake in foreign aid. Today it's going to a lot of people they've never heard of before—Indians, Bolivians, Thais.

A native New Yorker, Gaud grew up in Charleston, S. C. His home town now is Greenwich, Conn. During World War II he helped supervise lend-lease to India, China and Burma. He left his law practice in New York to join AID in 1961 as an assistant administrator. He became deputy administrator in 1964 and was sworn into his present job in July 1966.

Would he consider resigning under the recent barrage?

State Officers Visit Rondout Lodge March 4

Monday evening, March 4, Mrs. Rhea H. LaVeck and John K. France, grand matron and grand patron of the Order of the Eastern Star of the State of New York will be present as Rondout Lodge 343 honors the members of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. LaVeck of Pulaski, and Mr. France of Hobart, were installed at the annual session of the Order of the Eastern Star held at the New York Hilton, New York City, Oct. 12, 1967. Their official state visitations start in March.

A special program has been arranged for their visit. Arthur F. Aldridge, master of Rondout Lodge, urges all master masons and Eastern Star members in the area to attend.

Aid Chief Is Taking His Lumps

He's undergone a two-week bombardment of charges of scandal and inefficiency in his far-flung, high-spending Agency for International Development.

Yet the lean, salty administrator—in his first interview since the storm season began—still talked with undiminished zeal of a worldwide agricultural revolution and the blessings of birth control.

A sex scandal involving AID officials in Belgium? A high-level padded expense account in Washington?

"Foolishness. Just sheer foolishness in both cases. Not viciousness at all," Gaud (rhymes with cloud) told a reporter.

"And anyone who says the whole AID operation is rotten because of these things is talking a lot of damned nonsense."

Is AID morale sagging?

"I'm the worst person to ask that," said the 60-year-old AID boss. "They don't all wander in here and tell me they feel like hell.

"And yet it's been a bad two weeks. I can't imagine it hasn't bothered and discouraged them. That's why I gave them that pep talk Monday."

As for his own morale, Gaud—who's headed AID for a year and a half and been in it nearly seven—said, "I'm okay. I've had some bad moments in the last two weeks.

Real Frustration

"But my real frustration is the lack of public support and understanding of foreign aid. That's the toughest part: Feeling this kind of program is so vital to the future of the world, yet being unable to make the people at large understand this."

Gaud refused to accept speculation that his foreign aid program will be torn apart by Congress because of AID's troubles.

"We're going to have a tough time getting the $2.5 billion we asked for," he acknowledged. "But that would have been true in any case; it always is.

"Maybe I'm a sucker for feeling this way, but I think most of them (congressmen) recognize that we're trying to run this agency well, constantly improving ourselves. Those who like to make a career of kicking us, of course, will certainly have a new pretext for doing so."

Gaud enthusiastically claimed AID accomplishments in the agricultural and economic development of the world's emerging nations; of the gradual acceptance of birt h control in the heavily populated ones.

A neat, tweedy dresser, he sat in a straight-back chair in his well-appointed State Department suite. His slightly-cultured accent made it doubly surprising when he larded his phrases with seamanlike expletives.

Policy Change

"The problem is that there's been a great change in foreign aid since it really got going in the 50s," Gaud said. "At the time of the Marshall Plan, we were aiding Europe— the French, the Dutch, the Belgians, with whom we had blood ties.

"The Cold War was hotter then; people were really worried about communism. They had a real stake in foreign aid. Today it's going to a lot of people they've never heard of before—Indians, Bolivians, Thais.

A native New Yorker, Gaud grew up in Charleston, S. C. His home town now is Greenwich, Conn. During World War II he helped supervise lend-lease to India, China and Burma. He left his law practice in New York to join AID in 1961 as an assistant administrator. He became deputy administrator in 1964 and was sworn into his present job in July 1966.

Would he consider resigning under the recent barrage?

State Officers Visit Rondout Lodge March 4

Monday evening, March 4, Mrs. Rhea H. LaVeck and John K. France, grand matron and grand patron of the Order of the Eastern Star of the State of New York will be present as Rondout Lodge 343 honors the members of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. LaVeck of Pulaski, and Mr. France of Hobart, were installed at the annual session of the Order of the Eastern Star held at the New York Hilton, New York City, Oct. 12, 1967. Their official state visitations start in March.

A special program has been arranged for their visit. Arthur F. Aldridge, master of Rondout Lodge, urges all master masons and Eastern Star members in the area to attend.

More Strike Deadlines Loom At GM Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Strike deadlines loom at nine more General Motors Corp. plants in local-contract disputes at a time when the world's largest automaker is just recovering from the latest wave of local walkouts.

The United Auto Workers Tuesday announced strike deadlines at seven more plants at the end of five working days unless local contracts, which supplement the national agreement, were reached. Strike deadlines already were pending at two othr plants.

Meanwhile, Tuesday, usually reliable sources said American Motors Corp. and the UAW had stalled on negotiations for a new national contract.

There is no new bargaining session until Feb. 28, a day before a union-set target date for a new contract. However, the union has not set a strike date.

In the United States, a GM spokesman said local contracts had been reached at 128 of 134 union bargaining units and 34 parts warehouses.

Strike threats were pending this week at two GM plants, including a foundary in Massena, N.Y., at 10 p.m. today, and at an axle plant in Buffalo at 2:15 p.m. Friday.

UR Committee, Agency Confer; Will See Joe

Alderman John Machione (R-12th Ward) presented a petition containing some 60 signatures of residents of his ward protesting urban renewal plans in the Murphy-Taylor Street Hurley Avenue area at last night's meeting between the Common Council Urban Renewal Committee and the urban renewal agency.

Joseph Epstein (D-Sixth Ward), chairman of the urban renewal committee, voiced the opinion that priority should be given Downtown rehabilitation over Uptown acquisition and demolition.

General plans for Downtown and Uptown were discussed including the Murphy Street dike and a proposed 425-car Uptown parking garage. According to Machione, no plans of the proposed $800,000 dike to be built by the Army Corps of Engineers, are available.

Machione will take the complaints of his constituents who want their homes rehabilitated, not demolished, to Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick tomorrow at 4 p. m. in the Congressman's office, 2 Pearl Street.

Jail Disturbance

Michael J. Earl, 22 of Albany picked up as a hitchhiker in West Hurley and committed to the County Jail Tuesday created a disturbance in jail when asked to shave early today. Due to the violent actions of the prisoner Warden Carl S. Cline checked further and discovered that the prisoner was an escapee from Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie. Warden Cline said that the escapee had been missing from the hospital since last Saturday.

The New Dissent: TV and Theatres

Political Satire More Stringent, Bitter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Item 1: "Support Our Boys in Canada."

The reference is to Americans who cross the border to dodge the draft. Where does the placard appear? Not in a peace march, but on a network television show, "Laugh-in." It is flashed on the screen so rapidly that most viewers couldn't read it.

Item 2:

On the Smothers Brothers Show, Tom and Dick are discussing the offering of London Bridge for sale. Tom says he would like to buy it, and Dick asks what he would do with the bridge.

Tom: I'd give it to President Johnson.

Dick: What for?

Item 3:

Pat Paulsen, avowed noncandidate for president on the Smothers Brothers Show, comments: "As a comedian, I think I could be just as effective as President Johnson." Cut by the CBS censors was his following line: "But I don't think I could run the country as funny."

Item 4:

Tommy Smothers, by a curious pattern of cross-pollination, appears on the Rowan and Martin "Laugh-in" and delivers the one-line blackout: "Let's all get behind President Johnson—and push!"

These items offer evidence of the New Dissent that has appeared in the entertainment medium during the past year. Dictionary definition: Dissent—to differ in sentiment or opinion from the majority.

Political satire has been a part of the American entertainment scene from Will Rogers to Bob Hope. Comedy makers from the time of Aristophanes have used those in authority as the butt of their jokes, usually to the glee of those who are governed.

But in recent times the tone of the satire has become more strident, the attacks more bitter. They range from the antiestablishment humor of The Smothers Brothers Show and "Laugh-in" to the sledge-hammer blows of the off-Broadway play, "MacBird."

The remarkable aspect of the New Dissent is the availability of mass media. When Harry Belafonte took over the "Tonight" show in place of Johnny Carson this month, he not only sang calypso songs; he also used the NBC program as a forum for his views on Vietnam.

In interviewing Dr. Martin Luther King, Belafonte declared: "All of us here feel very strongly on the war, and we oppose it." The singer added his support of the protest vote for Sen. Eugene McCarthy. No demand for equal time to register opposing views has been reported.

Recently Tommy Smothers, who opposes President Johnson both on and off the television screen, was asked about the issue of equal time for Democratic loyalists.

"We feel the administration's views on Vietnam get plenty of airing on television," the comedian replied. "The Bob Hope Show, for example."

His argument is that Hope, with his Christmas special based on his entertainment tour of Vietnam, gives wide circulation to the hawkish side of the war. Hope and John Wayne are the most vocal of the show-business hawks; Wayne recently directed and starred in the first major film about the Vietnam war, "The Green Berets."

Comics Dan Rowan and Dick Martin of "Laugh-in" acknowledge that they are doves on Vietnam and they wear peace emblems on their jackets as proof. They say they think most of the people in the country are for peace.

Dissent from the administration's Vietnam policies is being expressed in film theaters as well. United Artists is releasing "Live for Living," in which Claude Lelouche ("A Man and a Woman") inveighs against the American position in Vietnam. The film was financed by U.S. money and stars Yves Montand and Candice Bergen.

During the Depression and war years, show business personalities often lent their names and financial support to causes that were at variance with majority opinion. The ascent of Sen. Joseph McCarthy changed that. Many actors, writers and directors found they were unemployable because their names had been linked by congressional committees or private organizations to causes that proved to be unpopular.

The result was a long period in which entertainment figures refused to engage in any political activity.

Misguided Missiles

What's a "cross body block?" For that matter, what (or who) is a cross body?

Actually, the subject isn't funny. In the wake of a football season still fresh in memory, here's a description of the cross body block as reported (not inappropriately) by a doctor's newspaper, Medical Tribune:

"The blocker throws his body in a horizontal position at an opponent. The effect on the opponent's knee is the same as if it had been hit by a railroad tie. . . . A hazard to the blocker as well." This dramatic picture was given by Dr. Thomas R. Peterson at mid-west conference on medical aspects of high school sports.

Most high school coaches and trainers, as well as physicians involved with sports, are deeply concerned about the safety of their young charges. Many such functionaries attended the sports medicine conference and heard a report on a study of 189 lower limb injuries sustained in games played by four major football teams. Of the 189 injuries, 103 were attributed to the cross body block.

Dr. Peterson vigorously advocated a change in the rules that would prohibit this custom of turning a healthy high school boy into a misguided missile. So did many others at the meeting.

The cross body block is one example of the less attractive side of competitive school sports—the "winner" syndrome that puts victory above human values and sometimes above fair play. High School football can be beneficial to youngsters if played under rules and supervision that observe civilized standards and don't endanger life or limb. That's what enlightened school and medical officials advocate, and what parents of young gladiators should insist on.

The New Dissent: TV and Theatres

By BOB THOMAS

The reference is to Americans who cross the border to dodge the draft. Where does the placard appear? Not in a peace march, but on a network television show, "Laugh-in." It is flashed on the screen so rapidly that most viewers couldn't read it.

Item 2:

On the Smothers Brothers Show, Tom and Dick are discussing the offering of London Bridge for sale. Tom says he would like to buy it, and Dick asks what he would do with the bridge.

Tom: I'd give it to President Johnson.

Dick: What for?

Item 3:

Pat Paulsen, avowed noncandidate for president on the Smothers Brothers Show, comments: "As a comedian, I think I could be just as effective as President Johnson." Cut by the CBS censors was his following line: "But I don't think I could run the country as funny."

Item 4:

Tommy Smothers, by a curious pattern of cross-pollination, appears on the Rowan and Martin "Laugh-in" and delivers the one-line blackout: "Let's all get behind President Johnson—and push!"

These items offer evidence of the New Dissent that has appeared in the entertainment medium during the past year. Dictionary definition: Dissent—to differ in sentiment or opinion from the majority.

Political satire has been a part of the American intertainment scene from Will Rogers to Bob Hope. Comedy makers from the time of Aristophanes have used those in authority as the butt of their jokes, usually to the glee of those who are governed.

But in recent times the tone of the satire has become more strident, the attacks more bitter. They range from the antiestablishment humor of The Smothers Brothers Show and "Laugh-in" to the sledge-hammer blows of the off-Broadway play, "MacBird."

The remarkable aspect of the New Dissent is the availability of mass media. When Harry Belafonte took over the "Tonight" show in place of Johnny Carson this month, he not only sang calypso songs; he also used the NBC program as a forum for his views on Vietnam.

In interviewing Dr. Martin Luther King, Belafonte declared: "All of us here feel very strongly on the war, and we oppose it." The singer added his support of the protest vote for Sen. Eugene McCarthy. No demand for equal time to register opposing views has been reported.

Recently Tommy Smothers, who opposes President Johnson both on and off the television screen, was asked about the issue of equal time for Democratic loyalists.

"We feel the administration's views on Vietnam get plenty of airing on television," the comedian replied. "The Bob Hope Show, for example."

Notes Assurance on Jobs

Stanley Leyden, director of the Ulster County Community Action Committee and Dr. James I. Harris Jr., vice president of the African-American Institute, were guest speakers at Sunday night's NAACP meeting in the Riverview Baptist Church on Catherine Street.

Leyden charged unions with giving jobs on local projects to out of town workers. He said he has received assurances that this practice will stop.

Dr. Harris, an expert on Negro history, appealed to the youth of the community to "do their homework in studying problems in depth and coming up with acceptable alternatives.

Dr. Harris went on to praise youth for taking up the slack in the civil rights movement and other causes of humanitarian and social concern. Dr. Harris said he found it unfortunate that "some have chosen to escape into protest" and ended with a pledge of support for any youthful leaders who could convince him that they were, in fact, "leading towards something that was better."

Methods Offered To Save on Food Bills

BY JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — With a bit more care, education and training, households could cut 10 to 20 per cent from their food bills, saving $200 to $400 a year at the supermarket, insists Dr. Hanz Beisdorf of Cornell University.

Beisdorf's program for using the supermarket as a savings institution contains no magic, but still is attracting [illegible] attention in New York State, as testified by hundreds of people using his "Better Shopper" courses.

The program is bound to get even more attention as food costs go up. Farm prices rose last month, meaning retail price increases aren't far behind. Increases of as much as 3 per cent over 1967 are feared by Washington.

To combat rising food prices, Beisdorf and his associates use methods that are deceptively simple. They may offer little advice that is altogether new to wise shoppers. But, collected into a program, these bits of advice add up to big savings.

Among the suggestions: plan ahead, keep records so real bargains can be spotted, take advantage of weekend specials, buy in quantity for future use, study labels, reduce prices to amounts per pound or ounce, consider substitutes.

Nothing sensational, but that isn't all. The program then seeks to motivate the shopper. Self-study booklets and extension service instructors then attempt to take the recreation out of shopping and substitute business.

Shoppers are motivated to attack their job with cold efficiency, a little savagely perhaps, judging items critically and perhaps as adversaries trying to deprive them of cash for other things. Savings are always kept in mind.

For example, Beisdorf and Mary Burris, a home economist and coauthor of the program material, shopped carelessly and then carefully for a family of four. One cart cost $26.69, the other $22.70.

"If you're not impressed by cost cutting of $3.99 a week think of it as a yearly total of $207.48, or a savings of 15 per cent on your grocery bill," they reminded students. "And that's tax free," they add.

A study of meat prices in different supermarkets showed that if you bought five pounds of chuck roast a week over a period of 20 weeks, the 20 roasts would cost $62.30 if bought early in the week, $39.30 on weekend specials.

Frozen orange juice that cost $1.34 regularly was purchased for 99 cents on sale, or a saving of 35 cents on less than a dollar invested.

School Is Always a Circus

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Wilka Flunger is a schoolteacher whose classroom is a circus wagon. Her pupils are the sons and daughters of people who work for West Germany's largest traveling circus.

Since circuses thrive on superlatives, the classroom in wagon No. 100 of the Circus Krone is billed as the world's smallest. It measures seven square yards and Wilka, a dark-haired 23-year-old Bavarian, only eight months out of teachers' college, lives in the back.

That is why her 10 pupils, aged 6 to 10 years, have to take off their shoes before entering the classroom at 8 a.m. each weekday.

"I like traveling and I didn't want to work for the government," says Wilka, explaining why she took the circus job.

"Having several grades in one makes teaching more difficult. On the other hand, the group is small and I am able to devote more time to each child," she added.

The circus kids—six Germans, three Italians and a Belgian—get only two weeks summer vacation. Each time the circus moves, the classroom on wheels is loaded on a railway car and school can't go on. The children move so often in the summer that they have a lot of work to make up.

According to Wilka, her pupils like school.

"Once one of them woke me up at 6 a.m. because he couldn't wait until school started," she said. "The kids are used to elephants, horses and zebras and hardly pay any attention when the animals go past the window."

The school wagon is parked only 20 yards from the big top where the show goes on twice a day. The children do not take part. They leave the performing to their parents.

"I know most of the performers, especially those who have children in my school and I like to watch them." She claims she has no ambition to try one of the tricks in the show herself.

Each November, Wilka's pupils have to pass a government examination in Munich, where the circus has a permanent building and performs during the winter months.

All of the children, including foreigners, get instruction in German. The school uses the regular curriculum for Bavarian schools.

The Country Wife

By DOROTHY VAN DOREN

The face of war has never been so familiar or so horrifying. We see it every day now on TV, sometimes more than once. It is one thing to read about it. We have read about the Greeks climbing out of their wooden horse inside the walls of Troy; we read of Hector dragged three times around the city by Achilles' chariot. We have seen pictures: the quaint tapestried figures of knights in armor charging each other in the tournament; the Green Mountain boys, each head decorated with a bloody bandage; if we have done our Civil War homework we know of Thomas's charge with dead piled on dead, of the blood on the wheatfield at Gettysburg.

But it is all words; all pictures made by some artist after the fact. Long after the fact, usually. It is true that Brady's famous photographs showed us the body of more than one dead soldier; Goya rivalled modern cartoonists in depicting the nastiness of war. But these were pictures again.

Now every day, afternoons with the seven o'clock news, evenings at eleven before we go to bed, we see war. Real war, sad, personal, immediate, as it happened yesterday. We see a mother, all pity and terror in her face, holding in her arms the limp body of her baby; we see a young father with his small son clinging like a monkey to his back. People are running, pushing or carrying their possessions, what they can rescue of them. Behind them is the burning rubble of their homes. We see bodies, of the enemy, of refugees, of our own men, lying in the distorted postures of death. We have war for breakfast now, for lunch, for dinner. War puts us to sleep, or if we have not got quite inured to it, war keeps us awake.

It used to be thought that if people really knew what war was like, they would not allow it to happen again. Even the soldiers who took part in wars saw only their limited portion. Now everybody sees it all. The Vietnamese, North or South, little people mostly, slender, white shirts, black trousers, bare feet. Our own soldiers, looking so young, so crumpled, so worried. And why not? Every hour they are walking into danger, terrible danger, risking their lives, the enemy unseen, the weapons speaking all around them, until the final syllable. How does a 19 year old boy summon up the courage to do what they do every hour?

Behind the people, the ruined buildings. A soldier said of Saigon: "This used to be a beautiful place." Hue was an ancient city. Now they are mostly gone, windowless walls or no walls at all. How many walls will be reduced before it is over? How many acres of jungle will be bulldozed or defoliated- How many dreadful wounds will be treated, or not treated? How many will die?

FIRST OF TWO QUIZES BARELY SCRATCHES SURFACE OF GIFT-GIVING QUESTIONS

Gift-giving is a year-round activity through a never-ending succession of birthdays, anniversaries, week-end visits, weddings. Do you know when gifts are required—to whom, what sort, when? Check your knowledge below. If you have eight or more correct, your gift-giving manners are fine; below that, make a note of the answers you miss.

The subject is so large that another quiz about gift-giving will appear in a few weeks.

1. Is it necessary to take a gift to the hostess at a dinner party? Yes.... No.....

2. Is it required that you take a gift to a hostess with whom you spend one or more nights? Yes.... No.....

3. Should one take a gift when one visits a patient in the hospital? Yes.... No.....

4. Is it correct to put "No gifts please" on an invitation to an anniversary or birthday party? Yes.... No.....

5. Does an invitation to a wedding reception require a gift if you cannot attend? Yes.... No.....

6. Should the recipient of gifts at a birthday party put them aside to be opened in private? Yes.... No.....

7. Is everyone invited to an engagement party required to bring a gift? Yes.... No.....

8. When a bride thanks the guests when she opens their shower presents, must she also write a thank you note? Yes... No.....

9. Are household employes expected to give their employers a Christmas present? Yes.... No.....

10. When a book is given as a gift, may the donor write a message or date on the flyleaf? Yes.... No.....

Here are the correct answers:

1. No. A bunch of flowers or a box of candy is always appreciated, but not required. Flowers may also be sent the next day with a note of thanks.

2. Yes. These gifts may also be sent a day or two after your visit.

3. Yes. A flower arrangement or plant is always in good taste.

4. Yes. Many people hesitate to send invitations for fear that it might seem to require a gift. "No gifts please" solves the problem.

5. Yes. The gift is sent to please the bride—not because you enjoyed the reception.

6. No. Since everyone brings a gift to a birthday party, they should be opened for all to see and enjoy.

7. No. Only immediate family and closest friends, and it is better if they present their gifts at another time.

8. No. She may, but it is not necessary.

9. No. But a long-time employe often gives the children gifts—especially for weddings and birthdays.

10. Yes. The inscription serves as a nice reminder of the occasion and the donor's affection.

Cloutier-Cochran Nuptials Announced

Miss Corine R. Cloutier, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Pastick, Lucas Avenue Extension, Box 212 H, Kingston, and the late Charles D. Cloutier, was married January 6, 1968, in St. Joseph's Church to E. LeRoy Cochran Jr., 23 Janet Street, Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. LeRoy Cochran, 76 DeHaven Drive, Yonkers, and Route 1, Granville.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore an empire style gown of creme colored satin fashioned with appliques of Alencon lace, and featuring a detachable chapel length train. A stylized headpiece was fastened to three-tier silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and gladioli, accented with white satin ribbon a ivy.

Miss Nina Lee Seymour, 16 Sylvester Street, Kingston, was maid of honor. She wore an empire style gown styled with a bodice of brandy velvet over a sheath skirt of pale pink Chiari crepe. A bow of matching velvet was attached to a finger tip tulle veil and served as her headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of ivy and pink and white pompons.

Attendants were Miss Darlene Genther, 15 DuBois Street, Kingston; Mrs. Dru Craig, Granville, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns, headpieces and flowers were fashioned similarly to that worn by the honor attendant.

Edward Hanna, Hastings-on-Hudson, was best man. Ushers were Fred Speedling, Poughkeepsie; Harold Craig, Granville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the wedding a reception was held in the Garden Lounge of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed as a secretary at the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County.

Her husband, an alumnus of Hastings-on-Hudson High School attended Buffalo State Teachers College. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is now employed as toy department manager at Caldors of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochran reside at Parkview Terrace, 9 A Millers Lane, Kingston.

RIP VAN WINKLE, a Herrick Marionette production, will be presented at Chambers School on Albany Avenue extension on February 23 at 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. The program is sponsored by the Parent-Faculty Group of the School. Ron and Janet Herrick will present the show. Tickets will be available at the door for both performances.

10. When a book is given as a gift, may the donor write a message or date on the flyleaf? Yes.... No.....

Here are the correct answers:

1. No. A bunch of flowers or a box of candy is always appreciated, but not required. Flowers may also be sent the next day with a note of thanks.

2. Yes. These gifts may also be sent a day or two after your visit.

3. Yes. A flower arrangement or plant is always in good taste.

4. Yes. Many people hesitate to send invitations for fear that it might seem to require a gift. "No gifts please" solves the problem.

5. Yes. The gift is sent to please the bride—not because you enjoyed the reception.

6. No. Since everyone brings a gift to a birthday party, they should be opened for all to see and enjoy.

7. No. Only immediate family and closest friends, and it is better if they present their gifts at another time.

8. No. She may, but it is not necessary.

9. No. But a long-time employe often gives the children gifts—especially for weddings and birthdays.

10. Yes. The inscription serves as a nice reminder of the occasion and the donor's affection.

Cloutier-Cochran Nuptials Announced

Miss Corine R. Cloutier, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Pastick, Lucas Avenue Extension, Box 212 H, Kingston, and the late Charles D. Cloutier, was married January 6, 1968, in St. Joseph's Church to E. LeRoy Cochran Jr., 23 Janet Street, Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. LeRoy Cochran, 76 DeHaven Drive, Yonkers, and Route 1, Granville.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore an empire style gown of creme colored satin fashioned with appliques of Alencon lace, and featuring a detachable chapel length train. A stylized headpiece was fastened to three-tier silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and gladioli, accented with white satin ribbon and ivy.

Miss Nina Lee Seymour, 16 Sylvester Street, Kingston, was maid of honor. She wore an empire style gown styled with a bodice of brandy velvet over a sheath skirt of pale pink Chiari crepe. A bow of matching velvet was attached to a finger tip tulle veil and served as her headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of ivy and pink and white pompons.

Attendants were Miss Darlene Genther, 15 DuBois Street, Kingston; Mrs. Dru Craig, Granville, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns, headpieces and flowers were fashioned similarly to that worn by the honor attendant.

Edward Hanna, Hastings-on-Hudson, was best man. Ushers were Fred Speedling, Poughkeepsie; Harold Craig, Granville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the wedding a reception was held in the Garden Lounge of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed as a secretary at the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County.

Her husband, an alumnus of Hastings-on-Hudson High School attended Buffalo State Teachers College. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is now employed as toy department manager at Caldors of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochran reside at Parkview Terrace, 9 A Millers Lane, Kingston.

RIP VAN WINKLE, a Herrick Marionette production, will be presented at Chambers School on Albany Avenue extension on February 23 at 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. The program is sponsored by the Parent-Faculty Group of the School. Ron and Janet Herrick will present the show. Tickets will be available at the door for both performances.

Final Schedule Set by Demo. Women

Mrs. Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the Democratic State Committee, today released the final schedule for the 17th Annual Political Conference of the State Committee's Women's Division, to be held at the Thruway Motor Inn, Albany, on February 25 and 26. Approximately 800 women from the 62 counties of New York State are expected to attend the Conference, theme of which is "The Mobilization of Opinions: A Search for New Direction in New York State."

Registration for the Conference will begin at 9 a.m. on Sunday, Feb. 25. At 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Gurevich will welcome the conferees, and will then turn over the program to the Conference Chairman, Miss Margaret (Midge) Costanza of Rochester, vice chairman of the Monroe County Democratic Committee.

United States Under Secretary of Commerce Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua will deliver the keynote address at 2 p.m. New York State Comptroller Arthur Levitt will then address the group.

The first panel of the Conference, "The People's Voice: New Lines of Communication," will follow. Panelists will be Bronx Borough President Herman Badillo; Assemblywoman Gail Hellenbrand of Brooklyn; Mrs. Dollie L. Robinson of Brooklyn, who is associated with the Building Service Employes Union, AFL-CIO; Miss Laurel Ann Roth of Rochester, president of the New York State College Young Democrats; and Mrs. D'Jaris H. Watson of New York City, a member of the President's Committee on Community Relations. Assemblywoman Dorothy H. Rose of Angola will moderate.

Buffet supper at 6 p.m. will be followed by the Conference's second panel, "Senatorial Spectrum—'68." Panelists will be Congressman Otis G. Pike of Riverhead, Suffolk County, and Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville, Ulster County, who have already announced their candidacies for Democratic Senatorial nomination, and Morris B. Abram, New York City attorney who is expected to make a public announcement of his plans on March 5 when the United Nations Human Rights Commission, of which he is a member, concludes its 1968 session. Miss Laura H. Davis of Greenvale, L. I., a research director of the Nassau Democratic Committee, will moderate. A reception will be held afterwards.

The conference's third panel, "The Aftermath of the New York State Constitutional Convention: A Hard Look at What's Ahead," will take place at 10 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 26. Panelists will be former New York State Senator John H. Doerr of Buffalo; William F. Haddad of New York City, co-chairman of PEARL (Public Education and Religious Liberty); Dr. Robert S. Herman of Slingerlands, former executive director of the New York State Constitutional Convention; and public affairs consultant Dr. Mary Anne Krupsak of Amsterdam.

Assemblywoman Shirley Chisholm of Brooklyn will moderate.

Luncheon will begin at noon. Erastus Corning, 2nd, Mayor of Albany, will extend the city's welcome to the conferees, and Democratic State Chairman John J. Burns and Mrs. Gurevich will deliver brief remarks. Guest speaker at the luncheon will be Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the Vice President of the United States.

The Mature Parent

REFLECTION ON A GIRL'S SIN AND REDEMPTION IN CHRIST

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I like your column. But that is a ruined girl you wrote about—the one whose father found her in a motel with a boy at 4 a.m. I am an old man who has seen a lot of life and her chance to become a decent woman is gone. If she doesn't know how to behave herself now, she never will. The church says that moral foundation must be built in the first six years of a child's life or . . .

ANSWER: It is my custom to defer to older experience than mine. But I am no fool so I'm quite aware of what you have really told me.

You've told me that no matter what merciful skills are used by a responsible psychiatrist in that child's behalf, she's a goner and that the treatment I recommended for her is a waste of money. You've told me that I must join you in this opinion because your church says that we are morally completed by the age of 6 with no learning to be gained from mistakes, no new light for our ignorance, no transformation by suffering.

Where do you suppose that Mary Magdalene was at the age of 14 at 4 a.m.? In some Judean dump with a boy. But she didn't end there. She ended as the FIRST person Jesus chose to reappear to after His resurrection.

Truly, I sometimes wonder why He ever bothered to try to teach mercy to this remorseless and uncharitable race. If you'd like to know why I don't apply the term "Christiam" to myself, it's not just because I'm not good enough to claim it. It is also because I've had my fill of people who do claim it and go right on practicing the same old heathen hate of the human brother, not to mention his wounded and too-lonely children.

With all deference to your age and your church, I'd like to know how either you or it can know what God has in mind for that child to call her "ruined"?

Well, I'll tell you what you can call me from here on. 'Ishmael" is what you can call me, just like Herman Melville's sailor. Ishmael, the outsider, the outcast, the nonbelonger, is is not only what I am but have chosen to be until I see a little of that Christian mercy taught by the Man you all profess to worship. Just a little—not much. Then I'll come back.

Coleman Parents Meet

The Parent's Association of John A. Coleman High School will meet tonight in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Teachers will be available to talk to parents at 7 p. m.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Joseph G. Bruck, school phychologist of the Kingston City School System, who will discuss the meaning of Intelligence Quotient (IQ) use and importance in education.

Bruck graduated from Marist College with a BA in Mathematics. In January of 1964 he received M.S. ED with a major in school psychology from St. John's University, Jamaica, Queens.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Unstable Blood Pressure Possible in Some Cases

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—If a person's blood pressure was 170/108 and the prescribed medicine brought it down to normal in one week would that be lowering it too fast?

A—This would depend on several factors. In general, a more gradual lowering over three or four weeks would be preferable.

Q—Is it possible to have a high and low blood pressure at the same time?

A—It is possible to have a very unstable blood pressure so that, when the doctor first takes it, the upper reading is 190 or more and when he takes it again a few minutes later it is only 120. It would be rare, however, to find an abnormally low reading—a systolic reading of less than 100—in such a person.

It is also possible to have a high systolic (upper) and a low diastolic (lower) reading with a leaky aortic valve.

Q—Could high blood pressure cause a film over the eyes, or blindness?

A—A film of mucus over the eyes is usually caused by a chronic inflammation of the conjunctiva, not by high blood pressure. Hypertension can, however, cause blindness.

Q—Could gelatin desserts cause high blood pressure?

Q—What is the danger when the blood pressure stays around 190/105?

A—The complications include damage to the kidneys and retina and rupture of arteries that have hardened (coronary disease if they are in the heart and stroke if they are in the brain).

Q—I have high blood pressure and am taking Salutensin. What are its side effects?

A—This combination is an effective blood pressure reducer but it should be used cautiously by persons with kidney desease.

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—If a person's blood pressure was 170/108 and the prescribed medicine brought it down to normal in one week would that be lowering it too fast?

A—This would depend on several factors. In general, a more gradual lowering over three or four weeks would be preferable.

Q—Is it possible to have a high and low blood pressure at the same time?

A—It is possible to have a very unstable blood pressure so that, when the doctor first takes it, the upper reading is 190 or more and when he takes it again a few minutes later it is only 120. It would be rare, however, to find an abnormally low reading—a systolic reading of less than 100—in such a person.

It is also possible to have a high systolic (upper) and a low diastolic (lower) reading with a leaky aortic valve.

Q—Could high blood pressure cause a film over the eyes, or blindness?

A—A film of mucus over the eyes is usually caused by a chronic inflammation of the conjunctiva, not by high blood pressure. Hypertension can, however, cause blindness.

Q—Could gelatin desserts cause high blood pressure?

A—No, not even if you ate a double portion every day.

Q—What is the danger when the blood pressure stays around 190/105?

A—The complications include damage to the kidneys and retina and rupture of arteries that have hardened (coronary disease if they are in the heart and stroke if they are in the brain).

Q—I have high blood pressure and am taking Salutensin. What are its side effects?

Deviled Seafood Dish Is Easy to Make

Seafood Ala King Arthur.

Seafood Ala King Arthur is an exotic combination of two of the most popular seafoods, shrimp and crabmeat, blended with Saltine Crackers. The recipe was the main course at a recent press party hosted by Keebler Company in Boston. It can also be used as an appetizer.

Saltine cracker cookery is being suggested by Keebler as part of the introduction of their new twist 'n crisp Poly-Bag packaging for their Zesta Saltine Crackers.

To make Seafood Ala King Arthur you will need:

1 inner pack Keebler Zesta Saltine Crackers
⅔ cup milk
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespons chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
1½ cups (6½ oz. can) flaked crabmeat
1 cup (4½ oz. can) shrimp
½ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash cayenne
Dash of salt
Finely rolled saltine cracker crumbs

Crumble saltines coarsely and add to milk. Cook celery, green pepper and onion in butter or margarine until tender. Combine with saltine and milk. Add remaining ingrdients except finely rolled saltines. Mix lightly; place in four individual seafood shells; sprinkle with saltine crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees, 30 minutes until lightly browned. Recipe serves four.

Hamburger Will Please Your Man

You may like your hamburgers with mustard and catchup, with chili sauce and onions or tomato and lettuce, but scores of hamburger buffs prefer their hamburgers cooked with a barbecue sauce. The barbecue sauce may be a bottled one or as simple a one as bottled chili sauce mixed with corn syrup. Or the barbecue sauce may be a specialty of the house made with a variety of herbs, catchup, mustard and the like.

Barbecued Hamburgers

1 tablespoon corn oil
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 cup catchup
¼ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons mustard with horseradish
1 teaspoon vinegar
¼ teaspoon crushed rosemary
¼ teaspoon crushed thyme
¼ teaspoon crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon crushed savory
4 uncooked hamburger patties (1 pound ground beef)

Heat corn oil in heavy saucepan. Add onion; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender but not brown. Stir in catchup, corn syrup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard with horseradish, vinegar and dry seasonings. Simmer, uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes. Cool. Place hamburger patties in a shallow pan. Pour sauce over patties, moistening completely, including the bottom. Cover; let marinate in refrigerator 2 to 3 hours. Remove patties. Broil to desired degree of doneness, turning once. Meanwhile bring marinade to a boil and serve.

Stork Shower Held

A surprise stork shower was given on Saturday, Feb. 10, for Mrs. Robert Wiltbank of Asbury, Town of Saugerties, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Wilhelm. Hostesses were Mrs. Joan Querin and Mrs. Ethel Wilhelm.

Guests attending were the Mmes. Dora Schmitt, Valerie Guarino, Mary Ellen Kowalski, Jackie Bessman, Judy Allen, Marie Piltz, Hilda Hipp, Carol Burger, Marion Hommell, Helena, Miller, Gertrude Strebich, Katherine Weils, Dorothy Ahl, Mary Lou Lewis, Barbara Smith, Gaye Smith, Olga Groenhof, Jenni Peetoom, Ellie Trumpbour, Bonnie Stempiniak, Inez Mattera, Marion Doyle; and the Misses Wendy Wilhelm and Margaret Querin.

Add Egg to Potatoes

Add an egg to that batch of leftover mashed potatoes; turn into a shallow baking dish. Dot with butter and heat and brown in a hot oven. For really puffy potatoes, separate the egg; add the yolk, then the well-beaten white.

Dear Heloise:

I am 11 years old and when I started giving myself shampoos, I found the easiest way was to do it while I was taking my shower.

But if I tried to dry my hair before I dried the rest of me, I got cold. If I left my hair until last, it kept flooping in my face and dripping cold water all over me.

I solved this problem with an idea I think every girl could use. After I finish my shampoo, I cover my hair with a plastic shower cap. Then I finish my shower, dry off, dress and then take the cap off and settle down to dry my hair.

Dear Heloise:

To avoid skimming off spoonful after spoonful of rich broth when the soup recipe reads "cool and skim off excess fat," try this:

Lay a dry paper towel on top of the soup for a mere second and then remove the paper towel with the floating fat sticking to it.

It works!

HEARTY SWISS CHEESE FONDUE

For Tableside Cooks, Try Cheese Fondue

Hearty Cheese Fondue is often served as the main dish at informal suppers after participating in winter sports such as skiing or skating. A casual setting is most appropriate and so the fondue dish and accompanying foods may be placed on a low coffee table in the den or family room.

Traditionally, the cheese fondue dish is of heavy earthenware so that the melted cheese will not scorch. Long-handled sharp-tined forks are used to spear the chunks of crusty French bread. Often the forks have different colored handles so that each person can identify his own fork that is being used to dip into the cheese. Swiss cheese becomes stringy as it melts. This adds to the fun because one must twirl the fork to wrap the cheese around the bread so it won't drip as it is popped into the mouth. A crisp green salad and fresh fruit for dessert go well with the Swiss Cheese Fondue.

SWISS CHEESE FONDUE

1½ teaspoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 clove garlic
¾ cup dry white wine
French bread, pulled into bite-size pieces

Toss shredded cheese with cornstarch and seasonings. Rub inside of heavy earthenware dish, blazer pan of chafing dish, or top of double boiler with cut clove of garlic. Pour in wine and heat to boiling. This evaporates alcoholic content of wine. Gradually add the cheese, stirring constantly over moderate heat. When cheese is well blended and bubbling hot, lower heat and invite guests to spear pieces of French bread on long-handled forks, using stirring motion to dip into hot cheese mixture. Continue to stir-dip until the cheese is gone. If the cheese begins to thicken and brown on bottom of dish, turn down heat.

Food Tips

Covered Apple Square

Line a square pan with pastry and fill with apples prepared as for apple pie. Cover with a top crust and bake. Frost with confectioners' sugar. Call this dessert Covered Apple Square.

* * *

Don't Soak Nuts

When you are blanching almonds, don't let the nuts soak in the boiling water. A short stay of several minutes should make it easy for you to slip off the brown skins.

* * *

To Drain Fried Foods

You'll need several thicknesses of paper toweling, instead of just one thickness, when you are using the toweling for draining food that has been deep-fat fried. If brown paper is on hand, it may be used instead.

* * *

When Trimming Meat

When a recipe directs you to trim the excess fat from around chops or other cuts of meat, be sure to leave a thin layer to act as a protective coating so that during cooking the meat itself will not dry unduly. Some fat is desirable because it helps to keep meat from sticking and it adds flavor.

Food Prices Up

The latest report of food prices is in. Between November and December, 1967, food prices rose by 0.5 per cent. From a year earlier, food prices have gone up by 1.1 per cent, somewhat less than the average increase over the past decade. Prices for nonfood items used in family living also rose from November to December, 1967 and by about the same amount as for food, says Louise M. Kakargo, Extension Home Economist. The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor reports the index of all goods and services used in family living was a record high of 120.8 per cent of the average of 1957-1959 prices.

The country's farmers continue to turn out record rice crops, and this was true for 1967. Consumption of rice per capita in the United States has increased some in the past few years, but much of the production gains is being exported. A number of countries in the Far East where the people are traditional rice eaters, are having difficulties in producing enough rice for their growing populations. Hence, export demands for American rice has been going up in recent years. Both commerical and food aid program exports are up, commercial sales registering the largest increases.

At the Markets

Foods expected to be plentiful during February offer shoppers an opportunity to serve low cost, nourishing meals. The U.S. Department of Agriculture lists the following items for the Northeast:

BROILERS: February marketings are expected to be close to those of a year ago. Shoppers can look forward to favorable prices that may fall slightly below last year's. Generally heavy supplies of poultry and red meats are helping to bring broiler prices down. Many markets have been featuring broilers at low sale prices of 29 cents a pound, making them a particularly economical meat choice.

POTATOES: During Febuary, supplies will be available from storage, where stocks from the fall crop are record large, as well as from the winter crop in Florida and California. With supplies heavy, potato prices are expected to continue below last year. During January, leading retailers generally sold potatoes for 39 cents for a 5-pound bag, but featured them on sale for as low as 29 cents, according to the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

DAIRY PRODUCTS: Supplies of nonfat dry milk, butter, and American cheese will be particularly good during February. Cold storage stocks of American cheese as of January 1, 1968 were 6 per cent over last year and 3 per cent above average. When buying butter, shoppers should know that whipped butter costs more than prints. A recent store check showed that a pound of butter in one-quarter-pound prints cost 80 cents compared with 94 cents for a pound of the whipped.

DRY SPLIT PEAS: Production of dry split peas for 1967 is estimated to be somewhat larger than the year earlier. During February supplies are expected to be plentiful. Shoppers might take advantage of this time of plenty and use dry split peas in hearty winter dishes, as split pea soup with frankfuters. Dry split peas offer high food value at low cost.

Corn: Holdings of frozen corn are five per cent higher than a year earlier. Top quality Grade A corn is in short supply, but there is a lot of Grade B corn available. Color may be off in Grade B corn, but otherwise the quality is good and prices should be lower than for the top quality.

HEARTY SWISS CHEESE FONDUE

Look Here! M rs. Homemaker

Food Prices Up

The latest report of food prices is in. Between November and December, 1967, food prices rose by 0.5 per cent. From a year earlier, food prices have gone up by 1.1 per cent, somewhat less than the average increase over the past decade. Prices for nonfood items used in family living also rose from November to December, 1967 and by about the same amount as for food, says Louise M. Kakargo, Extension Home Economist. The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor reports the index of all goods and services used in family living was a record high of 120.8 per cent of the average of 1957-1959 prices.

The country's farmers continue to turn out record rice crops, and this was true for 1967. Consumption of rice per capita in the United States has increased some in the past few years, but much of the production gains is being exported. A number of countries in the Far East where the people are traditional rice eaters, are having difficulties in producing enough rice for their growing populations. Hence, export demands for American rice has been going up in recent years. Both commerical and food aid program exports are up, commercial sales registering the largest increases.

At the Markets

Foods expected to be plentiful during February offer shoppers an opportunity to serve low cost, nourishing meals. The U.S. Department of Agriculture lists the following items for the Northeast:

BROILERS: February marketings are expected to be close to those of a year ago. Shoppers can look forward to favorable prices that may fall slightly below last year's. Generally heavy supplies of poultry and red meats are helping to bring broiler prices down. Many markets have been featuring broilers at low sale prices of 29 cents a pound, making them a particularly economical meat choice.

POTATOES: During Febuary, supplies will be available from storage, where stocks from the fall crop are record large, as well as from the winter crop in Florida and California. With supplies heavy, potato prices are expected to continue below last year. During January, leading retailers generally sold potatoes for 39 cents for a 5-pound bag, but featured them on sale for as low as 29 cents, according to the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

DAIRY PRODUCTS: Supplies of nonfat dry milk, butter, and American cheese will be particularly good during February. Cold storage stocks of American cheese as of January 1, 1968 were 6 per cent over last year and 3 per cent above average. When buying butter, shoppers should know that whipped butter costs more than prints. A recent store check showed that a pound of butter in one-quarter-pound prints cost 80 cents compared with 94 cents for a pound of the whipped.

DRY SPLIT PEAS: Production of dry split peas for 1967 is estimated to be somewhat larger than the year earlier. During February supplies are expected to be plentiful. Shoppers might take advantage of this time of plenty and use dry split peas in hearty winter dishes, as split pea soup with frankfuters. Dry split peas offer high food value at low cost.

Corn: Holdings of frozen corn are five per cent higher than a year earlier. Top quality Grade A corn is in short supply, but there is a lot of Grade B corn available. Color may be off in Grade B corn, but otherwise the quality is good and prices should be lower than for the top quality.

For Tableside Cooks, Try Cheese Fondue

Hearty Cheese Fondue is often served as the main dish at informal suppers after participating in winter sports such as skiing or skating. A casual setting is most appropriate and so the fondue dish and accompanying foods may be placed on a low coffee table in the den or family room.

Traditionally, the cheese fondue dish is of heavy earthenware so that the melted cheese will not scorch. Long-handled sharp-tined forks are used to spear the chunks of crusty French bread. Often the forks have different colored handles so that each person can identify his own fork that is being used to dip into the cheese. Swiss cheese becomes stringy as it melts. This adds to the fun because one must twirl the fork to wrap the cheese around the bread so it won't drip as it is popped into the mouth. A crisp green salad and fresh fruit for dessert go well with the Swiss Cheese Fondue.

SWISS CHEESE FONDUE

- 1 pound Swift's Brookfield Swiss Cheese, shredded (about 4 cupsful)
- 1½ teaspoons cornstarch
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 clove garlic
- ¾ cup dry white wine
- French bread, pulled into bite-size pieces

Toss shredded cheese with cornstarch and seasonings. Rub inside of heavy earthenware dish, blazer pan of chafing dish, or top of double boiler with cut clove of garlic. Pour in wine and heat to boiling. This evaporates alcoholic content of wine. Gradually add the cheese, stirring constantly over moderate heat. When cheese is well blended and bubbling hot, lower heat and invite guests to spear pieces of French bread on long-handled forks, using stirring motion to dip into hot cheese mixture. Continue to stir-dip until the cheese is gone. If the cheese begins to thicken and brown on bottom of dish, turn down heat.

Food Tips

Covered Apple Square

Line a square pan with pastry and fill with apples prepared as for apple pie. Cover with a top crust and bake. Frost with confectioners' sugar. Call this dessert Covered Apple Square.

* * *

Don't Soak Nuts

When you are blanching almonds, don't let the nuts soak in the boiling water. A short stay of several minutes should make it easy for you to slip off the brown skins.

* * *

To Drain Fried Foods

You'll need several thicknesses of paper toweling, instead of just one thickness, when you are using the toweling for draining food that has been deep-fat fried. If brown paper is on hand, it may be used instead.

* * *

When Trimming Meat

When a recipe directs you to trim the excess fat from around chops or other cuts of meat, be sure to leave a thin layer to act as a protective coating so that during cooking the meat itself will not dry unduly. Some fat is desirable because it helps to keep meat from sticking and it adds flavor.

C.W. Post Gains 75-68 Victory Over New Paltz State

ONE IN ONE — John Flyzik (40) of New Paltz State looks for room to maneuver as big (41) Ed Johnson of C. W. Post starts to move in on him at New Paltz last night. (Staff photo by Kruh).

NEW PALTZ — New Paltz State's basketball Hawks found it a little difficult getting started in the first half Tuesday night against C. W. Post College. The Hawks dropped way back, rallied late in the game, but time ran out with them on the short end of a 75-68 score.

With State cold as a dead mackeral, Post's Mel Cheek chucked away, tallying 13 points on layups and short jumpers to give Post an overwhelming 41-22 edge by the halftime break.

Pete Kane, the Hawks leading scorer since Ty Sands unforseen departure, assumed the role of playmaker - defensive specialist.

Concentrating on everything else before scoring, Kane picked up 12 assists, five steals and six blocked shots. On the other side, Joe Licata of Post kept Kane away from the ball, allowing him only one first-half point.

Coach Doug Sheppard must have done something right in the locker room during halftime.

The first half Hawks that were so flat, came out for the start of the second-half with a renewed spirit.

Instead of letting Post roll over them, the Hawks played Post on even terms over the first fou· minutes. The score with 16:00 left, stood Post 59, New Paltz 30.

The determined Hawks finally started to move. At the same time, Post began to cool off.

Berry Top Scorer

Berry, who went scoreless in the first half, hit eight field goals for 16 total and Kane struck for eight points. Ed Shuster contributed seven and Larry McGoldrick five as the Hawks continued to bite into the lead.

Don MacDonald was the lone shining light for Post. He saved Post from the determined Hawk bid, knifing through State's defense for 17 second-half points. His last-half production upped his total to 23, giving him game honors.

Berry carried the hot hand for State. He took only 11 shots from the floor, but drew no fouls. Of the eight field goals he made, six came at very important spots. State's momentum would begin to wane, Berry continually reignited the charge, clicking with a ducat when State needed it most.

The late rally was just a little too short.

The combination of MacDonald and the clock ended the contest just as State was pulling within reach.

Berry's efforts, although not paying off in a win, gave him team high scoring honors. Shuster was the runner-up with 14 on five buckets and four points from the charity strip.

McGoldrick Helps

Right behind Shuster was Larry McGoldrick with 13 points off six court-side buckets. McGoldrick has been a big help to the Hawks since becoming a starter.

The final Hawk to register double figures was John Flyzik. He chalked up 11 off one free throw and five baskets from the floor.

Cheek wound up with 22, one behind MacDonald. A third Pioneer, Larry Goldman, banged in 14, all on two-point baskets.

The Hawks, 6-11, travel to Albany tonight to meet Albany State, captained by former Kingston High School star Larry Marcus.

Besides Marcus, Albany has hot-shot Rich Margison, a Little All-America candidate. Margison continues to average right around the 25-point-per-game clip. He should prove quite a chore for the player Sheepard picks to guard him.

Farley Overcomes SHS in Overtime

The Sawyers went into Tuesday night's DCSL clash against visiting Cardinal Farley with a 1-11 mark. Farley, who had sole possession of the cellar before the contest, brought the Sawyers in as company, dropping Saugerties 75-72 in overtime.

The Cadets jumped out front behind Jim McCarthy and Leo Halleran, the two big men. The pair collaborated for 24 points (Halleran eight and McCarthy 16) as Farley canned 65% of its shots, 20-31 and outrebounded Saugerties, 30-8. The halftime score read Farley 49, Saugerties 30.

Smith, somewhat bewildered by the slow start, went into the locker room, pointed out the mistakes his players were making and ordered two defensive alterations.

The new defensive ripples, a shift from a full-court press to half-court and switch from a three-two zone to a two-three made a tremendous difference.

Zone Effective

The zone bottled up Halleran and McCarthy to holding them to the tune of eight combined (Halleran five, McCarthy three).

The Sawyers, with Roger Praetorius popping seven, cut the lead by 12 after three periods. Farley was outdone by Saugerties 18-6 but still held the lead, 55-48.

Saugerties led, 68-67 with 29 seconds left, but Farley's Nick Henderson hit the front end of a one-and-one to deadlock it again at 68-all.

His second shot was off the rim with Farley controlling the rebound. A shot with six seconds left was off and Saugerties took the rebound, calling time out immediately.

A set play never got off the ground as regulation time ran out, forcing the teams to stage a three-minute extra session.

Fouls Wreck Sawyers

McManus dropped in a foul shot to make it 70-69. Just seconds later, Halloran hit two fouls to put Farley on top, 71-70, with 1:05 left.

Praetorius plunked a bucket to give the Sawyers the lead again, but then McManus went to work, calmly and cooly sending home four foul shots (a pair of 1-and-1's) to kill whatever Sawyer hopes existed.

Smith's cagers must win tonight against Lourdes to pull themselves out of the cellar. Both Saugerties and Farley have 1-12 marks. Lourdes is tied for fourth at 7-6.

Smith, thinking about Lourdes rather than the disappointing loss said, "If we play as well against Lourdes as we did in Tuesday's second half, we'll be all right.

Ellenville Closes With 91-78 Victory

Ellenville's Nate Shorter broke one season mark and playmaker-guard Jan Karow tied another Tuesday night as Ellenville closed out its season with a resounding 91-78 non-league triumph over New Paltz.

Shorter's 33 points led the homestanding Ellies to their 12th win in 18 starts. In the process, he managed to set a new scoring average record, charting 25.3 points per game, two-tenths of a point over the old mark.

Karow, the fiery 5-10 backcourt player, came up with 14 assists against the Huguenots, giving him a season total of 130—matching the mark of Paul Tennenbaum of last year's squad.

Shorter tossed in 10 points in the first period to guide the Blue Devils to a slim 21-18 lead. His partner up-front, Bob Blossom, pumped in 12 in the second quarter as Ellenville built up a 47-33 lead over New Paltz.

Another big contribution by Shorter was his dominance of the backboards. The 6-foot-3 center pulled down 20 rebounds over the shorter Huguenots.

Ellenville will lose all five starters. (Howie Lipson and Tom Murray in addition to Shorter, Karow and Blossom) plus sixth man 6-foot-5 Steve Wagner. All will graduate. Another mid-season loss was the departure of Manfred Owe, who returned to his native Germany with his family.

Ellenville coach Skip Liebenow will face a tough rebuilding job, but plans call for him to bring up Al (Peanuts) Mandeville from the jayvees. Mandeville has been the top scorer and Tuesday night racked up 22 in leading Ellenville to an 86-50 win.

The score:

High School Routs Liberty, 104 to 61

By MIKE HELFNER
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Kingston High School's basketball team, in coach Jack Gilligan's own words, "Looked like a pack of caged animals that had been let loose after being without meat for a year."

That description fit the way the Maroon treated visiting Liberty Tuesday night. It was KHS' final home appearance of 1967-68, and the players gave the fans something to remember them by, a 104-61 victory.

Gilligan carries 13 players on the varsity. Of that total, 12 managed to get into the scorebook. The lone non-scorer was Werner Kolln named as Tuesday's fifth starter against the big Redskins. Kolln took two shots, missing both, but hauled down seven rebounds.

Liberty, with a pair of 6-foot-5 men underneath, should have controlled the backboards, but Kingston had a whopping 72-44 margin. The Maroon cashed in on 36 of 75 shots from the floor for a 47 per cent average. The aggressive KHS defense, which drew special praise from the coach, let Liberty make 21 field goals while missing 33 for a poor 37 per cent.

Hit 80 Per Cent

KHS has won several games from the foul line, but didn't need the 32-40 (80%) to win this one. Liberty hit 19 of 40 for 47.5 per cent.

The only time the score was tied was in opening five minutes at 5-all. KHS moved out in front, 10-7, then started rolling.

Both teams still were a little sluggish. KHS snapped out of it with 2:19 left. At that point, the Maroon held a 13-9 edge, but a 12-point tear over the next 2:11 brought the score to 25-9 as the clock showed 0:28 left in the opening period.

A. J. Murphy started the spurt rolling with a pair of fouls. Ken Gilligan followed with a jump shot. Murphy came right back with two more from the charity stripe and Bruce Gilligan's layup-rebound as the trailer on his brother's missed-layup made it 21-9.

Ken added four more by converting both ends of a one-and-one and sinking a jumper. The 'Skins Jim Dinnerstein then put in a foul to snap the string.

The Maroons had piled up the 25-10 lead on the scoring of four starters. Bruce was high with eight, Murphy followed with seven, Ken had six and Ray Lindhorst, the center, chipped in four.

KHS was not to be denied its 16th win and wrapped things up quickly, canning the first pair of buckets on a jumper by Ed Byman and a layup by Lindhorst. Liberty was out of it — already trailing by 19. An agonizing 23 more minutes remained for the Jack Jones-coached Redskins.

Using a 16-5 splurge, the Maroon led led 41-15 with just a shade under four minutes left in the half. Coach Gilligan then used his substitutes, but that didn't help the Redskin cause. Liberty, convincingly outplayed, went into the intermission trailing by 24, 51-27.

The third period was a repeat. KHS opened with the starting lineup, but the substitutes again came in to help humble the outmanned Redskins, 24-15.

Bruce Gilligan, who played only six minutes of that period, netted four field goals and a like number of fouls to lead the way with 12. KHS' margin at the end of three was an embarrassing 33. Scoreboard clock showed KHS on top 75-42.

Clamor for 100 Points

The Kingston fans began whooping it up for 100 points. The Maroon cagers responded to the crowd's urgings and fired in 29 points as nine boys scored.

The 99th and 100th points came near the end. It took a 20-foot jump shot from the right side by Greg Rios, a seldom used sub, to stop the crowd's chant. His shot came with 0:49 left, satisfying the equally hungry KHS fans.

Kingston, already crowned DUSO League champs, upped their league record to a perfect 9-0. The overall record now stands at 16-1. Liberty marked the 12th victim in a row since a Christmas Tournament loss to White Plains.

The four KHS starters each hit double figures and three of the benchmen chalked up six apiece.

Ken Gilligan also had a perfect night shooting fouls with 4-4 to go with his eight buckets from the floor. He took 14 shots.

Andy Murphy, normally a superlative shooter, and the Maroon's second leading scorer, could only connect on three of 14 shots, but went 12-15 from the foul line.

He was good on his first seven attempts.

The fourth starter, Lindhorst, canned four shots from the floor in nine tries and made four of five free throws. His big forte was rebounding, where he took down 17 caroms almost singlehandedly dominating the backboards.

Force Many Turnovers

On defense, the tight man-to-man forced a stream of Liberty turnovers, causing coach Gilligan to say, "I thought this was the most aggressive defense they played all year. It's been a long season, and we're still getting ready for the Section Nine playoffs that start in two weeks."

KHS has a week off before meeting Port Jervis on the road this coming Tuesday. It will be the season finale for both clubs. "We sure can use the week's rest," the coach said.

Port, which will not be in the tourney, registered its first DUSO win Tuesday upsetting Monticello, 70-63. Leading the Red Raiders was Joe Wilson (24) and Tom McCooey with 20.

Monticello closed the gap as Willie Bradley had 12 in the fourth period, but PJ's Vince Hauber got eight in the final three minutes and Wilson chucked in 10 over the eight-minute period to offset Bradley's bid.

The other league game saw second-place Newburgh dump Middletown, 82-65 behind Marty Kemp's 25 and Gay Powell's 22. They both garnered 10 in the first and eight in the second as NFA piled up an insurmountable 48-34 halftime bulge.

Newburgh closed out its season with a 7-3 league mark and finished 13-5 overall. Monticello also closed out, winding up third in the DUSO at 5-5. The Monties compiling an 11-5 chart against all competition. The loss to Port was the lone Monticello setback in DUSO Village play. Their mark, 7-1, was good for first.

Liberty ended up second in the Village at 5-3. Port's win vaulted it past Ellenville into third. PJ's final chart read 4-4 while Ellenville was 3-5. Last place Fallsburgh managed only one win in eight outings to finish last.

In addition to the KHS-PJ meeting, Tuesday's final action pits Middletown against Liberty. Those two teams own 3-6 DUSO marks and will be battling for fourth. PJ is now 1-8, a far cry from the Maroon's lofty balance sheet.

UCAL Rejects Four Bids for Franchises

There were several high school coaches sitting on the edge of their seats yesterday, wondering in which league they would be playing in next fall, as the UCAL met to decide on application for admission to the league from four seperate schools.

The wait is over, and nothing has been settled. The four schools that applied to the UCAL were Ellenville, Saugerties, Coleman and Liberty. All were turned down.

Ellenville and Liberty are members of the DUSO League, Saugerties competes in the DCSL and Coleman, who will reach varsity status this coming fall, plays an independent schedule.

Liberty, however, has competed in the UCAL in football only, playing in the DUSO in all other sports. It submitted its application Tuesday morning.

The UCAL, through its executive secretary, Jim McIntrye of Pine Bush issued the following statement: "The UCAL, in its Tuesday meeting voted that: it is not advantageous to the league at this time to add new members to our present arrangement. Many hours of study and discussion by the Executive Committee and representatives of all schools have preceded this decision. We appreciate the interest shown by the four schools and will be willing to consider future applications."

McIntyre indicated the extensive studies as to projected enrollment, geographic location and other factors were presented at the meeting.

McIntyre also announced that the playoff championship basketball game between Rondout Valley and Onteora would be held Tuesday.

The teams tied for the lead at the end of the regular schedule with 10-2 records. No site had been chosen as of press time, but reportedly Highland, Marlboro and New Paltz's gyms are under consideration. Announcement of the site is imminent.

McIntyre said tickets would be $1 for adults, $.50 for students. Each league school is allotted 300 tickets. They went on sale at the various schools today. If any tickets remain before the 7:30 p. m. tipoff, they will be sold at the door on a first-come, first-sold basis.

KHS Stats

Ray Lindhorst dominated the Kingston statistics, hauling down 17 rebounds while canning 12 points. A. J. (Andy) Murphy shot a phenomenal 12-15 for 80%, exactly the same as the team total on 32 of 40.

Other stats had Ken Gilligan 8/14 fg, 4/4 ft, 4 r, 1 a; Bruce Gilligan 11/16 fg, 5/5 ft, 8 r, 2 a; Murphy 3/14 fg, 9 r, 3 a; Lindhorst 4/9 fg, 4/5 ft, 1 a; Ed Byman 1/3 fg, 3 r, 2 a; Werner Kolln 0/2 fg, 7 r, 1 a; Gene Bruno 3/6 fg, 0/1 ft, 8 r, 1 a; Ted Wood 0/1 fg, 2/2 ft, 3 r, 2 a; Chet Baltz 3/3 fg, 0/1 ft, 1 r; Willis Locke 1/2 fg, 1 r; Greg Rios 2/2 fg, 2/3 ft, 3 r; Charlie Janes 0/3 fg, 1/2 ft, 3 r; Jerry Corrado 2/2 ft.

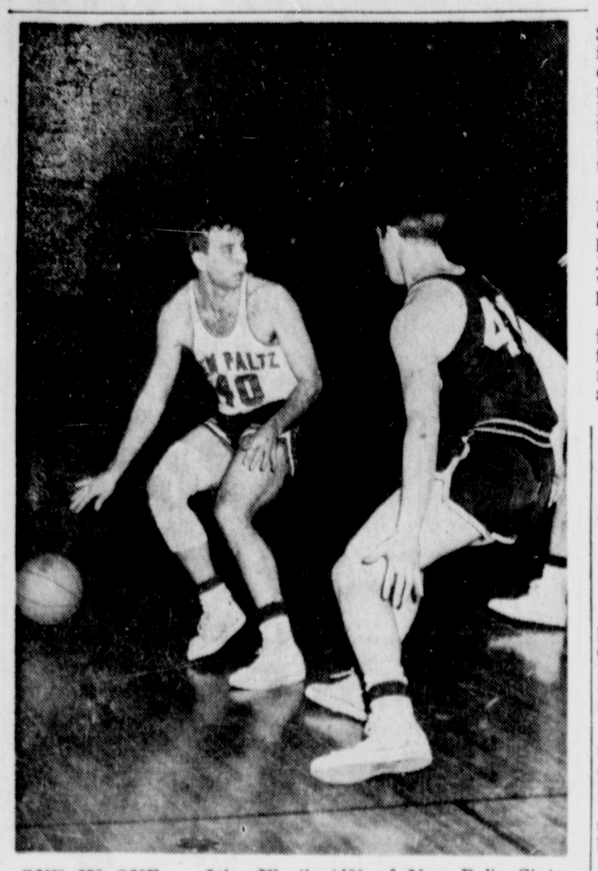
C.W. Post Gains 75-68 Victory Over New Paltz State



ONE IN ONE — John Flyzik (40) of New Paltz State looks for room to maneuver as big (41) Ed Johnson of C. W. Post starts to move in on him at New Paltz last night. (Staff photo by Kruh).

NEW PALTZ — New Paltz State's basketball Hawks found it a little difficult getting started in the first half Tuesday night against C. W. Post College. The Hawks dropped way back, rallied late in the game, but time ran out with them on the short end of a 75-68 score.

With State cold as a dead mackeral, Post's Mel Cheek chucked away, tallying 13 points on layups and short jumpers to give Post an overwhelming 41-22 edge by the halftime break.

Pete Kane, the Hawks leading scorer since Ty Sands unforseen departure, assumed the role of playmaker - defensive specialist.

Concentrating on everything else before scoring, Kane picked up 12 assists, five steals and six blocked shots. On the other side, Joe Licata of Post kept Kane away from the ball, allowing him only one first-half point.

The first-half Hawks that were so flat, came out for the start of the second-half with a renewed spirit.

Instead of letting Post roll over them, the Hawks played Post on even terms over the first four minutes. The score with 16:00 left, stood Post 50, New Paltz 30.

The determined Hawks finally started to move. At the same time, Post began to cool off.

Berry Top Scorer

Berry, who went scoreless in the first half, hit eight field goals for 16 total and Kane struck for eight points. Ed Shuster contributed seven and Larry McGoldrick five as the Hawks continued to bite into the lead.

Don MacDonald was the lone shining light for Post. He saved Post from the determined Hawk bid, knifing through State's defense for 17 second-half points. His last-half production upped his total to 23, giving him game honors.

Berry carried the hot hand for State. He took only 11 shots from the floor, but drew no fouls. Of the eight field goals he made, six came at very important spots. State's momentum would begin to wane, Berry continually reignited the charge, clicking with a ducat when State needed it most.

The late rally was just a little too short.

The combination of MacDonald and the clock ended the contest just as State was pulling within reach.

Berry's efforts, although not paying off in a win, gave him team high scoring honors. Shuster was the runner-up with 14 on five buckets and four points from the charity strip.

McGoldrick Helps

Right behind Shuster was Larry McGoldrick with 13 points off six court-side buckets. McGoldrick has been a big help to the Hawks since becoming a starter.

The final Hawk to register double figures was John Flyzik. He chalked up 11 off one free throw and five baskets from the floor.

The Hawks, 6-11, travel to Albany tonight to meet Albany State, captained by former Kingston High School star Larry Marcus.

Besides Marcus, Albany has hot-shot Rich Margison, a Little All-America candidate. Margison continues to average right around the 25-point-per-game clip. He should prove quite a chore for the player Sheepard picks to guard him.

High School Routs Liberty, 104 to 61

(Freeman Sports Staff)

Kingston High School's basketball team, in coach Jack Gilligan's own words, "Looked like a pack of caged animals that had been let loose after being without meat for a year."

That description fit the way the Maroon treated visiting Liberty Tuesday night. It was KHS' final home appearance of 1967-68, and the players gave the fans something to remember them by, a 104-61 victory.

Gilligan carries 13 players on the varsity. Of that total, 12 managed to get into the scorebook. The lone non-scorer was Werner Kolln named as Tuesday's fifth starter against the big Redskins. Kolln took two shots, missing both, but hauled down seven rebounds.

Liberty, with a pair of 6-foot-5 men underneath, should have controlled the backboards, but Kingston had a whopping 72-44 margin. The Maroon cashed in on 36 of 75 shots from the floor for a 47 per cent average. The aggressive KHS defense, which drew special praise from the coach, let Liberty make 21 field goals while missing 33 for a poor 37 per cent.

Hit 80 Per Cent

KHS has won several games from the foul line, but didn't need the 32-40 (80%) to win this one. Liberty hit 19 of 40 for 47.5 per cent.

The only time the score was tied was in opening five minutes at 5-all. KHS moved out in front, 10-7, then started rolling.

Both teams still were a little sluggish. KHS snapped out of it with 2:19 left. At that point, the Maroon held a 13-9 edge, but a 12-point tear over the next 2:11 brought the score to 25-9 as the clock showed 0:28 left in the opening period.

A. J. Murphy started the spurt rolling with a pair of fouls. Ken Gilligan followed with a jump shot. Murphy came right back with two more from the charity stripe and Bruce Gilligan's layup-rebound as the trailer on his brother's missed-layup made it 21-9.

Ken added four more by converting both ends of a one-and-one and sinking a jumper. The 'Skins Jim Dinnerstein then put in a foul to snap the string.

The Maroons had piled up the 25-10 lead on the scoring of four starters. Bruce was high with eight, Murphy followed with seven, Ken had six and Ray Lindhorst, the center, chipped in four.

KHS was not to be denied its 16th win and wrapped things up quickly, canning the first pair of buckets on a jumper by Ed Byman and a layup by Lindhorst. Liberty was out of it — already trailing by 19. An agonizing 23 more minutes remained for the Jack Jones-coached Redskins.

Using a 16-5 splurge, the Maroon led led 41-15 with just a shade under four minutes left in the half. Coach Gilligan then used his substitutes, but that didn't help the Redskin cause. Liberty, convincingly outplayed, went into the intermission trailing by 24, 51-27.

The third period was a repeat. KHS opened with the starting lineup, but the substitutes again came in to help humble the outmanned Redskins, 24-15.

Bruce Gilligan, who played only six minutes of that period, netted four field goals and a like number of fouls to lead the way with 12. KHS' margin at the end of three was an embarrassing 33. Scoreboard clock showed KHS on top 75-42.

Clamor for 100 Points

The Kingston fans began whooping it up for 100 points. The Maroon cagers responded to the crowd's urgings and fired in 29 points as nine boys scored.

The 99th and 100th points came near the end. It took a 20-foot jump shot from the right side by Greg Rios, a seldom used sub, to stop the crowd's chant. His shot came with 0:49 left, satisfying the equally hungry KHS fans.

Kingston, already crowned DUSO League champs, upped their league record to a perfect 9-0. The overall record now stands at 16-1. Liberty marked the 12th victim in a row since a Christmas Tournament loss to White Plains.

The four KHS starters each hit double figures and three of the benchmen chalked up six apiece.

Ken Gilligan also had a perfect night shooting fouls with 4-4 to go with his eight buckets from the floor. He took 14 shots.

Andy Murphy, normally a superlative shooter, and the Maroon's second leading scorer, could only connect on three of 14 shots, but went 12-15 from the foul line.

He was good on his first seven attempts.

The fourth starter, Lindhorst, canned four shots from the floor in nine tries and made four of five free throws. His big forte was rebounding, where he took down 17 caroms almost singlehandedly dominating the backboards.

Force Many Turnovers

On defense, the tight man-to-man forced a stream of Liberty turnovers, causing coach Gilligan to say, "I thought this was the most aggressive defense they played all year. It's been a long season, and we're still getting ready for the Section Nine playoffs that start in two weeks."

KHS has a week off before meeting Port Jervis on the road this coming Tuesday. It will be the season finale for both clubs. "We sure can use the week's rest," the coach said.

Port, which will not be in the tourney, registered its first DUSO win Tuesday upsetting Monticello, 70-63. Leading the Red Raiders was Joe Wilson (24) and Tom McCooey with 20.

Monticello closed the gap as Willie Bradley had 12 in the fourth period, but PJ's Vince Hauber got eight in the final three minutes and Wilson chucked in 10 over the eight-minute period to offset Bradley's bid.

The other league game saw second-place Newburgh dump Middletown, 82-65 behind Marty Kemp's 25 and Gay Powell's 22. They both garnered 10 in the first and eight in the second as NFA piled up an insurmountable 48-34 halftime bulge.

Newburgh closed out its season with a 7-3 league mark and finished 13-5 overall. Monticello also closed out, winding up third in the DUSO at 5-5. The Monties compiling an 11-5 chart against all competition. The loss to Port was the lone Monticello setback in DUSO Village play. Their mark, 7-1, was good for first.

Liberty ended up second in the Village at 5-3. Port's win vaulted it past Ellenville into third. PJ's final chart read 4-4 while Ellenville was 3-5. Last place Fallsburgh managed only one win in eight outings to finish last.

In addition to the KHS-PJ meeting, Tuesday's final action pits Middletown against Liberty. Those two teams own 3-6 DUSO marks and will be battling for fourth. PJ is now 1-8, a far cry from the Maroon's lofty balance sheet.

Farley Overcomes SHS in Overtime

The Sawyers went into Tuesday night's DCSL clash against visiting Cardinal Farley with a 1-11 mark. Farley, who had sole possession of the cellar before the contest, brought the Sawyers in as company, dropping Saugerties 75-72 in overtime.

The Cadets jumped out front behind Jim McCarthy and Leo Halleran, the two big men. The pair collaborated for 24 points (Halleran eight and McCarthy 16) as Farley canned 65% of its shots, 20-31 and outrebounded Saugerties, 30-8. The haiftime score read Farley 49, Saugerties 30.

Smith, somewhat bewildered by the slow start, went into the locker room, pointed out the mistakes his players were making and ordered two defensive alterations.

The new defensive ripples, a shift from a full-court press to half-court and switch from a three-two zone to a two-three made a tremendous difference.

Zone Effective

The zone bottled up Halleran and McCarthy to holding them to the tune of eight combined (Halleran five, McCarthy three).

The Sawyers, with Roger Praetorius popping seven, cut the lead by 12 after three periods. Farley was outdone by Saugerties 18-6 but still held the lead, 55-48.

Saugerties led, 68-67 with 29 seconds left, but Farley's Nick Henderson hit the front end of a one-and-one to deadlock it again at 68-all.

His second shot was off the rim with Farley controlling the rebound. A shot with six seconds left was off and Saugerties took the rebound, calling time out immediately.

A set play never got off the ground as regulation time ran out, forcing the teams to stage a three-minute extra session.

Fouls Wreck Sawyers

Praetorius plunked a bucket to give the Sawyers the lead again, but then McManus went to work, calmly and cooly sending home four foul shots (a pair of 1-and-1's) to kill whatever Sawyer hopes existed.

Smith's cagers must win tonight against Lourdes to pull themselves out of the cellar. Both Saugerties and Farley have 1-12 marks. Lourdes is tied for fourth at 7-6.

Smith, thinking about Lourdes rather than the disappointing loss said, "If we play as well against Lourdes as we did in Tuesday's second half, we'll be all right.

The score:

Ellenville Closes With 91-78 Victory

Ellenville's Nate Shorter broke one season mark and playmaker-guard Jan Karow tied another Tuesday night as Ellenville closed out its season with a resounding 91-78 non-league triumph over New Paltz.

Shorter's 33 points led the homestanding Ellies to their 12th win in 18 starts. In the process, he managed to set a new scoring average record, charting 25.3 points per game, two-tenths of a point over the old mark.

Karow, the fiery 5-10 backcourt player, came up with 14 assists against the Huguenots, giving him a season total of 130—matching the mark of Paul Tennenbaum of last year's squad.

Shorter tossed in 10 points in the first period to guide the Blue Devils to a slim 21-18 lead. His partner up-front, Bob Blossom, pumped in 12 in the second quarter as Ellenville built up a 47-33 lead over New Paltz.

Another big contribution by Shorter was his dominance of the backboards. The 6-foot-3 center pulled down 20 rebounds over the shorter Huguenots.

Ellenville will lose all five starters. (Howie Lipson and Tom Murray in addition to Shorter, Karow and Blossom) plus sixth man 6-foot-5 Steve Wagner. All will graduate. Another mid-season loss was the departure of Manfred Owe, who returned to his native Germany with his family.

Ellenville coach Skip Liebenow will face a tough rebuilding job, but plans call for him to bring up Al (Peanuts) Mandeville from the jayvees. Mandeville has been the top scorer and Tuesday night racked up 22 in leading Ellenville to an 86-50 win.

More deer were taken in New York State during 1967 big game season than ever before, according to Conservation Commissioners R. Stewart Kilborne.

The season total of 74,481 whitetails taken by gunners and archers topped their previous record of 73,693, set only last year. Included in the harvest figures were an additional 175 deer taken during the special post-season hunt on the Seneca Army Depot in central New York.

* * * * * * * * *

BEAR HUNTERS IN New York took 475 black bear during 1967, well below the all-time high of 648 bagged in 1965. Adirondack hunters harvested 376 bears and Catskill hunters downed 73, close to the average number for the past 10 years. Central and Western New York hunters managed only eight bruins, an all-time low.

A regional breakdown of the deer harvest indicates that central and western New York hunters took 30,226 deer, Catskill hunters bagged 27,578 and their Adirondack counterparts, 20,671.

Seven Catskill counties and four in the Adirondacks are included in the record take. A detailed report—a county-by-county summary will be ready shortly.

Aside to local die-hards: Where were you when all these deer came by your favorite stand?

The welcome visitors were stocked in Cattaragus Creek, a tributary of Lake Erie. Although the experimental stocking was a modest 6,000 fish, it marked an inmportant step toward providing outstanding fishing in one of the largest waters available to state anglers.

Professional conservationists, sports and commercial fishermen will follow the progress of these fish with considerable interest.

The Coho salmon, according to fish biologists, are a school fish that grow and mature at a rapid rate. The 18-months-old Cohos were between 5 and 6 inches in length. They are expected to reach five or six pounds by the fall of 1969, with eventual maturity pegged at between 25 and 30 pounds.

We hope to be around to see some stocked nearby and listen to the usual fish stories that emanate when a five-pounder goes to 15 overnight at the local tackle shop.

SHORT SHOTS: New Paltz Rod and Gunners have set Sunday, March 23, as the date for their annual land owners feast. A nice gesture for all clubs to follow. . . A pleasant chat recently with Frank Chaffe, one of the finest trapshooters. He recalled the days one buck a round shooting and $75 trap guns and the days of the old county Federation trap field on Route 28. Chaffe was a member of the crack New Paltz squad, one of the best in the area.

Pleased to see Paul LaCross and his pretty daughter on a recent Merv Griffin TVer. LaCross is well known locally as a top marksman and archer. Last season on a local visit he showed Joe Duncan and Joe Jr. the art of hitting bees with a .22.

Handy fishing date cards are available free at Spada's Sport Shop. A handy guide for evvery fisherman.

We would like to hear what kind of a resolution Legislator Sam Perry has in mind in regard to the removal of bounties on fox and bobcat in Ulster county. If the general public was made aware of the wanton kill of the fox, it would seem wiser to increase the bounty rather than remove it.

OLD RIP SEZ: Now that the hunting season is about over, how about a general cleaning of your shotgun and rifle? And be sure it's empty when you store it. Empty guns cannot hurt children.

Assuming that all goes well the eagerly anticipated rematch between Houston and UCLA will take place that night in the semifinals of the NCAA championship tournament at Los Angeles along with another duel between the Big E, Elvin Hayes of Houston, and Mr. A., Lew Alcindor of UCLA.

The date was set up Tuesday when Houston's unbeaten Cougars, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, accepted a bid to the NCAA tourney along with eight others, St. Bonaventure, 19-0; St. John's of New York, 16-6; Florida State, 17-5; Marquette, 19-3; Chicago Loyola, 13-6; New Mexico State, 18-4; Boston College 13-7; and either Columbia, 17-3; or Princeton, 17-4, whichever wins the Ivy League crown.

Houston, 23-0, ousted UCLA from the No. 1 ranking by snapping the Bruins' 47-game winning streak 71-69 in January before basketball's record crowd of 52,693 at Houston's Astrodome. Hayes scored 39 points and performed better than Alcindor. UCLA, now second-ranked, hasn't lost since and has a 20-1 mark.

Three independents, Army 18-4, Oklahoma City 17-6 and Fordham 14-6, were named to the other major post-season tourney, the National Invitation in New York, which opens March 14. Army passed up a bid to the NCAA in favor of the NIT.

The remainder of the 14-team NIT team likely will come from the runners-up in the Missouri Valley Conference, Atlantic Coast Conference, Southern Conference and Western Athletic Conference. Duquesne, a leading independent, also is hopeful of an NIT invite, having passed up the NCAA.

Duke's Blue Devils, eighth-ranked nationally and the only team in The AP Top Ten to play Tuesday, trimmed Clemson 82-70 on the road for their seventh straight and a 17-3 record. Mike Lewis' 32 points paced Duke which will compete in the NCAA if it wins the ACC crown or in the NIT if it finishes runnerup in the ACC.

St. John's, the one certain tournament bound team in action, also won on the road, but just barely. The Redman edged Massachusetts 55-53 at Amherst, Mass., on Jim Smyth's 30-foot shot in the last second.

Kansas tightened its hold on first place in the Big Eight by defeating Missouri on the road 74-65. In still another road triumph, Tennessee downed Georgia Tech 71-69 in two overtimes. Tom Boerwinkle's two free throws after time had run out in the second overtime won for the Vols.

Rick Mount, Purdue's soph star, scored 38 points and led to the Boilermakers to an 86-73 victory over Iowa that tightened the Big Ten race. Ohio State, also playing at home, beat Northwestern 87-67 and regained first place at 7-3 compared to 6-3 for Iowa and Purdue.

Southern Methodist threw the Southwest Conference race into a triple tie by defeating Baylor on the road 70-63. Baylor now is tied for first at 7-4 with Texas A&M and Texas. Texas A&M gained the tie by defeating Arkansas 71-67 at home. Texas, also playing at home, moved up by downing Texas Tech 79-69.

Rondout Ganders Claw Tri Valley, 66-46

Rondout Valley, preparing in earnest for its upcoming playoff battle with Onteora (set for Tuesday) for the UCAL title, rolled to an easy 66-46 non-league victory over Tri-Valley Tuesday night.

The Ganders made the Bears their 11th victim in a row. Rondout's final record stands at 15-3 and 10-2 in the league.

Rondout showed no signs of fatigue, having beaten UCAL cellar-dweller Highland just the night before. That was a do-or-die game. The win deadlocked the Ganders with Onteora for the UCAL title, forcing a playoff Tuesday. Tipoff time is 7:30. The site was not decided on by press time.

The Western Sullivan League Bears proved a relatively easy opponent, falling behind 16-19 at the end of the opening stanza. They succumbed to a Rondout 25-10 onslaught in the third period that locked things up.

Gordy Taylor, the Ganders' and the UCAL's top scorer, struck for nine in that third, winding up with 19 for the contest. Al Miller came off the bench and garnered six of his game total 10 in that period.

The score:

Jayvees Rally To Top Liberty

Kingston High's Jayvee squad had to come from six-down at half to take a smashing 50-37 win over Liberty's Jayvees Tuesday night.

Kingston tripled Liberty's output in the third period, 12-4, as the little Maroon moved in front, 32-30. The final period saw KHS jump all over Liberty, 18-7. Primo was the only double figure scorer with 12 while Anderson finished with nine as did Jerry Barber. Bob Markes and Bill Brady each tossed in six.

Coleman Wins 66-48 Over Red Hook Five

John A. Coleman School cagers led all the way to trounce Red Hook Jayvees, 66-48, for their 11th win of the season Tuesday at the Coleman gym.

Hank Harder provided the offensive shooting and finished with a game high of 19 points, 12 of which came in the second half. He also was outstanding on defense.

Craig Renn controlled both boards by pulling down 21 rebounds and Harder had another 10 to give the Statesmen a decisive board advantage.

With the exception of Harder, the Colemans shot poorly from the field, hitting only 27 for 97, a meagre 28 per cent. However, they had 12 for 15 from the free throw line.

Dixon led the Red Hook squad with 15 points. The visitors fell behind 12-8 at the quarter and trailed the rest of the way. Fitzgerald had 10 points for Coleman.

Rick Mount, Purdue's soph star, scored 38 points and led to the Boilermakers to an 86-73 victory over Iowa that tightened the Big Ten race. Ohio State, also playing at home, beat Northwestern 87-67 and regained first place at 7-3 compared to 6-3 for Iowa and Purdue.

Southern Methodist threw the Southwest Conference race into a triple tie by defeating Baylor on the road 70-63. Baylor now is tied for first at 7-4 with Texas A&M and Texas. Texas A&M gained the tie by defeating Arkansas 71-67 at home. Texas, also playing at home, moved up by downing Texas Tech 79-69.

Rondout Ganders Claw Tri Valley, 66-46

Rondout Valley, preparing in earnest for its upcoming playoff battle with Onteora (set for Tuesday) for the UCAL title, rolled to an easy 66-46 nonleague victory over Tri-Valley Tuesday night.

The Ganders made the Bears their 11th victim in a row. Rondout's final record stands at 15-3 and 10-2 in the league.

Rondout showed no signs of fatigue, having beaten UCAL cellar-dweller Highland just the night before. That was a do-or-die game. The win deadlocked the Ganders with Onteora for the UCAL title, forcing a playoff Tuesday. Tipoff time is 7:30. The site was not decided on by press time.

The Western Sullivan League Bears proved a relatively easy opponent, falling behind 16-19 at the end of the opening stanza. They succumbed to a Rondout 25-10 onslaught in the third period that locked things up.

Gordy Taylor, the Ganders' and the UCAL's top scorer, struck for nine in that third, winding up with 19 for the contest. Al Miller came off the bench and garnered six of his game total 10 in that period.

Rondout's jayvee also was triumphant, 44-37, as Jim Chick led the scoring with 11.

The score:

Jayvees Rally To Top Liberty

Kingston High's Jayvee squad had to come from six-down at half to take a smashing 50-37 win over Liberty's Jayvees Tuesday night.

Kingston tripled Liberty's output in the third period, 12-4, as the little Maroon moved in front, 32-30. The final period saw KHS jump all over Liberty, 18-7. Primo was the only double figure scorer with 12 while Anderson finished with nine as did Jerry Barber. Bob Markes and Bill Brady each tossed in six.

The score:

Coleman Wins 66-48 Over Red Hook Five

John A. Coleman School cagers led all the way to trounce Red Hook Jayvees, 66-48, for their 11th win of the season Tuesday at the Coleman gym.

Hank Harder provided the offensive shooting and finished with a game high of 19 points, 12 of which came in the second half. He also was outstanding on defense.

Craig Renn controlled both boards by pulling down 21 rebounds and Harder had another 10 to give the Statesmen a decisive board advantage.

With the exception of Harder, the Colemans shot poorly from the field, hitting only 27 for 97, a meagre 28 per cent. However, they had 12 for 15 from the free throw line.

Dixon led the Red Hook squad with 15 points. The visitors fell behind 12-8 at the quarter and trailed the rest of the way. Fitzgerald had 10 points for Coleman.

Colonial City Adds Women's Division

Colonial City Bowling Tournament, sponsored by Sangi's Bowlero of Kingston, has announced a woman's division for the first time in its four-year history.

The distaff competition runs simultaneously with the men's fourth annual, from April 20 through May 12. Both tournaments are operated with 100 per cent handicaps and are sanctioned by the ABC and WIBC, respectively.

A guaranteed first prize of $1,000 is the lure for the men's division. Second place in the handicap division is worth $500. The top net prizes are $300 and $150. Guaranteed prize money totals $2,500 with a prize ratio of at least one in nine.

Women's division guarantees first prize of $600 and $300 for second in the handicap play. Net prizes are $200 and $100. Total estimate prize money is $1,600.

Re-entries are permitted in both divisions. Tournamnt entries close on April 15, with the re-entry deadline set for May 12.

Multiple participation is permitted. Any team may bowl in the tournament as many times as it wishes without changing members, but can only cash one position award. By changing at least two members each time a team enters it may cash as many position prizes as the scores permit.

Nordic Skiers Cop Gold Medals

Sue Karlson of Rosendale won for the Nordics in the Junior girls division (12-15) and Birger Visgnes, gym teacher at Rockaway, N. J., skiing for Rosendale, captured the Veterans class and Susan Klaus of Rosendale won a gold medal in the Junior girls race in the 10-11 year division.

Linda Coogan of Binnewater won a third place bronze medal in the girls 12-15 race and Bob Swehla was third in the Junior boys race 10-13. Bob Thornton and John Mills of Stone Ridge, racing in Junior boys class I and II, ages 14-17, won seventh and eighth places, respectively.

The Royal Mountain course, at 1,800 feet elevation had ample snow and proved to be interesting as a technique course with rolling bumps not found on many cross country layouts in the east.

Laboure Cagers Second in Mets

St. Catherine Laboure CYO Mets defeated St. Augustine's, 62-47, to grab second place in the county league. The 11-3 record compiled by the winners was their best ever.

Cincinnati Duo Leads in Doubles

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ron Hibschman and Art Weber combined for a 1,283 series Tuesday to sweep into first place in the regular doubles division of the American Bowling Congress tourney.

The team of Hibschman and Weber, both from Nappanee, Ind., replaced George Powell and Ralph Hayward of Falls Church, Va., who fell to second with a 1,249 series they shot Sunday.

Weber also shot 688 on games of 236, 241, and 191 to grab second place in the regular all-events and sixth place in singles.

Weber totaled 536 in the team event Monday night, boosting his grand total for nine games to 1,843, and placing him second behind all-events leader Fred Potter of Hornell, N.Y., who posted an 1,882 total Monday.

Harper Tire of Warren, Mich., rolled a 2,903 total Tuesday night to take first-place in the regular team division. AAA Asphalt of Rochester, N.Y., the leaders since Sunday with 2,891, dropped to second place.

Quarter Show First in Area

Mrs. Beatrice Crosby was appointed superintendent of the Registered Quarter Horse show to be held June 2 at the Lowlands Ranch Club grounds and ring in Lake Katrine. Mrs. Crosby managed a riding stable for a time and have been involved with horses and showmanship for more than 15 years.

The show, first of its kind in the immediate area, is expected to attract exhibitors from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and all areas of New England.

The American Quarter Horse Association of Amarillo, Texas, and the New York State Quarter Horse Association have approved the show, while approval by the Empire State Quarter Horse Association is pending.

Accepted to membership at the February meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Frischer of Kingston. Mr. Frischer has ridden in several area rodeos and owns a few horses.

The Lowlands Ranch Club meets at their club house in Lake Katrine the first Sunday afternoon of each month. All horse and pony owners and interested parties are welcome.

Colonial City Adds Women's Division

Colonial City Bowling Tournament, sponsored by Sangi's Bowlero of Kingston, has announcd a woman's division for the first time in its four-year history.

The distaff competition runs simultaneously with the men's fourth annual, from April 20 through May 12. Both tournaments are operated with 100 per cent handicaps and are sanctioned by the ABC and WIBC, respectively.

A guaranteed first prize of $1,000 is the lure for the men's division. Second place in the handicap division is worth $500. The top net prizes are $300 and $150. Guaranteed prize money totals $2,500 with a prize ratio of at least one in nine.

Women's division guarantees first prize of $600 and $300 for second in the handicap play. Net prizes are $200 and $100. Total estimate prize money is $1,600.

Re-entries are permitted in both divisions. Tournamnt entries close on April 15, with the re-entry deadline set for May 12.

Multiple participation is permitted. Any team may bowl in the tournament as many times as it wishes without changing members, but can only cash one position award. By changing at least two members each time a team enters it may cash as many position prizes as the scores permit.

Nordic Skiers Cop Gold Medals

Sue Karlson of Rosendale won for the Nordics in the Junior girls division (12-15) and Birger Visgnes, gym teacher at Rockaway, N. J., skiing for Rosendale, captured the Veterans class and Susan Klaus of Rosendale won a gold medal in the Junior girls race in the 10-11 year division.

Linda Coogan of Binnewater won a third place bronze medal in the girls 12-15 race and Bob Swehla was third in the Junior boys race 10-13. Bob Thornton and John Mills of Stone Ridge, racing in Junior boys class I and II, ages 14-17, won seventh and eighth places, respectively.

The Royal Mountain course, at 1,800 feet elevation had ample snow and proved to be interesting as a technique course with rolling bumps not found on many cross country layouts in the east.

Laboure Cagers Second in Mets

St. Catherine Laboure CYO Mets defeated St. Augustine's, 62-47, to grab second place in the county league. The 11-3 record compiled by the winners was their best ever.

Lyons paced the winners with 23 points. Jon Meiers and J. Gorman hit 14 and 19, respectively. Meiers and John Hoban controlled the boards for Laboure. Andrews and Green hit 14 each for the losers.

Game Ball to Barnett As Knicks Top Frisco

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Barnett was given the game ball Tuesday night and then had to give it back when Bill Bradley said he wouldn't play without it.

Barnett obviously did not mind. He simply continued dropping the ball in the basket and after shooting the New York Knicks to a 115-112 overtime victory over San Francisco in a National Basketball Association doubleheader at the New Madison Square Garden, he reclaimed his basketball and went home.

Barnett's willingness to overlook such callous gift-giving came after the Chicago Bulls had staged a stirring rally for a regulation tie and then toppled Detroit 124-121 in another overtime thriller.

In other games, Philadelphia outscored Seattle 30-2 in a torrid fourth quarter en route to a 140-108 rout and Earl Monroe shot Baltimore to a 127-115 triumph over St. Louis in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Spectrum. Boston walloped Cincinnati 126-110 in an afternoon game in Boston.

In the American Basketball Association, Dallas outlasted Oakland 148-130, Minnesota tripped Denver 119-117 and Pittsburgh beat Anaheim 121-114.

New York salvaged a 104-all tie at the end of regulation time as Barnett scored the Knicks' last 10 points while Jim King and Jeff Mullins were wiping out a 92-82 deficit for the Warriors.

After Mullins' jump shot tied the game with eight seconds left, Barnett quickly got the Knicks ahead with the first basket of the overtime and suddenly the game stopped.

'I thought the officials were going to take the basket away and call a foul," said Knicks' Coach Red Holzman, an angry man at the time.

But the stoppage was to give the ball to Barnett, who had just scored the 10,000th and 10,001th points of his NBA career.

"I didn't know they were going to stop the game," Barnett said. "I thought someone was hurt."

Then, when play continued, Bradley, Barnett's teammate, complained that the new ball had too much air in it, prompting a grinning Holzman to plead with Barnett to let them use his ball again.

Barnett agreed, dropped in two more baskets in the overtime for a total of 32 points and the Knicks went home happy along with a record sellout crowd of 19,500, the largest gathering ever to see an NBA game.

On Right Track

Rhinebeck Crushes Anderson, 74 to 55

Rhinebeck High School coach Jay Kosseff has expressed a desire to leave varsity basketball in favor of jayvee (he now coaches both) despite the fact that his varsity will return eight of nine players.

Kosseff wants to leave a rebuilding squad that won three of 10 games (0-6 in DCSL's Hudson Valley Division) and will elevate five 6-foot or better performers from the jayvees.

Kosseff's wish is even more surprising after Tuesday night's wins by both squads. The varsity rolled over Anderson of Hyde Park, 74-55, while the jayvees devoured Anderson's jayvee by the fantastic score of 74-10.

The five jayvvee starters were brought up to the varsity last night and the preliminary game score was rung up by the jayvee substitutes, conjuring up visions of a powerhouse to come in a relatively short time.

The varsity outscored Anderson over the first three periods, taking a comfortable 64-45 lead into the fourth where both teams netted 10.

Of the 14 players making an appearance, only two failed to score. The lone player loss will be Rhinebeck's top scorer, Bill Connell, who will graduate. He canned 18 against Anderson in his final scholastic game.

Two other players hit double figures. Calvin Fowx and Rich Stickle, both sophomores tallied 10 apiece.

The score:

Marist Hosts Weight Tourney

Marist College in Poughkeepsie will host the 1968 New York State AAU Weightlifting championships on March 9. This marks the second straight year that Marist has provided the facilities for the climax to the state weightlifting season.

Last year, Gary Gubner broke all existing records for New York's heavyweight class and erased the national standing press record. He will return this year to attempt a new world record in the standing press.

Bowler, 12, Gets 300

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A claim for youngest 300 bowler was made here in mid-January when Dale Mesenbrink, 12, got 12 straight strikes on the Echo lanes.

The 5-foot-4 youngster had been averaging 136. However, since Christmas, when his dad gave him a new bowling ball, his average has climbed to 170.

Paltz Man Hurt, Issued Summons

Brian C. Peterson, 22, of 10 Church Street, New Paltz, was injured at 2:15 a. m. today and later cited for two vehicle and traffic violations after his car was involved in a mishap on Route 299 at the Thruway in New Paltz.

Trooper Robert Whalen said Peterson was driving west on Rt. 299 and to the left of the double line when he noticed oncoming traffic. He swerved across the highway, crashed through guard rails and went down an embankment.

Troopers G. P. Rebhan and P. A. Koenig investigated. Peterson was taken to Vasaar Hospital and treated for bruises of the left leg. He was summoned to appear Friday before New Paltz Peace Justice Rexford Schneider to face charges of driving while his license was revoked and failure to keep to the right, troopers reported.

Local Group Formed to Aid Mental Patients

Recovery, Inc., a nationwide organization which offers help to nervous and former mental patients, has established a local group that meets each Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Old Dutch Church, Fair Street entrance.

Established 31 years ago by the late Abraham A. Low, MD, the program today aids 10,000 men and women from all walks of life at approximately 650 group locations. The purpose of Recovery, Inc., is "to prevent relapses in former mental patients and chronicity in nervous patients." The method used is a self-help after-care system based on techniques described in Dr. Low's book, "Mental Health Through Will-Training," which is now available in the Kingston City Library.

Endorsed by members of the clergy and medical profession alike, Recovery, Inc., does not diagnose or treat patients. The organization expects members to follow the authority of his doctor at all times. Recovery provides self help psychotherapy for discharged patients who require help for awhile combating nervous symptoms such as insomnia, tenseness, fatigue, fears and vivid imagination.

Panel discussions by persons having similar nervous tendencies have in many cases succeeded in making newcomers to the meetings "feel at home."

Though organized chiefly to aid nervous and mental patients, a letter from a member of the medical profession stated, "It is my impression that many of the Recovery principles can be helpful to everybody."

The meetings, open to the public, are non-sectarian. There is never a charge for attending these meetings; there is simply a free-will offering. With the exception of some headquarters personnel, the organization is managed and controlled by former patients, all non-professionals who have had Recovery training.

No Timber Shortage

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota's forest lands are growing wood at a much greater rate than the annual rate of removal, reports the state's conservation department.

The department said surpluses of certain species such as aspen miscellaneous hardwoods, tamarack and balsam are building rapidly.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals covering Construction, Heating, Sanitary and Electric Work for Deputy Superintendent's Residence, Building No. 39, Catskill Reformatory, Napanoch, N. Y., in accordance with Specification No. 21190-C and accompanying drawings, will be received by the Office of General Services, Contracts Unit, Building Number 4, State Office Building Campus, Albany, N. Y. 12226, on behalf of the Department of Correction, until 10:30 A. M., on Wednesday, March 13, 1968, when they will be publicly opened and read.

Each proposal must be made upon the form and submitted in the envelope provided therefor and shall be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the Office of General Services, in the amount stipulated in the proposal as a guaranty that the bidder will enter into the contract if it be awarded to him. The specification number must be written on the front of the envelope. The blank spaces in the proposal must be filled in, and no change shall be made in the phraseology of the proposal. The State reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Successful bidder will be required to give a bond conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract and a separate bond for the payment of laborers and materialmen, each bond in the sum of 100% of the amount of the contract.

State Architect, Public Buildings Design and Construction, 270 Broadway, New York City
State Architect, Public Buildings Design and Construction, Records Center Building Number 21, State Office Building, Campus, Albany, N. Y.
District Supervisor of Bldg. Constr., State Office Building, 333 E. Washington St., Syracuse, N. Y.
District Supervisor of Bldg. Constr., Genesee Valley Regional Market, 900 Jefferson Road, Rochester, N. Y.
District Engineer, 125 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
Catskill Reformatory, Napanoch, N. Y.

Drawings and specifications may be obtained by calling at the Office of General Services, Contracts Unit, Records Center Build 21, State Office Building Campus, Albany, N. Y., or at the office of the State Architect, Public Buildings Design and Construction, 18th Floor, 270 Broadway, New York City, and by making deposit for each set of $10.00, or by mailing such deposit to the Albany address. Checks should be made payable to the Office of General Services. Proposal blanks and envelopes will be furnished without charge.

DATED: 2-5-68

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON AN APPLICATION FOR A LICENSE TO OPERATE A JUNK YARD

LEGAL NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Pursuant to an ordinance for regulating and licensing junk yards and pursuant to a resolution of the Town Board of the Town of Marbletown, adopted February 14, 1968, the said Town Board will hold a public hearing at the Marbletown Elementary School Cafeteria, in the Town of Marbletown, Ulster County, New York, on the 28th day of February, 1968, at 7:00 P. M. to hear all interested parties and citizens for or against the application of Clayton Barringer to operate a junk yard on the following described premises:

ALL THAT LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate on the Easterly side of the County Highway leading from Lyonsville to Krumville in the Town of Marbletown, Ulster County, New York, more particularly bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at an iron pipe set in the ground 490 feet South from the Northwest corner of the lands of Fred and George Wager where the Wager lands adjoin the lands of Sarah Lyons now owned by the heirs of Ethel Oakley; thence running in an easterly direction for a distance of 222 feet to an iron pipe set in the center of a stone wall; thence still in an easterly direction and along the center line of a stone wall for a distance of 266 feet to a pipe in the center of stone walls; thence in a southerly direction and along the center line of another stone wall for a distance of 378 feet to a pipe in the center of stone walls; thence in a westerly direction and along the center line of another stone wall for a distance of 347 feet to a pipe set in the center line of stone walls; thence in a southerly direction along the center of a stone wall for a distance of 40 feet to another iron pipe set in the center of a corner stone wall; thence in a westerly direction and along the center of said stone wall for a distance of 237 feet to the aforesaid County Highway; thence in a northerly direction along said County Highway for a distance of 370 feet to the point and place of beginning. Said property being bounded by stone walls except for the first course of 222 feet and the last course along the County Highway of 370 feet, and are bounded on the North by Flossie Wager; on the East by Harold Bradley; on the South by Flossie Wager and on the West by said County Highway.

BEING the same premises conveyed by Flossie Wager to Clayton L. Barringer and Alberta Barringer, his wife, by Deed dated November 14, 1961 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on November 14, 1961 in Liber 1114 of Deeds at page 995.

Local Group Formed to Aid Mental Patients

Recovery, Inc., a nationwide organization which offers help to nervous and former mental patients, has established a local group that meets each Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Old Dutch Church, Fair Street entrance.

Established 31 years ago by the late Abraham A. Low, MD, the program today aids 10,000 men and women from all walks of life at approximately 650 group locations. The purpose of Recovery, Inc., is "to prevent relapses in former mental patients and chronicity in nervous patients." The method used is a self-help after-care system based on techniques described in Dr. Low's book, "Mental Health Through Will-Training," which is now available in the Kingston City Library.

Endorsed by members of the clergy and medical profession alike, Recovery, Inc., does not diagnose or treat patients. The organization expects members to follow the authority of his doctor at all times. Recovery provides self help psychotherapy for discharged patients who require help for awhile combating nervous symptoms such as insomnia, tenseness, fatigue, fears and vivid imagination.

Panel discussions by persons having similar nervous tendencies have in many cases succeeded in making newcomers to the meetings "feel at home."

Though organized chiefly to aid nervous and mental patients, a letter from a member of the medical profession stated, "It is my impression that many of the Recovery principles can be helpful to everybody."

The meetings, open to the public, are non-sectarian. There is never a charge for attending these meetings; there is simply a free-will offering. With the exception of some headquarters personnel, the organization is managed and controlled by former patients, all non-professionals who have had Recovery training.

No Timber Shortage

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota's forest lands are growing wood at a much greater rate than the annual rate of removal, reports the state's conservation department.

The department said surpluses of certain species such as aspen miscellaneous hardwoods, tamarack and balsam are building rapidly.

Felt Proud With LBJ's Sendoff

Johnson touched both coasts over the weekend in wishing good luck to paratroopers and Marines. During talks at his stops he said he would send more troops to Vietnam if they are needed.

At Ft. Bragg, N.C., Army Sgt. Major Anthony Garcia said Monday, "These guys are professionals. Soldiers aren't usually impressed but these guys were because it was the President."

At El Toro Marine Corps Air Station in South California, where the President watched a planeload of 5th Marine Division men depart, Gunnery Sgt. Richard Dornhofer of Boston said, "I thought what a tall American this man from Texas is to come out here and take time to visit with his troopers and offer words of encouragement."

Recalled Gunnery Sgt. Parker Cason of Reno, Nev., "When I first saw him he looked extremely tired . . . I remember that part toward the end of his speech where he said something to the effect that 'our hearts go with you.' And I remember the part about the Marines over there needing us. I felt warmly towards him."

At Ft. Bragg Sgt. 1C. Lauris A. Jacks of Columbus, Ga., said of Johnson, "I'm sure he didn't like sending people off to a place where he knew some would be killed and wounded. I'm sure it made the men feel better that he showed his concern."

Some Marines disagreed with part of Johnson's speech in which he said, "This is a decisive time in Vietnam. The eyes of the nation and the world—the eyes of history itself—are on that brave band of defenders who hold the path to Khe Sanh."

"I think it's a decisive time in the history of our country," commented Marine 1st Lt. Richard Maddox of San Francisco. "I'm not sure Khe Sanh is the turning point."

Asked Monday if he thought the battle of Khe Sanh would be decisive, Dornhofer replied, "I don't think so . . . I think the summer will be decisive."

Said Marine Sgt. Alan Alonzo of Rockford, Ill.: "I've been on a couple of operations over there that we thought were decisive, but they weren't."

Handling of Release Awaits Airmen Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of how the United States handled North Vietnam's release of three captured American airmen apparently won't be clarified until the airmen hold a news conference.

The State Department let stand without denial the contention of two American pacifists who arranged the release that the pilots were ordered to fly back to this country from Laos on military aircraft. One pacifist said the White House was involved.

The pacifists, Prof. Howard Zinn of Boston University and the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit priest at Cornell University, said their agreement with Hanoi was that the men return home on a commercial plane. Violation of that agreement, they said, could endanger release of other captured Americans.

The switch to military transportation was made because "the United States was afraid of what the pilot might say if they were allowed to see the press," Zinn said.

The pilots have indicated they would hold a joint news conference, yet unscheduled, on their four- to five-month prison terms in North Vietnam. Their planes were downed last fall.

The pilots are Lt. Col. Norris M. Overly of Oscoda, Mich., and Capt. Jon D. Black of Laredo, Tex., both of the Air Force; and Navy Lt. (j.g.) David Matheny of Bakersfield, Calif.

Dear Abby

Gift Leads to Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(C) 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (45 years old) came home with a Valentine's gift from a 35-year-old single girl at work. It was a T-shirt of the best quality. With it she enclosed a little note telling him to get with it—that sleeveless undershirts were out, but that real sharp guys wore T-shirts instead.

The very next day my husband went out and bought himself a complete supply of T-shirts and asked me if I knew someone who could use his old sleeveless undershirts as he was discarding them.

Now he wears the kind of undershirts the girl at the office recommended. How do you like that!

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know what this girl sees in your husband, but she obviously sees thru him. Since an undergarment as a "Valentine" hardly qualifies as a practical joke, perhaps you should regard it as a warning flag.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and work in a large office. When I was younger I fell down and broke my nose, and have always wanted to have it operated on to make it prettier.

The doctor says I will have to be in the hospital for a week, and it will take about three weeks more before all the black and blue marks and swelling disappear completely. This means a whole month away from work.

My problem is that I don't want anyone at the office to know why I am going to be gone for a month, but I have insurance here at work that will take care of part of the expense, so I will have to let them know. How can I keep my secret!

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Since you're sensitive about it, tell them at work that you are going into the hospital for some "corrective surgery" . . . and don't wait around for further questioning. When you return, the improvement will be obvious, but don't be embarrassed. Cosmetic surgery is nothing to be ashamed of.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the mother whose adolescent son was "embarrassed" because he had to take a lamp treatment, naked, in the presence of a "young girl" made me see red.

The mother said her son was 17 and the girl couldn't have been much older. Well, she had to be at least 21 to be a nurse.

I am a registered nurse and I'll never forget the time I had to perform a personal service for an elderly gentleman because no orderly was available. The man shouted, "I don't want no WOMAN in here." I called my superior in and she said, "Simmer down, Dad, we are not WOMEN, we are nurses!"

And a few years ago I was in the room with the doctor and his male patient who had just come from the recovery room after surgery. His was wife was present, too. Then the doctor said to his wife, 'Would you please step out!" The wife replied, "If that woman can stay, so can I. I can do anything SHE can do!" Whereupon the doctor handed her a stethescope and chart and said, "Fine, we're short of help, so will you please check all vital signs every 15 minutes, blood pressure, heart, etc. and request the lab for blood work, check all output and intake, etc." She certainly changed her tune in a hurry.

Hand Hoggers Never Quit

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Today's hand has appeared in our column before. Oswald Jacoby was North and one of the greatest hand hogs of all time sat South.

This hand was played in the early days of contract when any suit response to one no-trump was a one round force. South also hated to have his partners jump so Jacoby contented himself with a two heart response although he knew that he wanted to be in game at least.

South's jump rebid to three no-trump showed at least 17 points. He played indefinite but strong no-trumps. Jacoby visualized a heart slam at this point but was afraid that a jump to the heart slam would merely lead to a six no-trump contract. So he made a second underbid of four hearts.

Sure enough, the hand hog came right back with four no-trump. He had 4-3-3-3 distribution and even though his four card suit was the one his partner had been bidding, South wanted to play the hand.

At this point Jacoby finally decided to bid his values and jumped to six hearts. South bid six no-trump!

South made a valiant effort to make his no-trump slam. He ducked the first club in order to set up a possible squeeze. He won the second club and ran hearts. East chucked a club as soon as possible to give West a count of that suit. Then East hung onto his diamonds while West just held whichever black cards South did.

Of course, six hearts would have been a cinch because one of South's hearts could have been used to ruff that fourth diamond. Jacoby was mad then. He is still mad 3 years later, but blames himself for trying to get the hog to let him play a hand.

optimist (OP-ti-mist)

a person who always looks on the bright side of things

Two young optimists, sitting in the public park, were discussing the various types of charitable organizations which have benefitted mankind.

optimist (OP-ti-mist)

a person who always looks on the bright side of things

The devoted boy scout leader, a man who believed that all children are guiltless, was nominated for the "Optimist of the Year" award.

Two young optimists, sitting in the public park, were discussing the various types of charitable organizations which have benefitted mankind.

Leap Year Day for Channing

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Barring unforeseen difficulties, the Carol Channing special will appear on the ABC network on leap year day, Feb. 29.

Miss Channing will believe it when she actually sees her own face beaming on the tube. Her show, "Carol Channing and 101 Men," has been to the starting gate before.

The special was in preparation last summer, and Miss Channing underwent six weeks of rehearsals with guest stars Walter Matthau, George Burns, Jimmy Dean and the Association. Also scheduled to appear for the Oct. 1 taping was the Air Force Academy Cadet Chorale. The Cadets flew down from Colorado Springs the day before.

Then it happened. The broadcasting union, NABET, went on strike against ABC. The taping remained on the schedule, since it was to be done in the color studios of NBC, which wasn't on strike. Miss Channing continues the story from there in her own breathless style:

"Oh, we had everything ready, all my makeup and wigs, and the Cadets had arrived, and four-star generals and everyone. So I went to NBC the day of the taping and to my utter surprise it was surrounded by pickets. Well! that wouldn't do at all.

"Then this lovely man who is the head of NBC here—what is his name? Oh, yes, Tom Sarnoff. A lovely man, and he's married to a girl who went to Bennington College, as I did. He came out of the building and asked me not to go on with the show. He said if I did, he feared there would be a strike against NBC, too.

"My goodness, it was a problem! I mean, we had all those Cadets here, and we had to feed them every two hours. Those boys just eat like crazy, and if they went without a meal for more than two hours, they became dispirited. Also, we had our guest stars to think of. If we had to postpone, Walter Matthau might be making a picture someplace far away.

"But heavens—we couldn't close down all of NBC for one little television show. I couldn't do that to such a nice man, especially since he was married to a Bennington girl."

The Cadets were sent back to the academy, and the show was cancelled. ABC managed to reschedule the taping for Oct. 15 after an agreement with NABET that the special would not be broadcast until after the strike was settled. Miss Channing managed to retain her entire cast except for Dean, who suggested Eddy Arnold as a substitute.

The special was scheduled to appear Nov. 16, and Carol appeared on the Joey Bishop Show to plug it. But the strike wasn't settled, and she went on with Joey again to announce that the show would air Nov. 30. But even though the strike ended Nov. 21, ABC didn't have enough time to promote the special, and it was postponed until Feb. 29.

Fred—Smith certainly is a foxy fellow. He's drawn up his will in such a way that the lawyers can't get more out of it than his own heirs.

Ted—How's that?

Fred—Why, he left half his fortune to one of the best lawyers in the country, provided he saw to it that the other half went to Smith's children intact.

Leap Year Day for Channing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Barring unforeseen difficulties, the Carol Channing special will appear on the ABC network on leap year day, Feb. 29.

He came out of the building and asked me not to go on with the show. He said if I did, he feared there would be a strike against NBC, too.

"My goodness, it was a problem! I mean, we had all those Cadets here, and we had to feed them every two hours. Those boys just eat like crazy, and if they went without a meal for more than two hours, they became dispirited. Also, we had our guest stars to think of. If we had to postpone, Walter Matthau might be making a picture someplace far away.

"But heavens—we couldn't close down all of NBC for one little television show. I couldn't do that to such a nice man, especially since he was married to a Bennington girl."

The Cadets were sent back to the academy, and the show was cancelled. ABC managed to reschedule the taping for Oct. 15 after an agreement with NABET that the special would not be broadcast until after the strike was settled. Miss Channing managed to retain her entire cast except for Dean, who suggested Eddy Arnold as a substitute.

The special was scheduled to appear Nov. 16, and Carol appeared on the Joey Bishop Show to plug it. But the strike wasn't settled, and she went on with Joey again to announce that the show would air Nov. 30. But even though the strike ended Nov. 21, ABC didn't have enough time to promote the special, and it was postponed until Feb. 29.

Press Vows Fight Over Reardon Report

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Bar Association has endorsed recommendations that judges, lawyers and policemen restrict the flow of information about criminal cases.

But news officials, turned down in their plea for a year's delay for study, predicted new battles in the courts and state legislatures.

Said one, J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, "The press will have no recourse but to fight back."

The recommendations, put forward by a press-trial advisory committee headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of Massachusetts' Supreme Judicial Court, were adopted by a voice vote Monday by the ABA's policy-setting House of Delegates.

Minutes before, the delegates turned down by a 176-68 vote an appeal by three top news executives that action be put off while studies are made of the effects on jurors of newspaper, radio and television accounts of crime.

"There is no good reason for delay," Reardon said during the two-hour debate. And J. Edward Lumbard of the U.S. Circuit Court in New York City said the news media would only return in a year with talk of new studies.

"What are the surveys going to show?" he asked. "Are they going to tell us that human nature has changed?"

Once the guidelines are incorporated into the ABA's ethics code, lawyers could run the risk of severe discipline—even disbarment—for making public during a trial opinions and information that were not part of the record.

Police departments, meanwhile, were advised to adopt regulations choking off from time of arrest information about prior criminal records, confessions or admissions of guilt and the result of such tests as finger printing and lie detection.

And judges were instructed not to make "any statements" that might interfere with a "fair trial."

Judges also were advised to use their contempt power against anyone, including reporters and editors, who "willfully" try to affect a verdict by disseminating statements about the defendant or the issues.

ABA President Earl F. Morris told reporters the new ethics code probably will be ready for adoption by the House of Delegates next February.

He said the bar association looks to police departments, state courts, local bar groups—and possibly state legislatures—to implement the new guidelines.

Optimistic Note

Morris, a Columbus, Ohio, lawyer, appeared optimistic, but Murray, managing editor of the Arizona Republic, said in a statement: "Fortunately, neither the ABA or the House of Delegates makes the law."

He declared: "Publishers and editors must be prepared to spend whatever is necessary in the way of reporters' time and litigation costs to guarantee that police chiefs do not manage the news to suit themselves, that prosecutors do not censor what the public has a right to now . . . and that judges don't try to suppress legitimate news. . ."

D. Tennant Bryan, one of the three news executives who urged delay, commented: "It seems to me that the House of Delegates attempted to amend the Constitution and I doubt they have the authority."

Fighting alongside the publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch and News Leader, were Theodore F. Koop, a CBS vice president, and Michael J. Ogden, executive editor of the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Bulletin.

Instructors Gain School After Bid

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Two university instructors are trying to figure out what to do with a 24-room school, complete with library and gymnasium, which they bought unintentionally for $5,651.

"We aren't going to turn those children out into the street," said Roy Stumpf, who along with Bob Goemans inadvertently purchased the estimated $750,000 two-story school.

"It's going to be a real challenge deciding what to do with the school," Stumpf said, with tongue in cheek.

Last summer, the two instructors at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, entered a sealed bid for Bellevue School, one of two abandoned one-room school buildings offered for sale by the Green Bay Board of Education.

"We put a bid in on it for speculation," Stumpf explained. "The land might be worth something some day.

"But there seemed to be something wrong with the deed, so I asked the city clerk. He assured me it was all right, so we dropped it there."

"The city attorney called me," Stumpf said. "How he found out about it, I don't know. He asked for a swap. I still didn't know what property we owned, so I asked him and he was honest enough to tell me."

"As I left the office," Stumpf added, "I told him he could inform the school board, they could continue using it. He didn't think that was very funny."

"I asked how the mistake was made. If they know, they're not telling," he said.

"I've never been inside," he said. "We drove by the building Saturday, and I pointed out to my children that that was our school. They were quite impressed because a lot of their friends attend school there. It's pretty close to where we live. We talked to the janitor and I assured him he had a job as long as he wanted it."

'Understanding Economics' Is New Chamber Course

"Understanding Economics," a new 10-session discussion course developed by the National Chamber of Commerce will be presented for the benefit of area businessmen and residents by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for the economics discussion course were announced at the State Legislative breakfast at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday by Peter O. Allen, executive vice president of the Chamber.

S. James Matthews, Chamber president, indicated that the course presents, an up-to-date timely discussion of our national economy and what makes it tick. Alexander J. McKittrick, executive vice president of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association and currently chairman of the Chamber's Business Development Committee will be the course discussion leader, Matthews said.

The course will begin on Thursday, Feb. 29 and run for 10 consecutive Thursdays.

"Understanding Economics" will consist of ten 1½-hour weekly breakfast meetings starting at 7:30 a. m. and adjourning promptly at 9 a. m. The registration fee covers a continental breakfast each week. Also incorporated in this cost are all materials to be used in the course, including a set of 10 booklets. Each deals with one important area of the enterprise economy. The set of 10 booklets becomes the property of the participant upon completion of the course. Booklet topics include: Why Economics?; Why Prices?; Productive Resources; Money and Finance; National Income; Business Ups and Downs; Government and the Economy; International Economics; Science Technology and the Economy; and The Power of Choice.

A highlight of each discussion session will be the Eco-Tape, a recorded interview with 10 national authorities. Each will discuss events in his own field as they relate to the particular subject of the session. In announcing McKittrick's acceptance of the responsibility for leading the course, Matthews noted his excellent background.

McKittrick is a graduate of Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., with a major in mathematics and a minor in economics. Married and the father of three children, he has been with First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston since July 1961. Since February 1966 he has been the executive officer of the bank.

Further information as well as registration forms for the course may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Any interested local resident is welcome to participate in the program.
